CALCUTTA, the 11th December 1916.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

The 4th December 1916.

IN 1908 orders were passed that thirty-five Muhammadan students should be admitted to each of the first and second-year classes of the Presidency College on a reduced fee of Rs. 2 a month. The Government of Bengal have recently had under consideration the effect of these orders. It appears that, notwithstanding this concession, the number of Muhammadan students in the first and second-year classes of the Presidency College still falls short of the standard of 25 per cent. which was adopted by Government in paragraph 23 of the Government of Bengal, General Department, Resolution No. 1227Edn., dated 3rd August 1916, as the minimum ratio which the number of Muhammadan students in a Government college should bear to the total number of students on the rolls of the college. It is also understood that the benefit of the scheme of reduced fees would be more widely distributed if the students admitted on reduced fees were required to pay a larger sum than Rs. 2 and the number of students admitted to the concession were correspondingly increased.

2. It has, therefore, been decided that reduced fees will in future be charged at the rate of Rs. 5 instead of Rs. 2, beginning with the first-year class in 1917 and with the second-year class in 1918. The number of students to be admitted on the reduced fees will at the same time be correspondingly increased, so that ultimately there will be 100 Muhammadan students in the college on reduced fees instead of 70 under the present conditions. When this standard is reached the reduced fees will be distributed as follows:—40 will be allotted to each of the first and second-year classes, and 20 will be allotted to the third and fourth-year classes in such proportion as the Principal may determine.

3. Students now in the college paying fees at the rate of Rs. 2 will not be required to pay at the increased rate, and no student will in future be granted admission on a reduced fee of Rs. 2.

REDUCTION OF RATES FOR THE SUPPLY OF ELECTRIC CURRENT IN CALCUTTA.

No. 1120M.P.I.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 12th December 1916.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Report submitted by the Committee appointed to advise Government on the question of the charges at present levied by the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, for electric current supplied in Calcutta.

IN a press communiqué, dated the 7th June 1916, the Government of Bengal announced the appointment of a Committee to enquire into the question of the charges at present levied by the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, for electric current supplied in Calcutta, and to advise Government on the matter. The report of the Committee is now before Government.

2. The Governor in Council desires to accord his appreciation of the careful and detailed manner in which the Committee have conducted their investigation. He has read with interest the comparative tables prepared by the Committee. At the same time he recognises, as do the members of the Committee, the difficulty of comparing municipal undertakings with company undertakings ; and the equal difficulty of comparing undertakings in one part of the world with undertakings in another. The main facts, as set forth by the Committee, are reproduced in the following paragraphs.

3. On the 7th January 1897, a license was granted to Messrs. Kilburn and Company as agents for a preliminary Company called the Indian Electric Supply Company, Limited, registered in London with a capital of £1,000. In February 1897, the name of the Company was changed to that of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited (its present name), with an increased capital of £1,00,000, which, on 11th May 1900, was increased to £2,00,000. On the 18th July 1902, a further increase to £5,00,000 was sanctioned, which again was increased to £10,00,000 on the 19th July 1907. The capital of the Company stands today at this figure, although powers were taken in 1914 for an increase to £15,000,000. The present subscribed capital is divided into 100,000 five per cent. preference shares of £5 each and 100,000 ordinary shares of £5 each.

In 1897 a contract was entered into with Messrs. Crompton and Company, Limited, and a plant of 1,000 kilowatts capacity was erected and necessary mains laid out at a cost of £65,000, which figure included the actual expenses of obtaining the license amounting to £3,000. The supply of current increased from 412,950 units in 1900 to 21,081,928 in 1915, necessitating a capital outlay of £1,380,827 to the 31st December 1915. Owing to the steady increase in the demand several sub-stations were erected to cope with the situation. In 1909-10 it was decided by the Company to erect a central station with the most up-to-date generating plant, and this was completed in 1909-11. As much of the old plant as was found suitable was used in the erection of the new station, but it has been found impossible to utilize a certain amount of the machinery, plant, etc., which cost originally £1,04,709. Against this sum the Company have applied £48,143 out of the amounts set aside for depreciation in the three years ending 31st December 1915, leaving £56,566 for which provision still requires to be made.

A sum of £2,29,413 now stands at credit of the Depreciation and Renewals account, and a Reserve fund of £126,703 appears in the Company's balance-sheet at 31st December 1915. This Reserve fund was started with a sum of £90,000 realized from premiums upon the issue of shares, the balance being taken from revenue.

During the period 1911-15, i.e., after the introduction of the new plant, the annual profits rose from £95,597 to £162,922. Those figures represent the profits before providing for interest, depreciation and reserve. The figure for 1915 is equivalent to 11·79 per cent. on the capital expenditure.

4. Turning to the question of rates the maximum statutory rates as now sanctioned by Government are 8 annas per unit for lighting and 4 annas for fans, while the rates nominally charged by the Company are 7 annas for lighting and 4 annas for fans. With rebates for prompt payment, the cash rates are, however, lower, namely, 5 annas for lighting and 3 annas for fans, with further reductions in the case of large consumers. The meter rent was reduced from Re. 1 to 8 annas in 1915.

5. The Committee, after considering the case in all its bearings, has recorded the following opinion :—

"We cannot but come to the conclusion that there is a sufficient margin to admit of a further reduction in the cash price per unit for lighting. There has been a reduction of one anna since the agitation for lower rates commenced in 1914. This reduction was, we think, unduly delayed, and it would have been more fitting if the additional profits had been utilized in working out the loss on the old plant rather than increasing the dividend of the share-holders."

With this expression of opinion the Governor in Council fully concurs. He is satisfied that the figures in connection with the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation are sufficient in themselves, without comparative considerations, to justify the conclusion that the time has come for a further and substantial reduction in rates. The Governor in Council has carefully considered the question as to whether he should now exercise his statutory powers with a view to secure this reduction. There is a strong primâ facie case for such action on his part. On the other hand, it cannot be denied that, owing to abnormal conditions arising from the war, there are special difficulties at the present moment in the fixation of rates by an outside authority. Moreover, the Governor in Council recognises that in the past the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation have on occasion shown themselves prepared to grant concessions. On the whole, therefore, he prefers to give them an opportunity of taking action on their own motion.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. H. GREEN.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Third Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1916-17.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under the cotton crops in Bengal represent some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India).

Character of the Season.—The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the State of Hill Tippera and to a small extent in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore and Mymensingh. The late crop is grown only in Bankura and Midnapore. The general condition of the early crop is reported to have been unsatisfactory in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, Hill Tippera and Midnapore owing to excessive rainfall and flood in September and October, but they were generally fair in Bankura and Mymensingh. The condition of the late crop is generally reported to be fair on the whole.

Area Sown.—The total area sown with the early crop is estimated at 70,806 acres as against 85,698 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The area sown with late cotton is reported to be 2,100 acres against the same estimate of last year.

Outturn.—The estimated outturn of the early cotton works out to 20,124 bales as against 28,567 bales reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The outturn of the late cotton is estimated at 1,068 bales as against 1,173 bales of last year.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF MUNICIPALITIES IN THE BENGAL PRESIDENCY (EXCEPT CALCUTTA) DURING THE YEAR 1915-16.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

MUNICIPAL.

RESOLUTION—No. 2896M.

READ—

The Reports from the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of Municipalities in the Bengal Presidency (except Calcutta) during the year 1915-16.

DURING the year under review the municipalities of Bengal suffered so little from the unfavourable financial conditions consequent on the war, that their collections increased by nearly a lakh of rupees and they had no difficulty in providing for current needs. The effect of the war was, however, apparent in their inability to undertake large and expensive schemes of improvement, for which they are dependent on the assistance of Government by means either of grants or loans, or both. Few private individuals are willing to come forward with generous contributions for public purposes, and both Municipal Commissioners and the ratepayers are opposed to increased taxation, so that funds for large schemes are not forthcoming from other sources. Owing to the necessity for careful economy of the provincial revenues, the amounts which the Government could make available for grants and loans to municipalities had to be reduced, and consequently a number of useful schemes of water-supply and drainage had to be kept in abeyance. As soon as normal financial conditions are restored, the Governor in Council trusts that he will be able to extend to municipal bodies the assistance they require for projects of improvement. He must however reaffirm the principle that Government, with many demands upon its limited resources, cannot make grants to Municipal Boards which have not learnt the lesson that the development of their towns depends mainly on their readiness to raise taxation to a reasonable figure and that, in the case of water-supply, they must be prepared to make the projects self-supporting.

In pursuance of the policy that the representative system should be extended to the greatest extent compatible with the interests of the ratepayers, orders were passed that the right to elect Municipal Commissioners should be given to nine municipalities in which they had hitherto been appointed by Government, viz., Budge-Budge, Cox's Bazar, Darjeeling, Dhulian, Jhalakati, Narayanganj, Netrakona, Patuakhali and Rangpur. Eleven municipalities have since been given the right to elect their Chairmen, the number of municipal towns in which Government appoints the Chairman being consequently reduced to 14. In the important municipality of Howrah, where the Magistrate has hitherto been elected Chairman, the Municipal Commissioners declared themselves in favour of having a non-official Chairman. The Governor in Council, accepting this resolution, did not appoint the Magistrate a Commissioner, and a non-official was elected to the Chairmanship.

In order that Municipal Boards should enjoy the fullest measure of financial independence permissible under the law, the Governor in Council directed that all municipalities, except those in which maladministration had shown that such a concession could not safely be allowed, should be given a free hand in framing their budgets according to their discretion, the Commissioners of Divisions being required only to see that the law, statutory rules and Government orders are complied with and that due provision is made for the necessary minimum closing balance and for the service of municipal loans.

It rests with the Municipal Commissioners of the towns which have been granted these privileges to justify the confidence which the Governor in Council has placed in their capacity for independent self-government.

2. Number of municipalities and revision of boundaries.—The number of municipalities increased from 111 to 112, in consequence of the partition of the Serampore municipality into the separate municipalities of Serampore and Rishra-Konnagar. The partition of the South Barrackpore municipality was also sanctioned, but did not take effect during the year. The limits of the North Barrackpore, Navadwip and Netrakona municipalities were reduced by the exclusion of rural areas.

3. Elections.—General elections were held in 64 municipalities and the majority were contested. A significant instance of the democratic leaven at work under the representative system is that a Muchi and a Chandal were elected Commissioners in one municipality. There has been a noticeable growth of interest in municipal elections, but it is a matter for regret that this should be associated with a tendency to resort to litigation. One-sixth of the elections were the subject of civil suits. The reports do not show how far these suits are due to irregularities at the polls, difficulties in the election procedure, the resentment of defeated candidates or party spirit and faction, but it is clear that they are a serious check to municipal administration. In one town the new Municipal Board was unable to meet during the year under review owing to a temporary injunction issued by the civil court; in another the constitution of the new body of Municipal Commissioners was delayed for about a year by litigation about election.

Under the existing law it is not possible to follow the English practice, by which election petitions are disposed of by a special commissioner appointed for the purpose and the long delays of civil court suits are avoided. Government are considering the question of amending the law so as to remedy the present unsatisfactory state of affairs, and in the meantime it is not too much to expect that suits and injunctions should be minimized by the common sense and good faith of contending parties.

An interesting development of the elective system in Bengal was the adoption at the general election held in the Kotrung, Serampore and Rishra-Konnagar municipalities of a system of secret voting, which was first tried experimentally in 1913-14 at a bye-election at Kotrung in order to prevent candidates interfering with the liberty of the voters.

4. Number of meetings and attendance of Commissioners.—Altogether 123 meetings failed for want of a quorum, and seven municipalities failed to hold at least one meeting a month. There was a good average of attendance throughout the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions.

5. Number of ratepayers.—The number of ratepayers decreased from 318,099 to 317,722. The percentage of ratepayers to the population residing within municipal limits averaged 16·11 and varied in individual towns from 35·8 in Bogra to 3·5 in the mill-town of Titagarh.

6. Assessment and taxation.—There was no change in the methods of taxation in force. A water rate was imposed for the first time in Khulna, and in a few cases the provisions of section IX of the Bengal Municipal Act were extended to new areas on the request of the municipalities concerned. The average incidence of taxation per head fell from Rs. 2-6-10 to Rs. 2-3-10. As in previous years it was highest in Darjeeling, viz., Rs. 8-0-8. In the plains it varied from Rs. 6-9 per head in Cossipore-Chitpur to 5 annas 4 pies in Baduria.

7. Revision of assessment.—A general revision of assessment was effected in 24 municipalities, while in other cases the revision made in the previous year took effect during the year under review. They resulted in every case in an increase of income, the enhancement being greatest in Chittagong (Rs. 19,798). Only two municipalities, Bhatpara and Kalna, took the opportunity of reassessment to enhance the rate of taxation; and complaints are general that the municipalities show great reluctance to increase their taxation. A signal instance of this spirit is afforded by the town of Bally, where the revision of assessment resulted in a considerable increase of revenue, and the Commissioners proceeded to reduce it by lowering the rate on holdings from 7½ per cent. to 6 per cent. The appeals against revision were numerous. It took two years to dispose of them in Burdwan, and nearly a year in Rampur-Boalia, where they numbered 2,932.

8. Collections.—The total collections rose from Rs. 42,20,568 to Rs. 43,01,670 or 3 lakhs above the figure recorded in 1913-14. This continuous rise in collections may be taken as a satisfactory symptom of municipal prosperity. There was however a decrease in the percentage of collections on current demand, which represented 95·33 per cent. as against 96·03 per cent. in the preceding year. In no less than twenty municipalities the collections were in excess of the current demand, the ratio in Halishahar rising to the abnormal figure of 126·7 per cent. The excess is obviously due to failure to realize dues in the previous year and is so far satisfactory that it shows a creditable effort to remedy past negligence. The least successful of the larger municipalities was Rampur-Boalia. Embarrassed by the work of revaluation, by a large number of appeals against reassessment, by a general election, and by a disinclination to issue warrants, the executive of this municipality succeeded in realising only 73·7 per cent. of the current demand.

There was an increase in the total remissions from Rs. 1,56,742 to Rs. 1,80,578, their percentage on current demand rising from 3·5 per cent. to 4 per cent. Three municipalities remitted a percentage of 10 per cent. and the small municipalities of Dhulian and Debhatta nearly one-fifth.

The outstanding balances rose from Rs. 3,35,821 to Rs. 3,63,755. They exceeded Rs. 5,000 in the case of 17 municipalities, and were noticeably large in Dacca, Rampur-Boalia, Hooghly-Chinsura and Serampore. In Cossipore-Chitpur, Jessore and South Dum-Dum, they were partly due to unsettled claims against public bodies. The Burdwan municipality has entirely failed to reduce an abnormal balance of over Rs. 35,000, which for the last two years has been attributed to delay in disposing of the appeals against the revision of assessment in 1914-1915—an explanation which Government has already held to be inadequate. These are conspicuous examples of a tendency to laxity in the realization of municipal dues, which is only too constant a theme of the annual reports. An outstanding balance of Rs. 10,311 in Berhampore is due to the collections having been impeded by the prosecution of practically the whole of the collecting staff for embezzlement.

9. Income and expenditure.—The total receipts including opening balances amounted to Rs. 82,94,648 as against Rs. 98,64.841 during the previous year. This large decrease is due to the fact that the total for 1914-15 included the proceeds of the sale of Government securities, to the value of Rs. 8,00,000, by the Howrah municipality, as well as a loan to the same municipality of Rs. 4,34,000, whereas its only receipt under either head, during the year 1915-1916, was a loan of Rs. 1,00,000. The total actual income, excluding opening balance and receipts under "Extraordinary and Debt", decreased by Rs. 2,21,514 and amounted to Rs. 54,06,316. The amount of Government loans fell from Rs. 5,82,000 to Rs. 1,78,000, but there was an increase of Rs. 98,458 in the total receipts from rates and taxes, and of Rs. 15,029 in revenue derived from other municipal property and powers apart from taxation.

The total expenditure declined from Rs. 72,18,133 to Rs. 66,35,636. The decrease was entirely under the heads "Extraordinary and Debt" and is mainly accounted for by a decrease of over five lakhs in savings bank investments by the Howrah municipality. Actual current expenditure amounted to Rs. 57,97,859 as against Rs. 57,52,157 during the previous year, and it is apparent that though no new capital expenditure was possible, the ordinary current activities of the towns were sustained.

10. Closing balances.—The closing balances which had increased by about 3 lakhs in the last two years fell from Rs. 21,46,708 to Rs. 16,59,012. Only three municipalities retained closing balances of over one lakh, viz., Howrah (Rs. 1,86,484), Narayanganj (Rs. 1,09,891) and Cossipore-Chitpur (Rs. 1,02,812). The greater part of the larger balances consists of funds earmarked for schemes of improvement, such as drainage or water-supply, and in many cases is made up of unspent Government grants given for projects which it has not been possible to proceed with owing to the rise in the cost of materials.

Details of the main items of revenue and expenditure are given below.

11. Taxes on houses and lands (Rs. 16,30,735).—There was an increase of Rs. 43,384 due to revision of assessment in certain municipalities and larger collections in Howrah; the increase was confined to the Burdwan, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions. A decrease of Rs. 18,808 in Cossipore-Chitpur is attributed to non-payment of taxes claimed from the Calcutta Corporation.

12. Tax on animals and vehicles (Rs. 2,25,227).—This tax yielded an increase of Rs. 8,225, which more than makes up for the falling off of the previous year, which was ascribed to a failure of cart traffic consequent on dullness in the jute trade.

13. Tax on professions and trades (Rs. 84,291).—The receipts under this head rose by Rs. 2,446: the only noticeable feature is an increase in the collections by the Rangpur municipality from Rs. 277 to Rs. 3,156 on receipt of the Commissioner's sanction to the rates of fees for jute godowns.

14. Tolls on roads and ferries (Rs. 83,945).—Receipts under this head in the Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions, which fell heavily during the previous year, recovered partially; but a falling off in the other Divisions, especially Presidency and Burdwan, resulted in a net decrease of Rs. 2,902.

15. Water-rate (Rs. 6,88,456).—There was an increase of Rs. 20,878, due partly to the levy of a water-rate for the first time in Khulna, and to the fact that the water-rate was realised for the whole year in Hooghly-Chinsura, where it was only collected for three quarters of the previous year, during which the water-works first came into working. The balance of the increase was due to better collections, especially in Howrah, Mymensingh and Jessore. A decrease of Rs. 9,685 in Cossipore-Chitpur is attributed to remissions on account of railway holdings.

16. Lighting rate (Rs. 1,92,294).—There was a decrease of Rs. 4,110, the net result of a decrease of Rs. 7,213 in Cossipore-Chitpur, attributed to remissions for railway holdings, and of an increase of Rs. 3,000 in Howrah.

17. Conservancy (Rs. 10,92,020).—Receipts rose by Rs. 21,829. An increase of over Rs. 30,000 in the Burdwan, Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions more than counterbalanced a decrease in the Presidency Division, where it was due mainly to remission of taxes in Cossipore-Chitpur, and in the Chittagong Division, where it was due to reduction of the latrine rate.

18. Tax on persons according to circumstances and property (Rs. 3,98,078).—There was an increase of Rs. 4,869, notwithstanding the abolition of the tax in some wards of the Rampur-Boalia and Nator municipalities.

19. Realizations under Special Acts (Rs. 1,09,241).—There was a decrease of Rs. 2,370 which calls for no remarks. Fees under the Hackney Carriage Act were levied for the first time in Bogra.

20. Revenue from municipal property and powers other than taxation (Rs. 4,87,279).—An increase of Rs. 15,029 was shared by all Divisions. The Burdwan municipality obtained an addition of Rs. 8,745 in receipts from educational institutions, which is attributed largely to the school fees obtained from a branch municipal school which has been recently established. The amount of fines realised decreased slightly, and the small total of Rs. 40,879 under this head, of which Rs. 13,604 was realised in one municipality seems to indicate lack of energy in the prosecution of municipal offences.

21. Grants and contributions (Rs. 2,90,182).—There was a decrease under this head of Rs. 3,48,256, due mainly to a reduction of the Government grants on account of the financial stringency arising out of war conditions. The following were the larger Government grants which it was found possible to make :—

Burdwan municipality		...	Rs. 17,452 for drainage.
Bankura	ditto	...	Rs. 19,025 for water-works and sanitary improvement.
Midnapore	ditto	...	Rs. 22,074 for the college and other educational purposes.
Chittagong	ditto	...	Rs. 10,200 towards the pay of the Secretary-Engineer.
Dacca	ditto	...	Rs. 7,500 for a conservancy tramway.

There was a slight increase in private contributions, and the following instances of liberality deserve special mention. Suri received a contribution of Rs. 25,000 from Raja Satya Niranjan Chakarvarty of Hetampur towards the Suri water-works. Berhampore received a donation of Rs. 23,097, the bulk of which was contributed by Raja Rao Jogendra Narayan Bahadur of Lalgola for the charitable hospital and the Khagra burning ghât. Babu Raj Krishna Ghose gave Rs. 2,000 to the Bhatpara municipality for a female bathing ghât, Babu Profulla Nath Tagore made over land of the value of Rs. 1,500 to the Baranagar municipality for the drainage works, and Babu Hari Charan Guha gave Rs. 1,292 to the Bally municipality for a road. Generous contributions were made to Bhadreswar by the Victoria and Shamnagar North Jute Mills for the construction of roads in the mill bustees, and the Managing Agents of the Empire Jute Mills granted Rs. 4,000 to Titagarh for improvement of the drainage. There was a decrease in contributions from local funds, the greater part of which were made for medical purposes. Barisal received Rs. 5,000 from the District Board towards the water-works, and Dacca Rs. 6,600 from the Dacca Electric Light Trust Fund for the better lighting of the town.

22. Office establishment and collection charges (Rs. 4,56,921).—Expenditure on this account increased by Rs. 45,683 and its percentage on the total expenditure from 7·9 per cent. to 8·1 per cent. This increase is chiefly due to the establishment charges of Howrah, which rose by over Rs. 45,000, more than half of this amount being due to an increase in charges for survey. The percentage of expenditure on this account varied from 20·08 in North Dum Dum to 3·8 in Berhampore. Other towns which appear to have exercised commendable economy are Katwa and Barisal with percentages of 4·1 and 4·4 respectively. The low percentage of 3·9 in Chittagong is due to the pay of the Secretary-Engineer being debited under another head.

23. Prevention of fire (Rs. 79,537).—The bulk of the expenditure consists of contributions by suburban municipalities to the Calcutta Fire-Brigade. There was an increase of Rs. 1,357 in Darjeeling, which is the only town with an organised fire-brigade outside Calcutta.

24. Lighting (Rs. 3,73,692).—There was an increase of Rs. 39,125 under this head. In Darjeeling alone there was an increase of over Rs. 24,000, incurred for the most part in capital outlay on the existing electric power works and a new hydro-electric scheme. In Dacca electric lighting was extended to certain streets with the help of the grant from the Electric Light Trust Fund already referred to. The increase in other municipalities is attributed rather to the increase in the cost of materials, such as oil and glass chimneys, than to any improvement in lighting. A decrease in the expenditure in the Dacca Division was caused by the fact that the Narayanganj Municipality had to substitute kerosene for petrol lamps through inability to procure mantles. The municipalities of North Barrackpore and South Barrackpore spent nothing on lighting.

25. Water-supply (Rs. 9,51,819).—There was an increase of Rs. 1,66,670 in expenditure on water-supply. Of this increase Rs. 1,34,327 was incurred on account of capital works, expenditure on which had fallen by five lakhs during the previous year, and Rs. 32,343 in maintenance and repairs. Of the total expenditure on capital works (Rs. 5,39,752), a sum of Rs. 2,09,566 was spent on the construction of water-works at Chittagong, which have since been opened, and Rs. 1,93,373 on the extension of the Howrah water-works, the completion of which has been delayed through the inability of Government to make the full loan promised. The only water-works scheme completed during the year was that of the Bankura municipality. Other capital works of minor importance were the extension of the water-pipes in Burdwan and Cossipore-Chitpur, the repair of the water-works engine at Berhampore, improvements to the Barisal water-works, and the re-excavation of a tank in Pabna at a cost of Rs. 6,392.

The largest of the schemes under consideration was the Riparian Municipalities Water-works Scheme, which is intended for the supply of water to municipalities on the east bank of the Hooghly north of Calcutta. Representatives of the municipalities concerned were invited to confer on a revised scheme prepared by the Sanitary Engineer at an estimated cost of 35 lakhs; and the details of a system under which a Water-works Board can be constituted, and the water-works financed and managed, are under the consideration of Government.

The final approval of Government was given to water-works schemes for Dacca (Rs. 1,80,000), Nator (Rs. 67,000), Satkhira (Rs. 51,793) and Chandpur (Rs. 1,26,000). It was not possible to start work on any of these schemes during the year, but the Satkhira municipality, to which Government had already given a grant, has since been able to make a beginning with its project. In other cases the schemes depend for their execution on the receipt of grants and loans from Government, which it was not possible to make on account of financial stringency. At the same time, the estimates require revision in view of the increase of prices, and thus involve reconsideration of the financial proposals on which the schemes were sanctioned.

Sketch projects for the water-supply of Krishnagar, Raniganj and Suri received the approval of Government during the year and detailed estimates were called for. Important schemes of water-supply for Asansol, Midnapore and Murshidabad were under the consideration of the Municipal Commissioners in consultation with the Sanitary Engineer. Experiments in the sinking of a well in the bed of the Cossye and in pumping at Midnapore gave satisfactory results, and the Sanitary Engineer drew up a scheme, which has been submitted to the Municipal Commissioners since the close of the year.

26. Drainage (Rs. 3,25,529).—There was a net decrease of Rs. 3,61,221 in expenditure on drainage, though expenditure on establishment and maintenance increased from Rs. 1,44,683 to Rs. 1,64,298. The heavy net decrease is due to the fact that expenditure on capital works in Howrah was less by Rs. 3,68,896 than during the preceding year. The bulk of the capital outlay was incurred in the Burdwan Division. The drainage scheme of the Bankura municipality was completed during the year. Sums of over Rs. 25,000 each were spent by the Burdwan and Katwa municipalities. In Bhadreswar a surface scheme for part of the municipality was completed at a cost of Rs. 21,627, and the Commissioners now propose to take in hand another block of the scheme. Various small works were carried on or initiated, but the only new scheme of any importance with which a beginninng is reported to have been made is the Bharpara drainage scheme in Howrah. Two larger schemes were under the consideration of Government during the year. The Bagjola scheme for the drainage of municipalities to the north of Calcutta was considered by the Sanitary Board in consultation with the Chairmen of the Calcutta Corporation and the local Municipalities and other officers concerned, and in view of the sanitary objections to it, it was decided not to proceed further with the scheme in its present form. A combined project for sewerage and surface drainage in Rampur-Boalia, at an estimated capital cost of Rs. 1,46,000, was prepared by the Sanitary Engineer during the year. Drainage schemes are reported to be pending with the municipalities of Hooghly-Chinsurah, Kamarhati, Budge-Budge and Comilla among others, and have not yet materialized owing to the difficulty of formulating satisfactory financial proposals.

27. Conservancy (Rs. 15,59,947).—An increase of Rs. 41,681 was contributed to by the municipality of Howrah and the three divisions of Eastern Bengal. A considerable saving was effected in the cost of the conservancy staff at Asansol without any reduction of its efficiency.

28. Sanitary Officers (Rs. 53,209).—This is the first year in which expenditure on Sanitary Officers has been entered under a separate head. The Sanitary Officers Act (II of 1914) was brought into force during the year by notifications prescribing the sanitary staff to be entertained by all municipalities. Expenditure on this account was incurred, however, by only 36 municipalities during the year, and progress towards making the necessary appointments must be regarded as slow. There are signs of a tendency to avoid appointing the staff pending the receipt of grants-in-aid from Government. Municipalities must recognise that they are now under a legal obligation to appoint those officers irrespective of the receipt of assistance from Government and that this constitutes a necessary charge on municipal finances. Assistance from Government towards the pay of Sanitary Inspectors can only be expected when a municipality has shown both its readiness to make the appointment, and its inability to meet the charge, notwithstanding a reasonable incidence of taxation, without prejudice to the efficiency of other departments of the municipal administration.

29. Hospitals and Dispensaries and plague charges (Rs. 3,90,942).—There was an increase of expenditure amounting to Rs. 37,348. The Dwarika Nath Charitable Dispensary at Tangail, which had hitherto been under private maintenance, was placed in charge of the municipality. An increase of Rs. 19,004 in expenditure by Berhampore was due to the addition to the Charitable Hospital of a new outdoor dispensary, with the help of private generosity which has already been mentioned.

30. Public Works (Rs. 8,66,251).—Expenditure under this head increased by Rs. 36,412. There was an increase of Rs. 41,738 on roads, and of Rs. 3,121 on establishment, and a decrease under the subheads Stores and Buildings. Expenditure on roads increased in the Burdwan, Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions. The percentage of outlay on public works ranged from 46·2 in Taki to 4·1 in Kotrung and Kurseong, in the latter of which the roads are maintained by the Public Works Department. In twenty municipalities more than a quarter of the total expenditure was on account of public works.

31. Public Instruction (Rs. 2,21,956).—Educational expenditure rose by Rs. 13,203, and it is observed that the whole of the increase was devoted to secondary rather than primary education. The major portion of the increase is due to expenditure on colleges and high schools in Burdwan, Midnapore and Maniktolla. The expenditure on primary schools decreased from Rs. 1,08,328 to Rs. 88,567 and the Governor in Council desires to invite attention to the principle that primary education must be the first object of municipal educational expenditure, and that the municipal fund should not be utilized for secondary education intended for the benefit of well-to-do classes until full provision has been made for primary schools. Twenty-two municipalities spent over 5 per cent. of their income on primary education. The percentage was highest in Jhalakati (21·8 per cent.) and Debhata (16·7) and varied elsewhere from 8·7 in Cox's Bazar to less than 2 per cent. in Howrah, Midnapore, Burdwan and Darjeeling, while the extremely low figure of ·06 was reached in Dinajpur.

32. Loans.—Thirty-nine municipalities were in debt to Government at the end of the year, the total amount of their outstanding liabilities on the 31st March 1916 being Rs. 45,36,292 in addition to Rs. 12,600 due from Burdwan and Bally for loans taken from other sources. The largest outstanding loan liabilities were those of Howrah (Rs. 24,51,828), Dacca (Rs. 2,73,681), Hooghly-Chinsurah (Rs. 1,78,031), Narayanganj (Rs. 1,25,161) and Chittagong (Rs. 1,10,000). Four municipalities took loans during the year, viz., Howrah (Rs. 1,00,000 for water-supply), Chittagong (Rs. 60,000 for water-supply), Barisal (Rs. 13,000 for water-supply) and Bankura (Rs. 5,000 for sanitary works). The Berhampore and Bansberia municipalities liquidated their loans.

33. Outstanding liabilities on account of current bills.—At the end of the financial year, eighty municipalities had outstanding liabilities on account of current bills, amounting to Rs. 2,17,576, which represented 5·7 per cent. of their current demand. In 16 municipalities the outstanding liabilities exceeded the closing balance. The tendency to incur liabilities beyond annual means was marked in the Rajshahi Division, where the liabilities exceeded the closing balances in five municipalities, notably Pabna and Rampur-Boalia with outstanding liabilities of Rs. 5,664 and Rs. 4,173, respectively, against closing balances of Rs. 1,839 and Rs. 1,796.

34. Audit of accounts and embezzlement.—No financial irregularities were discovered during the year in the Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions. Elsewhere the usual tale of dishonesty among subordinates and laxity of supervision repeats itself. The audit of the accounts of Berhampore brought to light a systematic embezzlement, which necessitated a special audit of the accounts from 1912 to 1915. A large sum of municipal money had been gradually embezzled for some years by the collecting staff, practically all of whom were involved in the fraud. Eight persons were prosecuted and sentenced; and the municipality is being required to pay the cost of the special audit. Embezzlements by the collecting staff were also discovered in Basirhat, South Barrackpore. Satkhira, Netrakona and Tamluk. In the municipality last named the detection of a fraud by a member of the staff, who is still absconding, had so little effect in stimulating the executive to closer supervision that another embezzlement was committed by his successor.

Reference has already been made to the issue of instructions relaxing the control exercised by Commissioners over municipal budgets. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division attributes certain instances of extravagance to the policy of non-intervention, but Government consider that it would be premature to draw conclusions at present as to the effect of orders which were passed only towards the close of the year under review.

35. Howrah.—The current demand on account of taxes rose from Rs. 9,79,935 to Rs. 9,95,273, and the total demand amounted to Rs. 10,47,669, of which 92·5 per cent. was collected against 91·5 per cent. in the previous year. The total ordinary income rose from Rs. 10,49,825 to Rs. 10,83,028, while the total ordinary expenditure fell from Rs. 13,68,749 to Rs. 12,06,621. Owing to the war and the impossibility of obtaining loans, the Commissioners had to postpone all capital expenditure except that to which they were actually committed. Work proceeded on the new filters and settling tanks at Serampore, for which contracts were made before the war, and the Bharpara drainage scheme was taken up in accordance with an agreement with the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, which will pay Rs. 12,500 towards the total cost of the scheme (Rs. 34,500). Work on the central drainage scheme and developments of the water-works improvement scheme, such as the laying of the new town main and the purchase of a new pumping engine, were postponed. The work already done for the improvement of the water-supply has increased the supply in the town by 58 per cent., giving 17 gallons per head of population. A general election was held in December, but it was not till after the close of the financial year that the municipality was reconstituted. The Governor in Council will watch with special interest the progress made by this municipality under the Chairmanship of a non-official gentleman.

36. General Remarks.—It is not without a sense of disappointment that the Governor in Council has read the criticisms of Commissioners and District Officers on the working of municipalities during the year. The towns-people of Bengal have now had over 30 years' training in municipal administration under the Bengal Municipal Act and he cannot but feel, after reviewing the record of the year's work in the most friendly spirit, that. with some notable exceptions, progress is slow.

The Commissioner of the Presidency Division considers that the year under report has scarcely been one of progress except that the municipalities on the east bank of the Hooghly have now agreed to join in a common scheme of water-supply which they rejected ten years ago. Sanitary Officers have received little encouragement; taxation is inadequate; expenditure on drainage and water-supply is not seriously faced. "The Municipal Committee's conception of civic duty," he remarks, "is seldom sufficiently high to set self-interest aside and test the faith of the people in municipal government by a large increase of taxation." Among individual municipalities he mentions Berhampore as having again failed to perform its duties efficiently owing to laxity of management and torpid inaction accompanied by a listless expectancy of Government aid. Maniktolla has suffered from party spirit and faction for some years and is said by the Magistrate to have had the pretensions, but not the substance of modern administration. In Debhatta rates were not collected owing to internal dissension. The Commissioner adds, however, that with these exceptions the municipal services were for the most part efficiently performed within the limits of the financial resources, while in municipalities connected with the headquarters of districts the standard of administration was in many ways creditable. The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas refers to the administration of the mill municipalities, such as Titagarh. Naihati and Bhatpara, which have had their resources augmented by substantial help from the mills, as business-like and efficient. Other small rural municipalities, however, are unsatisfactory, and the Magistrate points out that an inspection of any of the minor municipalities must convince any disinterested person that the taxation is wholly inadequate, the collections are poor and dilatory, and there is a general reluctance to use coercive measures to improve them. In Nadia some elements of progress are observed, and there has been normal progress in the municipalities in Khulna district with the exception of Debhatta. Little advance however has been made in Jessore, while in Murshidabad there are said to be very few indications of the growth of a healthy public opinion, which will insist on municipal questions being decided on their merits, instead of in accordance with the private interests of rival local factions.

The record of the municipalities in the Burdwan district is generally unsatisfactory. Of Burdwan it is reported that little good can be said: the roads are bad, the drains are not flushed, the water-supply is abused with impunity, the finances are mismanaged and in confusion, the Municipal Board is rent by faction. Party faction and self-interest among the Commissioners prevent good administration in Katwa and to a less degree in Kalna. Conspicuous by contrast are the municipalities of Asansol, the affairs of which were administered with foresight, efficiency and economy, and Raniganj, which was managed with quiet efficiency, on a small income of which "little was wasted." The Vishnupur municipality worked smoothly, and a marked improvement is noticed in the administration and cleanliness of Bankura, where the Municipal Commissioners have to deal with the expansion of the town owing to the opening of railway communications. No special reform or improvement was effected in Midnapore. The Commissioners of Hooghly-Chinsura declined to impose a water-rate adequate to meet the maintenance charges of the water-works; the collection of taxes was bad, and the municipality had insufficient funds to carry out municipal work efficiently. Party feeling runs high in Baidyabati and prevents good administration. In Bansberia it is reported that no improvements can be expected unless the executive and the Commissioners exert themselves to promote the welfare of the municipality. Arambagh, however, was well managed; in Uttarpara the virulence of party feeling abated; and the work of Bhadreswar municipality shows a very great improvement, so that it promises to be the most up to date and progressive town in the district.

In the Rajshahi Division the Commissioner reports that there has been a distinct improvement in the administration of municipal affairs, especially in Pabna, where a real effort is being made to look after the welfare of the town. A change in the executive has resulted in an improvement of the working of the Sirajganj municipality, and Rangpur is commended by the Magistrate for its improved administration and business-like assessment. The hill municipalities of Darjeeling and Kurseong maintain their good record, and in both mention is made of the assistance given to the executive by the Commissioners and of their practical interest in municipal affairs.

In the Dacca Division most of the important municipalities are maturing useful schemes of improvement, but tend to rely too much on Government aid. Professor Geddes visited Dacca on the invitation of the municipality and made a close study of the town and its needs: his report will shortly be published. This is the first occasion on which an opportunity has been afforded to an Eastern Bengal municipality of coming into contact with modern ideas of town-planning and improvement. The administration of the other towns in the Division calls for little comment. A keen interest in municipal elections was displayed, and it is satisfactory to learn that at Madaripur the parties were content to abide by the decision of the Magistrate over disputed elections without having recourse to litigation.

The only outstanding feature in the municipal work of the Chittagong Division was the progress made with the water-works in the town of Chittagong. The Chandpur municipality has been trying to accumulate funds for a water-supply scheme, so that it may be able to contribute its share of the cost when Government can come to its assistance. In Comilla the Municipal Commissioners have been unable for several years past to undertake any important scheme for want of adequate funds. Its financial position does not afford sufficient security for loans from Government, and the only means of increasing the permanent revenues seems to be to adopt a tax on holdings instead of the unsatisfactory method of assessment on incomes. Mention of the town of Brahmanbaria as under water for three months with "all the roads covered with water to a sufficient depth to allow of small boats sailing over them" gives a glimpse of the difficulties of municipal work in an Eastern Bengal town in a wet year.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING 1915-16.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

RESOLUTION—No. 2913L. S.-G.

READ—

The Reports from the Commissioners of Divisions on the Working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1915-16.

District Boards.—The number of meetings fell from 400 to 367. The meetings of the District Board of Khulna were suspended from April to August 1915, owing to an injunction issued by the Civil Court in connection with an election dispute. In Mymensingh three meetings failed for want of a quorum.

2. Local Boards.—There was no change in the number of Local Boards. The five Local Boards in the Mymensingh district were reconstituted, the result being to increase the number of members from 64 to 71. Altogether 951 meetings were held, of which 35 failed for want of a quorum, as against 54 during the preceding year. Fourteen Local Boards failed to meet once a month.

3. Elections.—General elections of District Board members were held in Birbhum, Jessore, Mymensingh, Tippera, Noakhali, Rajshahi, Rangpur and Pabna. The Local Board of Chandpur failed to elect two members for the District Board of Tippera within the prescribed time, and they consequently had to be appointed by the Commissioner. Elections also failed owing to the non-attendance of the required number of voters in two thanas in Birbhum, and in the same number of thanas in Pabna, but elsewhere proved successful. There is a noticeable increase of keenness to serve on Local Boards, because members have been given the privilege of voting for the Provincial Legislative Council, and only one Local Board election proved a failure.

4. Powers of District and Local Boards.—There was no change in the powers of District and Local Boards under the law or statutory rules. The Local Boards act as agents of the District Board and have restricted powers entirely different from those originally proposed by the Government of Bengal before the enactment of the Local Self-Government Act and those now suggested for Circle Boards by the District Administration Committee. They are hampered by the absence of adequate powers to manage local affairs, and the restriction of their authority does not conduce to vitality and growth in local self-government. They merely administer such funds as may be placed at their disposal by the District Boards for roads of minor importance, village sanitation and water-supply and are in charge of pounds and ferries. During the year under review the Local Boards in the Presidency Division were entrusted with the distribution of Government grants for primary education; and in Pabna the management of dâk and inspection bungalows and the maintenance of some District Board roads were made over to the Local Boards.

5. Union Committees—(a) Constitution.—The number of Union Committees was only 66 in 1913-14 and 76 in 1914-15, but 84 were established or sanctioned in the year under review, thus more than doubling their number. Many were sanctioned too late in the year to come into active existence before its close; and the actual number dealt with in the divisional reports is 90, of which 73 were in West Bengal and 17 in East Bengal, as against 65 and 11, respectively, during the previous year. All the new Union Committees are conterminous with one or more chaukidari unions and their area averages 10 square miles. Sanction was given to the introduction of the elective system in 53 new Unions. With a few exceptions, such as the Union Committee of Chuadanga, which failed to meet at all, and that of Laksam, which met only once, there was an adequate number of meetings.

(b) Income.—The total income of Union Committees (excluding the opening balances) increased from Rs. 98,672 to Rs. 1,11,968, the total expenditure from Rs. 90,970 to Rs. 1,07,711 and the closing balances from Rs. 28,056 to Rs. 32,313. The bulk of their income consisted of contributions from the District Board, but there was an increase of Rs. 2,353 in receipts from pounds and of Rs. 5,912 from taxation. The Union Committees in Nadia suffered from the unwillingness of the District Board to make adequate grants. the contribution to each being less than one-fourth of what other Boards in the Division give to Union Committees. The number of Committees which have introduced self-taxation rose from 25 to 36, and the percentage of income derived from this source to the total income increased from 18·6 to 21·5. Rs. 15,184, or more than half the total receipts from taxation, was raised in the Burdwan Division, Rs. 10,021 being accounted for by the three Committees of Bolpur, Dubrajpur and Rampur Hât in Birbhum. Only two of 23 Committees in Hooghly, Murshidabad and Jessore have so far not resorted to self-taxation.

(c) Balances.—Fourteen Unions disposed of the whole of their funds. The Rampur Hât Union spent over Rs. 6,000 out of Rs. 7,838, the Dubrajpur Union over Rs. 4,000, three Unions over Rs. 3,000 each and three other Unions over Rs. 2,000 each. The Unions of the 24-Parganas did much to justify the large contributions made to them by the Board, their expenditure being almost equal to these grants. On the other hand, the Unions in Burdwan, Midnapore, Murshidabad and Noakhali retained closing balances approximating to half the total expenditure. Excluding Unions which were established too late in the year to come into active operation, only seven Unions, as against ten last year, retained a closing balance in excess of expenditure. Some Union Committees continue to meet often and discuss much, but spend little: the Union Committee of Mirzapur in Murshidabad, for instance, met fourteen times, but spent less than half its income.

(d) Expenditure.—Expenditure on water-supply was almost doubled, while expenditure on roads and sanitation, as in the previous year, approximated to one-half and one-third, respectively, of the total expenditure. The Union Committees of Dubrajpur and Bolpur in Birbhum and of Pandua in Hooghly are reported to have taken a practical interest in local sanitation, water-supply and village conservancy. The Dubrajpur Union continued to deal effectively with encroachment on village roads and the Bagerhat Union in Khulna carried out a scheme for the drainage of the bazar. The Narail Union in Jessore is accumulating funds for the drainage of the town of Narail. Conservancy work is carried on by the Unions of Feni in Noakhali and Akkhaura in Tippera. A scheme of taxation for sanitary improvements has been sanctioned for the Union last named, and a conservancy system is to be introduced in the Lakhipur Union in Tippera. Expenditure on dispensaries was confined to the Union of Rampur Hât and to several Unions in the 24-Parganas. All the Union Committees in the district of Jessore received allotments from the Imperial grants for primary education, but no other Committee except the Committee of Aurangabad in Murshidabad spent anything on education.

(e) General remarks.—The reports give varied accounts of the utility of Union Committees. Some are efficient and successful, others do little good. In some districts they show great reluctance to impose local self-taxation for the supply of sanitary needs, and even those which have power to do so find excuses for not exercising their power. The following remarks of the District Magistrate of Murshidabad on the subject are of special interest as illustrating the present attitude of Union Committees and as showing that the prospects are encouraging :—" Local taxation is of course unpopular, but at the same time experience has shown that when the villagers see improvements effected as the result of taxation raised and spent locally, their objections die away and taxation is tolerated if not welcomed. If Union Committees are given a fairly free hand, are not harassed with intricate account rules, returns and all the accompaniments of an up-to-date administration, but are gently guided and advised and helped to surmount difficulties, there is every justification for hoping that in time they will take more and more interest in their work, exercise their powers more widely and more fearlessly, and in time become very valuable units in the administration."

6. Financial Results.—The stability of the income of District Boards and a further increase of spending power are noticeable features of the year's working. The opening balance, including deposits to the credit of the Boards, was Rs. 43,30,158, and the closing balance was Rs. 33,49,533. The total receipts (excluding opening balance) increased from Rs. 1,00,47,964 to Rs. 1,06,91,743, and the total expenditure chargeable to income from Rs. 97,28,951 to Rs. 1,04,72,066. The receipts and expenditure for the last two years under the main heads are shown below :—

7. Provincial Rates (Rs. 63,42,833).—An increase of Rs. 4,54,528 is returned under this head, the net receipts in the Presidency, Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions having risen by 1·3 lakh, 1·5 lakh and 1·7 lakh respectively, owing to revaluation and collection of arrears. The local distress which occurred in some districts had a very slight effect on the receipts, the decrease in Bankura, for instance, being only Rs. 12,716 on a total of over one lakh. The general position of the Boards, as shown by these figures, is one of prosperity and expanding resources.

8. Receipts under the Cattle-Trespass Act (Rs. 3,50,407).—There was a decrease of Rs. 8,903 following on a decrease of Rs. 6,072 in 1914-15. The reduction of receipts is attributed in the Tippera district to local scarcity and in the Dacca district to absence of competition among the pound-keepers, who belong to the cultivating classes, and who had experienced a bad season in 1914-15 owing to the fall in the price of jute. It is disappointing to find that some Local Boards are failing to make the most of their management of pounds. The Contai Local Board realised only 19 per cent. of its demand and there were large arrears of unrealized rents in some districts, e.g., Rs. 10,273 in Faridpur and Rs. 5,628 in Bakarganj, where the Bhola Local Board was responsible for arrear collections amounting to Rs. 4,586.

9. Education (Rs. 10,02,881).—A reduction of the receipts by Rs. 2,56,048 is due to a decrease in Government grants and is common to all districts.

10. Medical (Rs. 98,406).—Private contributions decreased from Rs. 49,800 to Rs. 43,321 and Government contributions increased from Rs. 31,782 to Rs. 45,926, the net result being an increase of Rs. 8,826. A grant of Rs. 25,000 was given by Government to the Birbhum District Board for anti-malarial work, and the Bakarganj District Board received a grant of Rs. 3,500 towards the cost of free vaccination in the Sadar subdivision. Babu Durga Das Basu made a gift to the District Board of the 24-Parganas of a building for use as a Charitable Dispensary with a promise to meet the cost of furnishing it. Six gifts are mentioned of sums of Rs. 3,000 and Rs. 2,000 for the construction of dispensary buildings in the 24-Parganas, Khulna and Tippera.

11. Railways (Rs. 73,655).—The income derived by the District Boards of Hooghly, Howrah and the 24-Parganas from their share in the profits of light railways rose by Rs. 4,004. The increase was confined to the two latter Boards, and is due to the profits from the Howrah-Amta and Barasat-Basirhat light railways.

12. Ferries (Rs. 4,31,177).—The receipts from ferries were practically the same as last year and show no signs of having been affected by the local scarcity which occurred in some districts; they were stationary in Bankura and increased by over Rs. 2,000 in Tippera. Want of business-like methods in giving out leases appears to have been responsible for losses in two cases. The District Board of Khulna was compelled to write off a large amount of arrears as irrecoverable through neglect to take agreements from the lessees, and the District Board of Pabna failed to realise dues amounting to Rs. 2,000 from an up-countryman who took a lease at a high rent in the name of another man.

13. Grants from Government (Rs. 20,22,459).—Notwithstanding financial stringency, there was an increase of Rs. 44,143 as the result of special grants made by Government to enable the District Boards of Tippera and Bankura to carry on relief works. The former received a grant of Rs. 85,000 and the latter Rs. 3,09,982. The grant of special subventions was facilitated by the fact that a sum of Rs. 1,35,212, on account of undistributed arrears of the annual augmentation grant, became available during the year. This windfall was distributed, in accordance with the most urgent needs, among the District Boards of Bankura (Rs. 82,666), Tippera (Rs. 27,546) and Birbhum (Rs. 25,000). These subventions were entirely adventitious, and it is not the intention of Government to deviate ordinarily from the principle of rateable distribution of the augmentation grant.

14. Loans (Rs. 25,000).—A sum of Rs. 25,000 was received by the Burdwan District Board as the first instalment of a loan of Rs. 50,000 granted by Government for the improvement of roads in the Asansol subdivision.

15. Expenditure—Utilization of the Public Works Cess.—Three years have elapsed since the resources of the District Boards were augmented by approximately 30 lakhs owing to the transfer of the Public Works Cess, and it is now possible to review the manner in which they have exercised their discretion in its expenditure. Orders were not issued definitely hypothecating the whole or any part of the Public Works Cess to particular objects; but the District Boards were informed in February 1914 of the desirability of devoting a substantial portion for sanitation, the improvement of the water-supply and anti-malarial measures; while in September 1915, they were advised to utilize large sums for the excavation of tanks in rural areas. The following comparative table shows the average income and expenditure under different heads during the three years preceding and immediately following the surrender of the cess as well as during the year under review :—

It will be seen that during the latter triennium the average annual expenditure on education increased by nearly 9 lakhs, on medical relief (including special anti-malarial measures) by over 3 lakhs and on civil works (including water-supply and drainage, which frequently is of a sanitary nature) by a little over 21 lakhs. In the case of education it is difficult to say how far the increase is due to appropriation from the public works cess, as the District Boards had large Imperial grants, which they were unable to spend in full in previous years, and the balance of which they have gradually drawn upon.

The average annual amount spent on water-supply during the three years preceding the transfer of the cess was Rs. 2,50,933, and in the last two years has been Rs. 5,84,565, representing an increase of 3½ lakhs a year. During the year under review all but three Boards spent on water-supply at least double the average annual amount spent in the three years ending in 1913. The District Boards of Chittagong and Tippera have increased their expenditure by over 1,000 per cent., the District Board of Bogra by over 900 per cent., the District Boards of Noakhali and Burdwan by over 600 per cent., and the District Board of Rangpur by over 500 per cent., while seven other Boards have more than trebled their expenditure. On the other hand, the expenditure of the District Board of Hooghly exceeded the average expenditure for the three years previous to the transfer of the public works cess by less than one per cent.; the District Board of Mymensingh spent less than in any of those three years; and the District Board of Bakarganj spent only Rs. 8,941 in 1915-16 and Rs. 23,187 in 1914-15, as against an annual average of Rs. 59,800 during the former period. Moreover, a considerable increase in expenditure on water-supply does not always imply that it amounts to an adequate proportion of the public works cess. The expenditure, for instance, of the District Board of Midnapore, which has increased by 175 per cent., amounted in the year under review to only 6 per cent. of the receipts from the public works cess, while that of the District Boards of Dinajpur and Jalpaiguri, though it has been respectively doubled and trebled, represents only 9·7 and 10·6 per cent. of their receipts from the public works cess.

Taking the figures for the Province as a whole, 23·3 per cent. of the public works cess was spent on water-supply, during the year under review, and the Governor in Council recognizes that there has been a considerable advance in providing good drinking water in rural areas. Fuller use should however, in his opinion, be made of the large resources now at the disposal of District Boards. It may sometimes be difficult to spend large amounts with advantage because programmes and detailed schemes may not have been prepared and the necessary organization is not ready; but these difficulties should not exist in districts where a water survey has been carried out, and Commissioners of Divisions will be directed to scrutinize the budget estimates carefully and satisfy themselves that adequate provision has been made for expenditure on water-supply.

16. Administration (Rs. 2,70,912).—Expenditure on administration increased by Rs. 21,478 owing to revision of the scale of pay of establishment, periodical increments of salary, grain compensation allowances, and the larger amounts paid as travelling allowance to members of District and Local Boards for attending meetings. No District Board appears to have found it possible to economise when effecting a revision of establishment, and there has consequently been a further increase of recurring charges. The percentage of expenditure on administration to the total expenditure chargeable to current income varied from 1·1 in Chittagong to 3·7 in Jessore, as against a minimum of 1·6 and maximum of 3·6 per cent. last year.

17. Education (Rs. 24,20,129).—The total sum spent on primary schools was Rs. 18,27,750, or double the allotments made for this purpose from Imperial grants. It is not clear from the returns how the balance of educational expenditure, amounting approximately to six lakhs, was distributed. The maintenance of middle schools cost Rs. 88,006, and of training and special schools Rs. 60,100, inspection Rs. 48,000, and scholarships Rs. 40,700; while miscellaneous charges amounted to Rs. 1,35,000. The balance of about two lakhs appears to have been spent largely in grants-in-aid to middle English schools. The Governor in Council considers it necessary to re-affirm the established principle that until full provision has been made for primary education in a district, no part of the district fund should be diverted to the support of education of a higher kind. since this is beyond the needs of the majority of the tax-payers and may well be paid for by those who desire it and can afford it.

The total number of upper and lower primary schools maintained and aided by District Boards was 32,194. Of these 29,377 were aided and 2,817 were maintained by the Boards, 25,706 being boys' schools and 6,488 girls' schools. Middle vernacular schools continue to lose popularity compared with middle English schools. There was sustained progress in the education of Muhammadans except in the Chittagong Division. The District Boards of Burdwan and Midnapore allowed maktabs 50 per cent. in excess of the grants made to ordinary primary schools. A rapid increase is reported from all Divisions in the number of girls attending primary schools aided or maintained by the Boards.

18. Special and Technical Schools.—In the resolution recorded last year it was remarked that the technical schools under the District Boards of Bengal had not been altogether a success. No progress can be detected during the year under review except that a weaving school was established at Pabna and the Burdwan technical school, which seemed hardly likely to survive, obtained affiliation to the Sub-Overseer standard for a further five years. The want of a genuine widespread demand for technical education in the interior of the Presidency is illustrated by the artizan class of the school last mentioned, which attracted only three students each enjoying a scholarship. The results were little better in the artizan class of the Rajshahi industrial school, which has been in existence for several years : there were only eight boys in the class, of whom all but two had scholarships. The latter school, which had proposed to close the Sub-Overseer class, gave it another trial as the number of students was on the increase. The result was that seven out of 11 students were sent up for the examination and only two passed. The Elliott Artizan School under the management of the District Board of Tippera passed eight out of 14 students at the Sub-Overseer examination at the disproportionate cost of Rs. 11,253.

The District Boards are taking advantage of the power recently given them to grant special and technical scholarships outside the district. The District Boards of the Presidency Division alone gave 28 scholarships tenable at a wide range of institutions, such as the Veterinary College at Belgachia, the Engineering College at Sibpur, the School of Art at Calcutta, the Weaving Institute at Serampore, the Blind School and the Deaf and Dumb School at Calcutta. Similar scholarships were granted by other District Boards.

19. Medical (Rs. 8,04,026).—The Governor in Council is pleased to observe that District Boards realize their duties in providing medical relief and that their expenditure on this account increased by over a lakh. mainly in West Bengal. The number of dispensaries maintained by them rose from 160 to 182, while the number aided by them (243) was the same as in the previous year. In this as well as in the preceding year useful work was done in the Rajshahi district by deputing a peripatetic doctor during the fever season to treat the crowds of villagers who attended settlement camps in an area where no medical facilities were available. The experiment proved a success owing to the doctor working under the supervision of an Assistant Settlement Officer and receiving assistance from the Settlement Department. The Governor in Council invites the attention of District Boards in which settlement is in progress to the results of this interesting experiment. In some districts of Eastern Bengal hât or village market dispensaries were maintained, the doctors visiting neighbouring hâts and giving medical aid to the people attending them.

The Birbhum District Board made a special effort to cope with an epidemic of malarial fever with the help of a Government grant of Rs. 25,000, and opened twelve dispensaries, each in charge of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon. An experiment was made with free vaccination in the Sadar subdivision of Bakarganj at the joint expense of Government and the District Board, and over 60,000 persons were vaccinated in five months at a total cost of Rs. 4,324. In the 24-Parganas also the District Board appointed a special staff to carry on free vaccination with satisfactory results. The Bankura District Board employed 24 paid vaccinators to work free of charge among patients suffering from small-pox, which broke out in epidemic form in some areas suffering from scarcity. Supernumerary and temporary doctors were as usual entertained by District Boards to deal with outbreaks of epidemic diseases. Contributions were made to the Pasteur Institute both at Kasauli and Shillong. The District Board of Bakarganj has sensibly decided to transfer its contribution from the Pasteur Institute at Kasauli to that at Shillong, as recourse will naturally be had to the latter institution on its completion.

20. Sanitation (Rs. 1,63,982).—The returns show an increased outlay amounting to Rs. 44,098 on sanitation, but the increase is more apparent than real, as the total includes an additional expenditure of Rs. 30,000 by the Burdwan District Board on water-supply. Expenditure under this head covers a quantity of miscellaneous sanitary work of a minor character, mostly carried out by Local Boards or Union Committees, such as jungle-clearing, cleaning of tanks, filling up of ditches, construction of small drains and sanitary arrangements at melas and fairs. The funds of District Boards, which have to provide for the expanding needs of roads, water-supply, hospitals, veterinary relief, etc., are generally insufficient for large sanitary schemes, while they have no adequate organization for sanitary work of any importance. Even so, it is difficult to understand the apathy of a District Board like that of Jessore, which gave special attention to roads and primary schools, but, in spite of the notorious unhealthiness of the district, almost neglected sanitation.

Not much progress has been made in the appointment of Sanitary Inspectors, and the functions of this officer are still somewhat ill-defined. The majority were engaged in inspecting the sanitary condition of villages and advising on their sanitary improvement. The Chairman of the Burdwan District Board reports that the utility of the Sanitary Inspector is very doubtful, as no one listens to his instructions; and it is to be feared that this criticism holds good of Sanitary Inspectors elsewhere, the District Board not having legal powers, such as are enjoyed by municipalities, to enforce sanitary measures. On the other hand the Sanitary Inspectors are reported to have worked well in the Rajshahi Division. In Jessore useful work was done during epidemics and at melas. In Mymensingh the Inspector visited village markets and bazars, and several prosecutions of vendors of unhealthy and adulterated food resulted. The District Board of Dinajpur employed an Inspector for each of the three subdivisions. In Midnapore two out of four Sanitary Inspectors were solely engaged in the treatment of cholera, while a third was placed in charge of a dispensary and a fourth resigned : no appointments were made in the place of the latter two officers.

21. Veterinary Charges (Rs. 70,401.)—The strengthening of the veterinary staff by several Boards, and the expansion of veterinary work, resulted in an increased expenditure of Rs. 15,335. Several Boards have now worked up to the standard of maintaining one veterinary assistant for each subdivision, and in some districts, for instance Mymensingh and Rangpur, it has been exceeded. A veterinary dispensary was constructed by the Bakarganj District Board at a cost of over Rs. 20,000. In Jessore, though the income from pounds is the second largest in the Presidency Division, the expenditure on veterinary aid was considerably less than in any of the other districts of the Division.

22. Civil Works (Rs. 63,71,107).—The total expenditure under this head, which includes the sums spent on water-supply and drainage, increased by Rs. 3,32,116. Expenditure on buildings hardly varied, but the outlay on communications rose by approximately 3 lakhs viz., "Original works" from Rs. 20,38,005 to Rs. 21,24,577 and "Repairs" from Rs. 23,58,006 to Rs. 25,76,474. The proportion of expenditure on communications in each Division did not differ materially from that of the previous year. There was an increase of Rs. 1,97,508 in expenditure on original works of communication by the District Board of the 24-Parganas. The mileage of metalled, unmetalled and village roads in charge of the District Boards at the end of the year was 1,947, 13,405 and 15,768, respectively, showing an increase of 67, 181 and 702 miles.

The percentage of lapses to allotments, which decreased during the previous year from 19·94 to 13·4, fell during the year under review to 7·6. The rapid reduction of this percentage appears to be the result of the increase of spending capacity on the part of District Boards which has been effected by an adjustment of their working arrangements to the recent increase in their income. The District Boards of Midnapore and Nadia allowed 30 per cent. and 20 per cent., respectively, of their allotments to lapse, and six other Boards had lapses of over 10 per cent. Four Boards spent the whole of their allotments. Expenditure by the District Board of Tippera exceeded allotments by 4·4 per cent. as the result of heavy expenditure on repairs which had been necessitated by damage from floods.

23. Water-supply (Rs. 5,72,551).—The returns show a decrease of Rs. 24,029 under this head, the net result of a decrease of Rs. 50,151 on original works, and an increase of Rs. 26,122 on repairs. On the other hand, Rs. 1,02,052 were spent in Bankura on the construction of tanks and reservoirs (bandhs), which were debited to Famine Relief, while, as stated above, an additional outlay of Rs. 30,000 in water-supply in Burdwan was entered under the head Sanitation. Including these sums, the expenditure on water-supply amounted to 7 lakhs. Excluding the expenditure in Bankura, however, which was incurred out of a special grant given by Government, the total ordinary expenditure must be regarded as having been practically stationary as compared with the previous year. In view of the fact that in September 1915 Government impressed on all District Boards the desirability of spending large sums of money from the Public Works Cess on the excavation of tanks in rural areas, this result must be regarded as disappointing.

There was an increase of expenditure amounting to 1¾ lakh in 1913-14 and 2¼ lakhs in 1914-15, but in this year, in spite of the instructions above referred to, a decrease is recorded in every Division except the Presidency Division, and no district, except Bankura, did much more for water-supply than during the previous year, while several did less. The decrease was Rs. 14,246 in Bakarganj, Rs. 19,221 in Dacca, over Rs. 10,000 in Midnapore, and over Rs. 5,000 in Bogra, Jessore and Howrah. The District Board of Bakarganj was able to begin only two new tanks during the year, and the explanation given of the reduced expenditure, viz., that it was difficult to procure free grants of sites, does not account for a falling off in charges for repairs from Rs. 6,455 to Rs. 333. The difficulties reported elsewhere were in Midnapore and Pabna the failure of local contributions, in Murshidabad the reluctance of proprietors, who are neither willing nor able to re-excavate tanks themselves, to make them over as reserved tanks after re-excavation by the Boards, although proprietary and fishing rights are secured to them. In Noakhali, on the other hand, where the public are ready to make over their tanks to be reserved by the Board, funds are said not to permit of any but selected tanks being taken up each year. The Governor in Council has under consideration the terms of the agreements which should be taken by Boards for the excavation of private tanks. A water survey was completed in Faridpur, and slow progress was made by the District Board of Jessore in completing water-supply registers and maps. The District Board of Mymensingh has in contemplation a scheme for showing the sources and nature of the water-supply in each village by colours and symbols on the 16″ Settlement maps.

24. Drainage (Rs. 42,289).—These charges represent petty drainage works similar to many of the works accounted for under the head of Sanitation. One-third of the total expenditure was incurred by the District Board of Bakarganj on the drainage of the Salta Bil, which was taken up at a total estimated cost of Rs. 41,861.

25. Arboriculture (Rs. 33,658).—Roadside tree-planting is being carried out on a systematic scale by the District Boards of Bankura and Hooghly. The Jessore District Board initiated the experiment of having roadsides planted under a contract system of payment of Rs. 20 for each tree planted and thriving after three years. The District Boards of Dacca and Bakarganj again spent nothing under this head, and the expenditure in several other districts was small. The Governor in Council desires to impress on the District Boards the desirability of making adequate provision for roadside avenues and steadily working up to systematic programmes.

26. Railways.—In the 24-Parganas the construction of the Kalighat-Falta Railway was taken up during the year by Messrs. McLeod and Co. The Barasat-Basirhat Railway Company obtained sanction for a branch line, about 4 miles long, from the Kholapota or Arbelia station to Baduria. Sanction was also obtained by Messrs. McLeod and Co. for the survey of a line from Magrahat to Jainagar and from Jainagar to Kulpi and Khari in the same district. In Jessore the management of the Jessore-Jhenida Railway, which had been working at a loss, was taken over by Messrs. McLeod and Co., and a dispute as to payment by the Board of the guarantee and subsidy to the Railway Company for the previous period has been referred to arbitration. In the Burdwan Division the Burdwan-Katwa Light Railway has been completed and is open for traffic, and the Ahmadpur-Katwa Light Railway and Bankura-Damodar River Light Railway are under construction. In Bakarganj proposals for a railway from Bhola to Lalmohun fell through, mainly because the Board considered it to be too risky to give a guarantee of Rs. 66,000 per annum demanded by Messrs. Martin and Co.

27. Famine Relief (Rs. 2,94,148).—During the year 1915 there was a general scarcity in Bankura, and local scarcity in parts of Mymensingh and Tippera. Expenditure on famine relief by the District Board of Bankura amounted to Rs. 2,58,885, of which Rs. 67,851 was on account of gratuitous relief and Rs. 1,90,231 on account of test and relief works. Test works were opened in this district at the end of August 1915 and village doles were distributed by the end of October. The operations were continued through the agency of the District Board till the end of the financial year. A large number of bandhs or reservoirs have been constructed, which will irrigate a large tract and will, it is hoped, prove effectual in preventing the recurrence of famine conditions.

28. Closing Balances (Rs. 33,49,532).—The actual closing balance decreased by over 9 lakhs, viz., from Rs. 31,17,843 to Rs. 21,88,169. The District Board of the 24-Parganas still retains the largest closing balance (Rs. 2,85,000), after deducting 2 lakhs which represent Government grants given for a drainage project which it has not yet been possible to institute. Something however has been done by the Board to reduce its balance, while the District Boards of Burdwan, Midnapore and Mymensingh have reduced closing balances of over three lakhs to Rs. 2,58,600, Rs. 2,58,900 and Rs. 2,14,200, respectively. There is no other District Board with a closing balance of over one lakh. The large balances still retained by the Boards above mentioned and by others, such as Hooghly, Murshidabad, Chittagong, Dacca, Jalpaiguri and Pabna, are not adequately explained.

29. RESOLUTION—No. 10091For.

READ—

The Annual Progress Report on Forest Administration in the Presidency of Bengal for the year ending 30th June 1916.

MR. C. E. MURIEL was in charge of the Bengal Forest Circle till the 7th January 1916, when he went on combined leave. He was succeeded by Sir Henry Farrington, Bart., who held charge of the circle during the remaining part of the year. Mr. Muriel was on tour for 55 days and Sir Henry Farrington for 141 days. All the divisional offices were inspected during the year.

2. Changes in area and in administration.—There was a small change in the actual areas of the reserved forests under the Forest Department due to the inclusion of 348 acres on account of the Buxa Chiko and Buxa Poro extensions in the Buxa Forest Division. Areas aggregating 258 acres of reserved forests in the Darjeeling, Tista, Kurseong, Jalpaiguri and Buxa Divisions were transferred to the charge of the Public Works Department, the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway and the Eastern Bengal Railway without being disforested.

3. Reservation and demarcation.—The settlement work in connection with the Buxa Hill Reserve was completed during the year, and the area has been declared as reserved forest since the close of the year. The proposed extensions of the Titi and Daina Reserved Forests in Jalpaiguri are still under the consideration of Government.

The Governor in Council notes with satisfaction the progress made in completing the demarcation work in all the forest divisions and desires that this important work should be expedited in the remaining areas of the Chittagong and Chittagong Hill Tracts.

4. Working plans.—No new working-plans were sanctioned during the year, but revised working plans for the Jalpaiguri and Buxa Forest Divisions are being prepared in accordance with the suggestions made by the Inspector-General of Forests during his tour of inspection last year. In accordance with the decision to adopt a policy of artificial regeneration in land cleared for the purpose Government have accepted the proposal of the Conservator of Forests that about 300 acres of experimental sowings of sal and 50 acres of other species should be put out yearly. The deviations from the sanctioned working plans have been sufficiently explained by the Conservator in his report.

5. Communications and buildings.—Eight miles of cart-road, 16 miles of bridle-path and 5 miles of foot-path were constructed during the year. The total expenditure on communications amounted to Rs. 25,500 against Rs. 38,987 in the previous year.

The total expenditure on new buildings and repairs amounted to Rs. 28,949 against Rs. 62,643 in the previous year.

6. Protection.—There was an increase in the total number of forest offences reported during the year, the number being 2,351 against 1,835 in the previous year. This increase and the result that 94 per cent. of the cases disposed of during the year ended in conviction was satisfactory, and showed that greater vigilance was being exercised by the patrols.

The area in which fire protection was attempted during the year comprised 370,498 acres. and the percentage of successful protection was 98·5. The cost per square mile was Rs. 10-8-5 as compared with Rs. 8-15-10 in 1914-15. The increased cost is ascribed to the prolonged drought which necessitated a more expensive fire staff. The area burnt over amounted to 5,468 acres against 6,143 acres in the previous year In 9 out of 22 cases the causes of the fires could not be ascertained.

In the reserved forests the area open to grazing was 663 square miles against 686 in the previous year. There was no change in the area open to grazing in the protected and unclassed forests. The number of cattle impounded during the year was 4,778 against 2,707 in the previous year, and 3,005, the average for the last three years. The chief increase was in the Buxa and Jalpaiguri Divisions and was due to better work done by the subordinate staff and to the continuance of the disc system which rendered detection easier. The most extensive damage resulting from grazing is reported to have occurred in the hills and the river-bed forests of the Duars and Terai. The Governor in Council is glad to notice that this subject is engaging the attention of the Conservator of Forests.

Investigations into the life-history of the root-fungus discovered by the Forest Zoologist are being carried on in the Kurseong, Jalpaiguri and Buxa Forest Divisions. Although the fungus has been found in all parts of the plains sal forest of the Kurseong Division, it has not yet been definitely recognized in any hill forests. The records of these investigations are being maintained. The Forest Botanist and the Imperial Mycologist visited the Buxa forests and the latter identified the fungus as Polyporus Shoreæ a new species. The Imperial Mycologist began a second series of inoculation experiments as the first series had given negative results. Owing to the deputation of the Forest Zoologist to Mesopotamia the results of his investigations into the life-history of the insects affecting sundri are not ready for publication. The Governor in Council is fully alive to the desirability of appointing a whole-time Sylviculturist for this Presidency, but this measure is necessarily deferred on financial grounds. Pending the creation of such an appointment it has been decided to place one of the officers of the department on special deputation on this work in the Sundarbans.

7. Exploitation.—Minor forest produce continued to be disposed of generally under permits at fixed rates. The lease granted to Messrs. Shaw Wallace and Co,, Calcutta, for the collection of nettle fibre from the reserved forests of the Darjeeling district was cancelled during the year, as the Company found it impossible to prepare fibre at a profit. Messrs. Burn and Co. also expressed their inability to start work in connection with the concessions granted to them for the extraction of timber and bamboos from the forests in the Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri districts till after the end of the war. Negotiations will be resumed as soon as Messrs. Burn and Co. are ready to proceed.

A scheme for exploiting cane on a four-year rotation has been drawn up for the Buxa forests, and has been put into operation.

The last season's khedda operations conducted under agreement by Babu Kamala Kanta Bhattacharji in the Tista Division resulted in the capture of 39 elephants. In Chittagong Osi Meah and Ahmed Meah captured, respectively. 10 and 9 elephants.

8. General.—The number of persons reported to have been killed by tigers in the Sundarbans was 60 against 79 in the previous year, and the number of tigers killed during the year was 35.

The scheme mentioned in last year's Resolution for the enlargement of the Kurseong Forest School so as to provide for the training of Rangers in Bengal and Assam is under preparation, but it is not expected to come into operation till after the end of the war.

9. Financial results.—During the year under review the total revenue fell from Rs. 11,99,702 in 1914-15 to Rs. 11,74,795, and the expenditure decreased from Rs. 6,72,004 to Rs. 5,90,843. The surplus amounted to Rs. 5,83,952 against Rs. 5,27,698 in the preceding year. There was a large decrease in the revenue of the Sundarbans Division due to the depression in trade which resulted in less sales. This more than counterbalanced the higher receipts which were obtained in Darjeeling, Kurseong, Jalpaiguri and Buxa Divisions. The total revenue and the surplus during the year correspond almost exactly with the average figures for the five years from 1904-05 to 1908-09, while the surplus is less by 4 lakhs than that of 1913-14 and by 2½ lakhs than that of the quinquennial period 1909-10 to 1913-14: thus the financial effect of the war has been to set back the advance made in the five years before its outbreak.

10. Mr. Muriel held the post of Conservator of Forests for a period of nearly five years beginning in November 1910. The Governor in Council desires to place on record his high appreciation of Mr. Muriel's careful administration of the department. He has read Sir Henry Farrington's report with interest and, in particular, the account of his tours, which shows that he has lost no time in investigating the important problems which are pending. He notices with pleasure the commendatory remarks on the work of other officers contained in Chapter IV of the Report.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Gazette and that a copy, with a copy of the report, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF WARDS', ATTACHED AND TRUST ESTATES IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1915-16.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

LAND REVENUE.

CALCUTTA, THE 18TH DECEMBER 1916.

RESOLUTION—No. 10098.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of Wards', Attached and Trust Estates in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1915-16.

THE period covered by the report has been changed from the revenue year ending on the 30th June to the Bengali year ending on 31st Chait of 1322 (corresponding with 13th April 1916), as it was found that practical advantages would be derived from the adoption of the Bengali year according to which estate accounts are generally kept in Bengal.

2. Number of estates under management.—Four new estates were taken charge of, the number of estates under the management of the Court of Wards at the close of the year being 57.

3. Payment of revenue and cesses.—The total amount of revenue and cesses, due from the estates under management, including arrears, was over 14 lakhs, of which over 13 lakhs or 92·1 per cent. was paid, against 88·0 per cent. in the previous year. The heaviest balances, due from the Tagore estate in the 24-Parganas and the estate of Apurba Kumari Debi in the district of Bakarganj, are attributed to bad collection and want of funds, respectively.

4. Rent and cesses due to superior landlords.—There was a slight increase in the percentage of payment of rent and cesses due to superior landlords, 79·6 per cent. of the amount due being paid against 78·3 in the preceding year. The balance of Rs. 1,28,985 out of a total demand of Rs. 6,32,629 is ascribed to delay in the adjustment of accounts of the superior landlords, their refusal to accept payment of the wards' share of the dues separately from other sharers jointly liable, accumulation of petty dues for a number of years allowed by superior landlords, and disputes regarding title and interest of the superior landlords.

5. Collection of rent and cesses.—The total collections rose to 94·5 per cent. of the current demand, against 84·7 in the previous year. The standard of 100 per cent. was exceeded in the Burdwan, Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions, the highest percentage (114·2) being in the Burdwan Division and the lowest (68·0) in the Chittagong Division. This low percentage is attributed to the low price of jute and to damage to crops by floods in certain areas and, in particular, in the Tippera portion of the Kasimbazar estate, where severe distress prevailed, necessitating the expenditure of Rs. 60,000 by the estate on gratuitous relief and relief-works among its tenants. The outstanding balances due to all estates aggregate nearly 60 lakhs, or 145·8 per cent. on the current demand, against 135·6 per cent. in the preceding year. The balances increased in the Presidency, Dacca and Chittagong Divisions and decreased in the Burdwan and Rajshahi Divisions. They include a large amount of fictitious items which are being gradually written off.

There was an increase of 90 in the number of civil suits and of 2,056 in the number of certificates filed during the year for the recovery of rent and cesses due to wards' estates. Out of 4,292 civil suits for disposal, 3,736 were disposed of, but less than one-sixth of the decretal amount was realised. The Governor in Council regrets to notice this and desires that steps be taken for the speedy recovery of the heavy balance. The number of certificates disposed of was more than half the number for disposal, 54·7 per cent. of the total claim being realised against 54·4 in the previous year.

6. Debts of estates.—The total liabilities of the estates under the control of the Court of Wards during the year amounted to over 86½ lakhs, of which over 3½ lakhs were paid off. Nearly 77 lakhs are still due from eight heavily encumbered estates. The foreclosure suit instituted by the mortgagees of the Tagore estate has been decreed, and the decree is likely to be executed within the current year. The major portion of the debt of nearly 19 lakhs due by the Bhawal estate represents claims of one proprietor on another or on the joint estate, the undisputed claims being a little over 2½ lakhs only. A special officer has been appointed to ascertain the exact liabilities of the estate and of each of the three shares.

7. Cost of management and expenditure on improvements.—The cost of management was 12·6 per cent. of the current demand against 12·4 in the preceding year. The standard of 10 per cent. was exceeded in all the divisions except the Presidency Division. In order to reduce the high cost of management in the Tippera portion of the Kasimbazar estate a revised scheme of mufassal tahsil establishment has been introduced as an experimental measure, and the question of a further reduction of cost is under consideration. The total expenditure on improvements, schools and dispensaries amounted to Rs. 1,89,062, or 1·5 per cent. of the current rent and cess demand. It is satisfactory to note that the Board has issued, in consultation with the Director of Agriculture, revised instructions with a view to more effective co-operation between the Department of Agriculture and the officers of the Court of Wards in carrying out agricultural improvements in wards' estates, and has impressed on the officers that the improvement of agriculture needs attention in embarrassed as well as in solvent estates.

8. Education of Wards.—The education of wards received due attention, and the results were generally satisfactory. In accordance with the scheme for giving minors under the Court of Wards some training in survey and settlement work, one ward and a son of another ward attended the training camp during the field season of 1915-16.

9. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board for its efficient administration of the estates under the Court of Wards. Miss Cornelia Sorabji, the Lady Assistant to the Court of Wards, continued to do useful work in giving the ladies of the zenanas of wards' estates the benefit of her advice on general matters and particularly with regard to the health, comfort and education of these ladies and of minor wards. The good work of the managers commended in the report will be noted.

By order of the Governor in Council.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 30TH JUNE 1916.

READ—

The Report on the Working of Co-operative Societies in Bengal for the year ending the 30th June 1916.

THE report is an interesting record of the steady progress made during the year by the co-operative movement in Bengal. The character of the year was by no means uniformly favourable, considerable damage being caused by floods to the jute and winter rice crops in many of the districts of Eastern Bengal. In Bankura district, where famine prevailed, the co-operative movement has not as yet made any progress : the occasion did not therefore afford an opportunity for testing the ability of co-operation in Bengal to withstand famine conditions. In Tippera district, where there are 3 central banks and 228 agricultural societies, the low price obtained for jute in 1914-15 had brought about a want of ready money among the labouring and cultivating classes, and high floods in June, July and August 1915 destroyed the crops on the ground and, with them, the visible security on which loans might have been raised : the local money-lenders were alarmed, and owing to non-realization of their advances of the previous year, were themselves short of money. These conditions induced widespread distress in an area in which the soil is very fertile and in which there was at no time a shortness of food supplies It is in this district that the Governor in Council looks for evidence of the capacity of the co-operative movement to meet those adverse conditions which form a real test of its strength. It is true that the operations of the societies in the district affected a very limited number of the people concerned, and that the restoration of credit was due in a large measure to the loans issued by Government under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, but the assistance rendered by co-operative societies was in itself substantial and affords clear proof of the benefits which the members of societies derived from the improvement of their credit by combination. At the beginning of the year under review the overdue loans of members of the agricultural societies amounted, on account of the low price of jute in 1914-15, to Rs. 91,000. The central banks were able, however, to raise Rs. 1,37,000 in 1915-16 in loans and deposits from individuals, as compared with Rs. 97,000 so raised in 1914-15, and in spite of the unfavourable conditions prevailing they were ready to give loans to their affiliated societies and to suspend repayments where this was necessary. At the end of the year the loans overdue from members amounted to Rs. 1,03,000. The confidence of the public and the benefit of the members in a time of stress have been demonstrated : whether this confidence was deserved and whether the benefit will be received again in similar conditions depends on the ability of the societies to recover their dues now that better times have come, and the Governor in Council awaits with much interest the results of the current year on which depends the firm establishment of co-operation in this district.

2. During the year the number of societies of all kinds in Bengal rose from 1,992 to 2,243, the number of members from 107,116 to 121,833, and the working capital from Rs. 1,09,51,050 to Rs. 1,24,48,573. These figures show a decrease in the rate of progress as measured by numbers compared with that of the past four years. An agricultural year of somewhat unfavourable character following on the year in which the outbreak of the war had bad effects on the cultivators of jute was not a period in which rapid extension was desirable, and the Registrar was well advised in confining his attention mainly to the improvement of existing societies. With the improved conditions now prevailing the Governor in Council hopes that it will be found possible to devote more attention to the seven districts mentioned in the report in which little progress has yet been made. In Howrah, Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri and Malda there are signs of progress the development of which will be watched with interest. In Bankura the restoration of normal conditions by a bumper crop following on a period of famine affords an opportunity for making a beginning, and the efforts of the Weavers' Relief Committee in that district have given an example of the benefits which result from combined action. The backwardness of Hooghly is peculiar in view of the comparative advance of this district in the development of the panchayati system, and it is hoped that voluntary organizers will be forthcoming. There is no area in the Presidency in which the benefits of co-operation are likely to give better results than in the Chittagong Hill Tracts : the country is backward and the people are improvident in a marked degree : at present adverse agricultural conditions make the time unfavourable for a campaign in co-operation, but the Governor in Council can see no prospect of any lasting improvement in the people of this area except by the development of habits of thrift, and he desires that, as soon as conditions permit, an earnest endeavour shall be made to extend the co-operative movement.

3. The scheme for the inauguration of a provincial bank in this Presidency was again considered during the year in the light of the remarks made by the Committee on Co-operation, but it was decided to keep it in abeyance for the present. Though it is satisfactory to note that the difficulties which were found in financing central banks in the earlier stages of the movement have disappeared, and that the majority of them have no difficulty in raising sufficient capital locally, the need for a provincial bank remains, and the subject will be taken up again when financial conditions improve.

4. Two new central banks were established during the year, but as one of the old ones was excluded from the category, the net addition to this class was only one, the total number being now 39. The working capital of these banks rose from Rs. 40,88,000 to Rs. 46,00,000, the deposits from Rs. 33,69.000 to Rs. 37,61,000, and the reserve funds from Rs. 75,072 to Rs. 1,11,901. During the year under review the percentage of collections on loans outstanding at the end of the year plus loans given out during the year was 15·33 compared with 6·62 in the previous year, and the amount of interest collected was Rs. 4,27,331 against Rs. 2,63,777 of the previous year. The collections show a decided improvement and are satisfactory in view of the abnormal conditions of the year. The resources of the central banks have been sufficient and their dealings during the year have been satisfactory, though they are reported to have erred sometimes on the side of over-caution. The proportion of the paid-up share capital and reserve fund to the total liabilities of the central banks has increased from 13 per cent. in 1914-15 to 19 per cent. in 1915-16 : in this respect there has been an improvement in the position of the Pabna Central Bank, whose proportion has risen from 4·7 to 9·2 per cent.

5. The net addition to agricultural societies during the year was 210, and the combined working capital of these societies rose from Rs. 52,74,969 to Rs. 56,93,521, and the deposits by members increased by Rs. 16,000. The amount of loans issued to members was Rs. 16,86,000 as against Rs. 15,73,000 in the previous year, and Rs. 14,11,991 was recovered as against Rs. 7,73,900. The percentage of overdue loan at the end of the year was 26 as against 28 per cent. at the end of the previous year. The amount of overdue loans is still excessive, but there has been an appreciable improvement, and the good harvests which are now being reaped should result in a substantial reduction of this percentage. The Registrar reports that an advance has been made in the education of the people in the principles of true co-operation and in the removal of defects. He has still to fight hard against defects which are difficult to eradicate, such as the tendency on the part of the members of committees to appropriate the bulk of the loans. The Governor in Council trusts that the Registrar will not relax his efforts to remove these evils. The account of the Khelar Irrigation Society in Midnapore district is of much interest in the possibilities which it suggests of combined action by cultivators for the irrigation and the drainage of their fields : the problems involved are frequently such as admit of no solution except by co-operation of an advanced type, and the Governor in Council will watch with keen interest the progress of this society and of others which attempt to perform similar functions.

6. The number of non-agricultural societies increased from 91 to 125, the notable advance being in the societies of weavers which rose from 5 to 17. The members of weaving societies being generally illiterate have difficulty in selling their produce in the best markets, and arrangements for sales are receiving the attention of the department. The Dacca Co-operative Dairy Society was originally a production society ; it now collects milk from the owners of cattle and distributes it, and though its position as a dairy society has not yet been fully established, it is doing better than it did in its original form. The Lakhikole Sugar Manufacturing Society made a profit of Rs. 1,000. The Fishermen's Societies are still in the experimental stage : one of the principal objects in view is the lease of fisheries to societies of fishermen instead of to middlemen, and when this has been arranged the societies are confronted with the difficulty of disposing of the catch otherwise than through the middleman who used to absorb all the profits.

7. The report mentions several instances in which the Co-operative Department has assisted the Department of Agriculture. In Dacca, Mymensingh and Kalimpong co-operative societies supplied their members with improved seed and manure : the Department of Agriculture looks to that of co-operative societies for assistance in a scheme for the distribution and reproduction of indrasail paddy seed on a large scale, and the Governor in Council attaches much importance to the development of this scheme.

8. No suit has yet been brought by a central society against any of its affiliated societies, but agricultural and non-agricultural societies brought several suits during the year. The Registrar reports that decrees are obtained easily, but owing to the legal uncertainty about the transferability of holdings execution of decrees is difficult. The Registrar complains of the difficulties of liquidation in the absence of special legislation for the enforcement of the liquidator's orders : the Governor in Council has not, however, yet been convinced that the application of the certificate procedure is required.

9. The accounts of almost all the societies were audited during the year. The staff maintained by central banks for inspection and supervision in accordance with the recommendation of the Committee on Co-operation is reported to be adequate. The Governor in Council is aware that with the steady advance of the Co-operative Department it has become difficult for the Registrar to cope with the work of supervision and audit without the aid of additional staff, and that expansion will not be practicable without more supervision. The number of inspectors has been increased from 10 to 17, but it has been decided to be necessary to give further relief to the supervising staff by the appointment of auditors to be paid by contributions from societies : the details of the scheme are under consideration.

10. The Governor in Council acknowledges with thanks the assistance rendered by officials and non-officials to whose efforts the steady progress of the co-operative movement in Bengal is greatly due. He also has much pleasure in again recording his appreciation of the efficient administration of the department by Rai Jamini Mohan Mitra Bahadur.

By order of the Governor in Council,

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Report of the Bhadoi Crops of Bengal, 1916-17.

Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under autumn rice in Bengal represents some 6·6 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.

Character of the season.—In the early part of the season the rainfall was insufficient for ploughing and for the preparation of fields for the autumn crops. Sowings therefore progressed slowly until the second week of April when general rain improved the situation. This, however, was followed by dry whether in May, the early sown crops suffering much in consequence. The rainfall in the month of June enabled further sowings to be made in the Western districts and greatly improved the standing crops in the Eastern Bengal districts. The heavy rain in July in the Northern districts did considerably damage to the crops especially on the lower-lying lands. In the Eastern districts, however. the rainfall was not heavy, but the sudden rise of the rivers caused some damage in some places. Good rainfall in August considerably improved the standing crops. A cyclonic storm with heavy rain in the third week of September caused considerable damage in some localities in the Western districts. Bankura, however, luckily escaped, and there a good crop has been harvested. On the whole, the season may be regarded as having been "fair" only.

Acreage.—The total area sown this year with the different bhadoi crops is reported to be 5,878,800 acres against 6,375,900 acres in the corresponding forecast of last last year. Of this, the area under autumn rice is reported to be 5,048,200 acres against 5,435,700 last year. The decrease in area since the preliminary forecast is due mainly to the revision of the Noakhali figures on the basis of the settlement records.

Outturn.—From Appendix I attached to the report it will be seen that only Bankura reports a bumper crop, i.e., 121 per cent. Rangpur reports about a normal crop, i e., 99 per cent. Khulna, Burdwan, Birbhum, Dinajpur, Darjeeling, Bogra, Faridpur, Chittagong and Noakhali report a crop from 81 to 91 per cent. Twelve districts report from 63 to 77 per cent., while four districts (namely, Nadia, Murshidabad, Howrah and Malda) report from 50 to 58 per cent. The decrease in percentage outturns as compared with the normal may be attributed to drought in the early part of the season and to the effects of the cyclone and floods later on.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the outturn of the different bhadoi crops for the province as a whole works out at 74 per cent. of the normal against 82 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Taking 74 per cent. as the outturn of autumn (aus) rice for this year, the gross outturn for the province, on the basis of a normal yield of 10 maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 27,445,700 cwts. against 33,146.700 cwts. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

District.	Names of crops.	Estimated normal area under each crop.	Estimated area under each crop.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area. 		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-PARGANAS	Bhadoi paddy (autumn rice).	73,400	66,600	59,000	100	75	Middle of September, normal.	The increase in area as compared with the preliminary forecast in the case of bhadoi paddy was due to the fact that 600 acres were sown with the crop in the Barrackpore subdivision after the submission of the preliminary forecast, while the decrease in the case of pulses was due to revision of the area given in that forecast. The weather was not favourable. The cyclones in the last week of September damaged the crops to a certain extent. The outturn is below the normal owing to deficiency of rain during the period of growth and to the damage when the crops were ripe.

Since publication of the preliminary forecast, about 15 per cent. of the crops was damaged by storm as well as by flood of the river Damodar. DACCA	Bhadoi paddy (autumn rice)	238,700	270,500	283,600	59	68	Middle of August, normal.	The decrease in area as compared with the preliminary forecast is due to certain areas being abandoned or wholly damaged by drought. Insufficient rainfall greatly hampered the growth of the crops in their early stages, and high flood and stormy weather towards the end damaged the crops. About three-fourths of the crops on low land in Manikganj subdivision were washed away by the sudden rise of water.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

SECOND FORECAST OF THE WINTER RICE CROP OF BENGAL, 1916-17.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under winter rice in Bengal represents some 19·6 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—In the months of February and March the rainfall was inadequate for the preparation of the land for this crop. The rainfall in April, however, was sufficient and facilitated the sowings of the broadcast paddy. In May the rainfall was defective and consequently the broadcasted variety suffered to some extent. In June, general rain fell throughout the Province and transplanting commenced at the usual time. The progress of field operations, however, was retarded in some of the western districts by insufficiency of rain in July, while on the other hand, excessive rainfall and floods in the northern districts caused some damage to the crop on low lands. The rainfall in August greatly improved the condition of the crop. The cyclonic storm in September and the heavy rainfall thereafter in the western districts, and the sudden rise in the rivers of the eastern districts during the same period, have greatly reduced the outturn of the crop on low lands. On high lands, however, a bumper crop is expected. On the whole the season has been favourable.

Acreage.—According to the estimates furnished by the District Officers, the total acreage for the Province is 15,668,400 acres against 15,105,000 and 15,105,100 acres reported respectively in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year. The increase in area is chiefly due to comparatively favourable weather during the transplanting period.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended, it will be seen that Bankura alone reports a bumper crop, viz., 133 per cent. Five districts (viz., Malda, Birbhum, Bogra, Jalpaiguri and Dinajpur) report more than a normal crop, six districts report a normal crop and thirteen districts a crop from 80 to 95 per cent. The remaining two districts, viz., Hooghly and the Chittagong Hill Tracts, report crops as low as 51 and 35 per cent. respectively.

According to the above estimates the provincial outturn works out to 94 per cent. as compared with 96 and 97 per cent. respectively reported in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Taking 12 maunds as the normal yield of clean grain per acre, the gross outturn for the Province is estimated at 129,849,500 cwts. against 127,843,800 and 129,176,300 cwts. reported in the corresponding and final forecasts respectively of last year.

24-Parganas ...	899,700	789,300	830,700	117	103	Middle of November ...	The increase in area as compared with that of the preliminary forecast is due to the fact that transplantation continued in the Barrackpore subdivision after the submission of that forecast. The weather has been favourable on the whole. Slight damage has been done to the crop in the Basirhat subdivision by insect-pests, and in the Barrackpore and Diamond Harbour subdivisions by excessive rainfall during October and November.
Nadia	136,800	123,900	117,400	67	93	Not yet begun ...	The decrease in area as compared with last year is attributed to unfavourable weather at sowing time. Subsequently weather conditions improved; but the cyclonic storm in September and heavy rain thereafter caused some damage.
Murshidabad ...	345,600	322,800	306,500	75	83	Ditto	The decrease in area as compared with last year is due to insufficient rainfall at sowing time. The increase in area as compared with the first forecast is due to the fact that more lands in the Kandi subdivision were transplanted owing to good rainfall after its submission. The weather has been favourable. Want of rain in the early part of the season retarded the growth of the crop; but subsequent rain has improved the condition. Unfavourable weather condition at the beginning of the season and untimely rains and storms in September have caused the outturn to fall below the normal.
Jessore	568,100	483,900	455,500	92	92	November. Normal ...	Since the submission of the first forecast the weather was favourable except in the latter part of September when cyclone and flood caused some damage to the crop.
Khulna	745,300	749,300	747,600	123	92	Beginning of November. Normal.	The decrease in area this year is due to deficient rainfall at sowing time. The weather has been somewhat unfavourable.
Burdwan	874,800	520,000	580,000	67	83	Not yet commenced ...	The increase in area as compared with the estimate in the first forecast is due to the fact that some lands were transplanted after its submission. Some damage was done to the crop by heavy rainfall and floods in parts of the lowlying areas of the Sadar, Katwa and Asansole subdivisions. The heavy rain accompanied by high winds in November also caused some damage to the standing crops in the Sadar and Asansole subdivisions.
Birbhum	604,600	573,000	595,000	83	108	Beginning of December 1916. Not yet commenced. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to favourable rainfall. The rainfall in November accompanied by high winds has laid to the ground the paddy plants over large areas and thus partially damaged the crop. The outturn is expected to be above the normal except in the areas affected by the floods, where the crops have been either wholly or partially destroyed.
Bankura ...	510 600	171,000	510,600	42	133	Not yet commenced ...	The increase in area and outturn as compared with that of last year is due to timely rainfall and favourable weather throughout the period of growth of the crop.
Midnapore ...	1,579,400	1,556,000	1,640,060	100	80	Ditto ...	The weather was at first favourable; but heavy rain at the end of September caused floods in the Ghatal subdivision, completely destroying the rice crop on some 20 square miles and partially damaging it on a larger area. Subsequent heavy rain in October over practically the whole district and the storm of the 10th November, the centre of which apparently was over Midnapore, did a great deal of damage by breaking down and twisting the rice stalks so that the ears are in danger of rotting in the standing water. It is difficult to estimate at present the damage done by the storm. If the weather continues to be favourable, the crop may recover.
Hooghly ...	276,700	227,900	200,900	82	51	November. Date is normal.	About 34 per cent. of the crop has been damaged by heavy flood in the Arambagh subdivision. The crop also suffered owing to want of rain at the period of growth. Hence the outturn is much below the normal.
Howrah	125,200	111,700	112,100	108	90	Not commenced ...	The increase in area as compared with that of the first forecast is due to further transplantation. The weather has not been very favourable. The decrease in outturn is due to flood, cyclone, as well as untimely rainfall in October.
Rajshahi	697,000	565,900	566,300	90	80	Not yet commenced. Will commence from first week of December.	The weather has not been favourable. Some damage has been done to the crop by drought and flood.

Dinajpur	1,120,800	1,034,900	1,060,800	105	107	Harvesting not yet commenced.	The increase in area as compared with that of the first forecast is due to favourable weather and further transplantations. The outturn is expected to exceed the normal, though slight damage was done to the crops on low lands.
Jalpaiguri	551,800	516,400	502,000	102	103	Not yet commenced ...	Since the submission of the first forecast more land has been transplanted. The weather has been favourable.
Darjeeling ...	65,200	38,200	38,200	92	100	October. Normal ...	The weather has been favourable to the growth of the crop. The outturn is expected to be normal.
Rangpur	832,300	800,100	800,000	104	100	Middle of November. Normal.	Since the submission of the preliminary forecast more lands were transplanted with this crop. The weather has been favourable.
Bogra	303,000	303,000	303,000	105	105	Harvesting not yet commenced.	The weather was favourable except in the month of October, when there was rain with high winds which has caused some damage; nevertheless the outturn is expected to be above normal on the whole. Slight damage was caused to broadcast paddy by flood in some of the thanas.
Pabna	566,000	500,000	500,000	100	85	Harvesting commenced. Normal.	Want of rain for three months after sowing and the sudden rise of the river in July have greatly damaged the crop. The rain in September and October has somewhat improved prospects.
Malda	300,000	300 000	316,000	100	115	Not commenced yet. It will be commenced by the end of this month and this date is normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the first forecast is due to further transplantations. The weather has been favourable. Excessive rain in October caused some slight damage.
Dacca	633,100	592,600	623,600	78	95	2nd week of November. Normal.	The weather proved favourable to transplanted variety, but some damage was done to the broadcasted paddy by flood after the submission of the first forecast. Hence the outturn is expected to fall somewhat below the normal.
Mymensingh ...	1,126,700	972,700	969,700	90	92	Not yet commenced ...	The decrease in areas as compared with that of last year is due to increase in area under jute. The weather has been generally favourable. The sudden rise of water in the Jamna has caused some damage to the crop.
Faridpur	770,100	768,100	769,000	100	100	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather has been favourable for the growth of the crop. Slight damage has been caused by the rise of water.
Bakarganj ...	1,200,000	1,210,000	1,250,000	120	90	Not yet commenced ...	The increase in area is due to favourable weather. Flood in the latter part of September caused some damage to the crops in the low lands. Some damage was also done by insect pests.
Chittagong ...	418,400	416,100	426,100	100	100	End of November ...	The weather has been favourable to the growth of the crop. There was some damage in places by floods which may be made good by a bumper crop elsewhere.
Tippera ...	724,800	783,000	708,000	80	90	Middle of November ...	The increase in area sown this year is due to decreased cultivation of jute on account of an unstable market. The weather has been favourable. But the breaches in the river Gumti and the flood of Sylhet in the north partly destroyed and retarded the growth of the transplanted paddy. Hence the outturn is expected to be below normal.
Noakhali	610,000	637,000	600,000	100	100	November. Normal ...	The estimated normal area as well as this year's area have been revised according to the figures recorded in the district settlement records. Fifty square miles in the Feni subdivision were destroyed by floods. But the crops elsewhere are above normal.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	47,800	48,000	41,800	60	35	Not yet commenced ...	The weather has been very unfavourable. The crop has been greatly damaged in Chakma and Mong circles by heavy flood in September. Hence the outturn is expected to fall much below the normal.

No. 123Marine.—The following draft of rules which the Governor in Council, in exercise of the power conferred by section 29 of the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884 (VI of 1884), read with sections 22 and 29A of that Act, proposes to make for regulating the grant of Certificates of Competency to Masters and Serangs of Inland Steam-vessels, in supersession of the previous rules on the subject published under the Government of Bengal, Marine Department, Notification No. 63Mne., dated the 16th July 1907, as amended by Notification No. 111Mne., dated the 25th August 1914, and under the late Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam Notification No. 137Mne., dated the 27th June 1908, is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft rules will be taken into consideration on or after the 20th January 1917 and any objection or suggestion regarding them received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

DRAFT RULES.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose arrangement will be made for holding examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta.

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will be held by the Port Officer, who is hereby appointed under section 22 of the Act, to hold such examinations, and one or more other examiners as the Government may from time to time appoint. They will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate form (Exn. 2*b*), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The form properly filled in, together with the candidates' testimonials and discharges must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

4. Testimonials of character and of sobriety, experience, ability and good conduct on boardship for at least the last twelve months' service preceding the date of application to be examined will be required from all applicants. Applicants who have not served on boardship within the last twelve months will be required to produce, in addition to the preceding testimonials, certificates of a like nature from their employers, or, if unemployed, from some respectable house-holder. No candidate will be allowed to be examined unless he has served on boardship at sea or on inland waters two years within the last six years, and six months within the last three years preceding the date of his application to be examined.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

5. The testimonials of service of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the Country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

6. Testimonials of service of candidates must ordinarily be based on their employers' office-records.

Services claimed which cannot be verified from the employer's office-records must be authenticated by affidavits of men under whom such services have been performed as well as by an affidavit of the candidate himself.

Testimonials of service from European commanders will be accepted.

Certificates as to age.

7. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

8. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

Foreigners to know English.

In the case of natives of India who may not be able to speak English their certificates shall be endorsed to the effect that they are valid only for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

Sight and Colour Tests.

9. Any persons, including the holders of Certificates of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in colours only, must make application to the Port Officer in Form Exn. 2a, and pay a fee of one rupee.

10. No candidate will be examined in colours until he has passed the sight tests.

This rule must be observed whether the candidate has or has not on any previous occasion passed the sight tests.

11. Candidates who fail to pass the sight test can be re-examined at intervals of three months.

12. If a candidate fails in colours, it will be open to him to be examined again on three occasions only at intervals of three months. A fresh fee must be paid on each occasion.

13. A candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and, who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade is unable to pass the colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the examination for the certificate of the higher grade.

14. Should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher grade certificate which may be granted to him, viz.—"This officer has failed to pass the examination in colours."

15. Should he ultimately fail to pass the examination, a like statement, relating to his being colour-blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing certificate before it is returned to him.

16. Holders of certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Local Government.

General Letter No. 12.

TO

THE DISTRICT JUDGE OF

Calcutta, the 7th December 1916.

SIR,

HIGH COURT.
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.
Civil.

I AM directed to forward herewith, for information and guidance, the accompanying copy of a letter No. 4241-Com., dated the 10th November 1916, from the Government of Bengal, and of its enclosure, being a copy of the Notification of the Government of India, in the Commerce and Industry Department, No. 6806-W.-II, dated the 5th August 1916, directing the winding up of the businesses carried on in British India by the hostile firms mentioned therein, and the transfer of all proceedings in the winding up of the said businesses to the Government of Bengal.

2. In doing so, I am to request that you will be so good as to invite the special attention of the Courts subordinate to you to the matters set out in the letter of the Government of Bengal.

3. I am at the same time to point out that by a subsequent Notification of the Government of India, in the Commerce and Industry Department, No. 11063-W.-II, dated the 11th November 1916, the entry "27. The Beechwood Estate Company, Limited" has been deleted from the schedule appended to the Notification referred to in paragraph 1 above.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

H. M. VEITCH,
Registrar.

No. 4241-Com., dated Calcutta, the 10th November 1916.

From—THE HON'BLE MR. J. DONALD, M.A., I.C.S., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department, Commerce,

To—The Registrar, High Court, Appellate Side.

I AM directed to invite the attention of the Hon'ble the High Court to the provisions of the Enemy Trading (Winding Up) Order, 1916, published under the Government of India, Commerce and Industry Department Notification No. 6200-W.-II, dated the 22nd July 1916. By this order the provisions of certain sections of the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (VII of 1913), relating to the winding up of a Company by the Court have been made applicable to the winding up of hostile firms under section 5 of the Enemy Trading Ordinance, 1916 (now Act X of 1916). It is also provided by section 5 of the Enemy Trading Ordinance, 1916, that for the purposes of any winding up order under the Ordinance, all powers exercisable by the Court under the Indian Companies Act shall be exercisable by the Governor General in Council or by such authority as he may appoint either generally or specially in that behalf.

2. The Government of India in their Commerce and Industry Department Notification No. 6806-W.-II, dated the 5th August 1916, a copy of which is enclosed, have issued a winding up order under section 4 of the Enemy Trading Ordinance in respect of certain hostile firms, and transferred all proceedings connected with the winding up of their businesses to this Government under rule 4 of the Enemy Trading (Winding Up) Order. The powers of the Court referred to in section 5 of the Ordinance are now exercisable by this Government. The Governor in Council desires to bring these facts to the notice of the Hon'ble the High Court, with particular reference to section 171 of the Indian Companies Act, under which no suits or other legal proceedings can be commenced or proceeded with except by the leave of the Court against a Company in respect of which a winding up order has been made. Several suits are pending in the Civil Courts against certain of the firms referred to, and the Governor in Council fears that the provisions of this section as affected by the orders above quoted may possibly be overlooked by the subordinate Civil Courts in this Presidency. I am accordingly to request that, with the permission of the Hon'ble Judges, their attention may be invited to them.

NOTIFICATION.

The 5th August 1916.

LEAVE.

Long Leave.

1. Furlough and special leave with allowances (see paragraph 5) are admissible to an aggregate maximum amount of six years during an officer's service. The amount of furlough "earned" is one-fourth of an officer's active service, and the amount "due" is that amount less any enjoyed.

2. Furlough without medical certificate can, if due, be generally taken after eight years' active service, and again after intervals of not less than three years' continuous service. It is limited to two years at a time.

3. Furlough on medical certificate may be granted (a) to an officer who has rendered three years' continuous service, for not more than two years, but capable of extension up to three years; and (b) to an officer who has not rendered three years' continuous service, up to one year in any case, and up to such longer period, if any (but not exceeding two years in all), as the officer may have furlough "due" to him.

* The officer holding this appointment draws in addition to the pay of his grade a minimum local allowance of Rs. 200 a month.

† These appointments are allotted to the various provinces as follows:—Burma, 66; Madras, 32; Bombay, 28; Central Provinces, 24; United Provinces, 31; Punjab, 12; Bengal, 11; Assam, 18; and Bihar and Orissa, 8; Andamans, 1; and 4 Imperial Instructors and 2 Assistants at Dehra Dun.

‡ Until he has passed the prescribed Departmental examinations, an Assistant Conservator is liable to stoppage of increments of pay. On passing the examinations he will resume drawing pay under the time-scale at the rate to which his length of service entitles him.

§ Of these officers, the President, Forest Research Institute and College, draws a local allowance of Rs. 200 a month in addition to his grade pay; nine of the remainder draw a local allowance of Rs. 150 a month, and two a local allowance of Rs. 100 a month, in addition to their grade pay. Of these 12 appointments, the four posts of Imperial Instructors have been sanctioned for five years from 1912, for the present.

NOTE.—Under the improved scale of salary shown above, no Exchange Compensation Allowance is granted.

4. The allowances admissible during furlough are :—

(1) During the first two years of furlough without medical certificate and during so much of furlough with medical certificate as may be "due"—half average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.

(2) After the expiration of the period for which the foregoing allowances are admissible—one quarter of average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.

5. Special Leave may be granted at any time for not more than six months, with intervals of six years' service ; allowances, calculated as during furlough, are given during the first six months only, whether taken in one or more instalments.

Short Leave.

6. Privilege Leave is a holiday which may be granted to the extent of one-eleventh part of the time that an officer has been on duty without interruption ; and it may be accumulated up to three months, earned by 33 months' duty. During privilege leave, the officer retains a lien on his appointment, and receives the salary which he would have received if on duty. An interval of not less than six months must elapse between two periods of absence on privilege leave.

Privilege leave may be prefixed to furlough, special leave, or extraordinary leave without allowances. The whole period of leave thus taken in combination is known as combined leave. Combined leave may not be granted for a period of less duration than six months, nor, except on medical certificate, may it be extended beyond two years.

7. Subsidiary Leave in India for a minimum of 10 days, usually with half average salary, is granted to an officer proceeding on or returning from leave out of India, or on retirement, to enable him to reach the port of embarkation or to rejoin his appointment. It is admissible only at the end and not at the beginning of combined leave.

8. Short Leave is also granted to enable officers to appear at examinations, &c.

9. Extraordinary Leave without allowances may be granted in case of necessity, and, except in certain specified cases, only when no other kind of leave is by rule admissible. It may be granted in continuation of other leave.

General Rules.

10. Leave of absence can never be claimed as of right, and is given or refused at the discretion of Government.

11. When leave allowances other than privilege leave pay are paid at the Home Treasury, or in a Colony where the standard of currency is gold, rupees are converted into sterling at the rate of exchange fixed for the time being for the adjustment of financial transactions between the Imperial and Indian Treasuries, unless any other rate has been exceptionally authorised. But for the present the rate of conversion is subject to a minimum of 1*s*. 6*d*. to the rupee. Privilege leave pay when issued from the Home Treasury (this is only admissible when privilege leave is combined with other leave) is converted at 1*s*. 4*d*. to the rupee.

(b) Compound interest on such payments is annually credited by Government to each officer subscribing, the rate being at present 4 per cent. per annum.

APPENDIX VII.

GENERAL PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS.

[Note.—These Regulations are published for the convenience of candidates and in order to enable them to ascertain the probability of their coming up to the required physical standard. But it must be clearly understood that the Secretary of State reserves to himself an absolute discretion to reject as unfit any candidate whom he may consider, after hearing the opinion of his medical advisers, to be physically disqualified for the public service ; and that his discretion is in no respect limited by these Regulations.]

1. A candidate must be in good mental and bodily health, and free from any physical defect likely to interfere with efficient performance of duty.

2. In the examination of candidates the Medical Board will apply the following table of correlation of age, height, and chest girth :—

Age.	Height without shoes.	Chest.
		Girth when expanded.	Range of expansion.
	Inches.	Inches.	Inches.
19 to 20	62½ and under 65	35	2
	68 " 70	35½	2
	70 " 72	36	2
	72 and upwards	36½	2½
21 and upwards ...	62½ and under 65	35	2
	65 " 68	35½	2
	68 " 70	36	2
	72 and upwards	37	2½

3. Measurement of Height.—The candidate will be placed against the standard with his feet together, and the weight thrown on the heels, and not on the toes or outside of the feet. He will stand erect without rigidity, and with the heels, calves, buttocks, and shoulders touching the standard; the chin will be depressed to bring the vertex of the head level under the horizontal bar, and the height will be noted in parts of an inch to eighths. No fixed limit of height is imposed.

4. Measurement of Chest.—The candidate will be made to stand erect with his feet together, and to raise his hands above his head The tape will be carefully adjusted round the chest, the posterior upper edge touching the inferior angles of the shoulder blades, and its anterior lower edge the upper part of the nipples. The arms will then be lowered to hang loosely by the side, and care will be taken that the shoulders are not thrown upwards or backwards so as to displace the tape. The candidate will then be directed to empty his chest of air as much as possible. This is best done by continuous whistling with the lips as long as sound can be produced. The tape is carefully gathered in during the process, and when the minimum measurement is reached it is recorded. The candidate will then be directed to inflate his chest to its utmost capacity. This maximum measurement will likewise be noted. The girth with the chest fully expanded and the range of expansion between the minimum and the maximum will then be recorded.

5. The hearing must be good.

6. The speech without impediment.

7. The teeth in good order, i.e., decayed or broken teeth must be properly stopped or crowned, and deficient teeth replaced by artificial teeth where necessary for effective mastication.

8. The chest must be well formed, the lungs and heart sound.

9. Rupture, hydrocele, varicocele, varicose veins in a severe degree, or other condition likely to cause inefficiency will disqualify a candidate, unless such condition is cured by operation.

10. The limbs, feet, and toes must be well formed and developed, with free and perfect motion of all the joints.

11. A candidate must have no congenital malformation or defect likely to interfere with efficiency.

12. A candidate must not be the subject of chronic skin disease.

13. Evidence of previous acute or chronic disease pointing to an impaired constitution will disqualify.

14. Candidates may, if they wish it, undergo a preliminary examination as to their physical fitness by the Medical Board, which meets at the India Office every Tuesday, under the following conditions:—

(a) Applications must be addressed to the Under Secretary of State, India Office, Whitehall, London, accompanied by a fee of two guineas.

(c) It must be understood that the opinion of the Medical Board, which will be communicated by the Board to the candidate at the end of the examination, is solely for the candidate's own information and is not an official finding. The Board if they consider a condidate unfit, will exercise their discretion as to informing him of the particular grounds on which their opinion is based. No further information can in any case be given as to the Medical Board's opinion which will be confined solely to the physical fitness of the candidate; and any question as to the eligibility of the candidate, if found physically fit, to be admitted to the particular Indian service which he desires to enter, should be addressed in writing to the Under Secretary of State.

(d) Candidates considered to be unfit by the Medical Board at this preliminary examination are not bound to accept its opinion, but may, at their own risk, continue their studies, with the knowledge that they will have to submit themselves for a final medical examination by the Medical Board prior to their appointment.

(e) As the preliminary examination by the Medical Board is held solely for the candidate's information, a candidate who is informed after such an examination that he is physically fit will have on that account no claim to be accepted as physically fit when he presents himself for the final medical examination, upon which alone his acceptance or rejection will depend. Candidates may be considered fit for the Service at the preliminary examination, but may be found at the final examination to be unfit, either on account of some physical defect which did not exist or passed undetected at the preliminary examination, or for other reasons.

3. Government reserves to itself the right to alter the quantity of opium to be offered for sale in each month. No reduction in the quantities to be sold, however, will be made without three months' previous notice.

4. The following are the conditions of sale. Government reserves to itself the right of altering all or any of these conditions after giving three months' previous notice, and power is reserved to vary the upset price referred to in condition (ii) at any time without such previous notice :—

(i) The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

(ii) The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 2,500 per chest of uncertified opium and will be sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause (xiii) of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

(iii) The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of Government, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Government may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

(iv) Each lot shall contain five chests, excepting the last lot at each sale which will consist of three chests at the sales of January to November and two chests at the sale of December.

(v) A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such promissory notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as Government shall see fit: and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 2,800 per chest, Rs. 600 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 2,800 and upwards, but less than Rs. 3,200 per chest, Rs. 700 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 3,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 3,600 per chest, Rs. 800 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

(vi) The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or, whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

(vii) The promissory notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

(viii) No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause (v) on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted: Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said promissory note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. (v) and No. (vi).

(ix) The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day after the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as Government shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

(x) Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

(xi) No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

(xii) The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

(xiii) With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bona fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 2,500 specified in the second of these conditions.

(xiv) The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of opium not exceeding altogether ten lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said ten.

(xv) In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

5. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal :—

No. 1.—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale.

No. 2.—Report of the examination of such opium.

6. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Ghazipur Factory, and a statement of the average weight of the chests indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal.

7. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Government entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Governor in Council.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

By the Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI :—

Landlords' fees under the Bengal Tenancy Act.

* 1. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state how the money deposited in the Collectorate for landlords' fees under the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (VIII of 1885), is disposed of?

(b) Are the Government aware that money-order commission is realised from the depositors of landlords' fees for the transmission of money to landlords, but that in many cases the money is not so transmitted?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what amount is in deposit under the head of Landlords' fees, and money-order commission, in the several district treasuries, and how it is intended to dispose of the same?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The Hon'ble Member is referred to Rules 24 to 28 of the Rules under the Bengal Tenancy Act which were published with notification No. 11574 L.R., dated December 7th, 1914. By virtue of clauses (3) and (4) of section 189 of the Bengal Act these rules have the force of law.

(b) Yes. Sections 12, 13 and 15 of the Bengal Tenancy Act require the deposit of money-order commission in all cases falling within the scope of those sections. In cases in which there is more than one landlord and no common agent or manager the money-order commission is not used unless a joint application is made by the several landlords for payment to any individual. Steps have been taken to revise the Rules under the Bengal Tenancy Act, in order to make it clear that when landlords' fees have been forfeited, the money-order commission in deposit will be repaid on application to the depositor or his heirs.

(c) The compilation of the figures asked for would entail an amount of labour which would be out of proportion to their value. The following figures, however, show the extent to which landlords' fees have been paid out to landlords during the past three years :—

	Amount received.	Amount paid out	Percentage paid.
	Rs.	Rs.
1913-14 ...	1,53,653	93,306	60·72
1914-15 ...	1,43,378	1,11,292	77·62
1915-16 ...	1,63,552	1,04,416	63·84

In accordance with Rule 28 of the Rules under the Bengal Tenancy Act, all landlords' fees which cannot be paid out within three years of the service of the prescribed notice become liable to forfeiture and, on being declared to be forfeited, they are at the disposal of Government.

The amount of money-order commission which is held in deposit will remain in deposit until it is used as money-order commission or is returned on the application of the depositor or his heirs after the landlords' fees to which it relates have been forfeited."

By the Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT :—

Separation of Executive and Judicial functions.

* 2. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether any scheme for the separation of the executive and judicial functions has been submitted to the Government of this Presidency or to the public for criticism?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether any experiment has been made in this Presidency towards the separation of executive and judicial functions as outlined by Sir Harvey Adamson in his speech in the Imperial Legislative Council on the 27th March, 1908?

Questions and Answers.

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the result of such experiment?

(d) If the answer to clause (b) be in the negative, will the Government be pleased to state whether the matter is at present under the consideration of the Government and, if so, when is the experiment likely to be tried?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The reply to the Hon'ble Member's questions is in the negative."

By the Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR :—

The Calcutta Improvement Trust.

* 3. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the judgment of the Calcutta High Court in the case of Chunder Kant Ghose vs. The Calcutta Improvement Trust?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of directing or advising the Calcutta Improvement Trust to restore, on the usual terms of restitution, to the Corporation of Calcutta and to private owners all lands outside alignments, which had belonged to them and which have been taken possession of by the said Trust before the said judgment was pronounced

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the introduction in the Legislative Council of any Bill, amending the existing Calcutta Improvement Act, and embodying provisions in connection with road and square schemes for the imposition of a frontage rate for recoupment owing to betterment, like that obtaining in London, Manchester and some states in America, in place of the method of recoupment by acquisition of selected outside lands hitherto adopted by the Calcutta Improvement Trust?

(d) Was there any reason for not embodying such provisions in the Bill which subsequently became Bengal Act V of 1911? If so, what were those reasons?

(e) Are the Government considering the desirability of introducing a Bill amending the existing Calcutta Improvement Act, containing a provision making it obligatory on the acquiring authority to award over and above the market value of the acquired property, the allowance of 15 per cent. on the same as provided for by the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (I of 1894)?

(f) Are the Government aware that the judgment of the Calcutta High Court in the case of Chunder Kant Ghose vs. The Calcutta Improvement Trust has resulted in the diminution of work in the office of the Improvement Trust?

(g) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of directing the Calcutta Improvement Trust Board to reduce its present staff and establishment charges on that account?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(c) & (e) The Government of Bengal are not at present prepared to make an announcement of their intentions.

(d) When legislation for the improvement of Calcutta was first proposed, provision was made for the imposition of a frontage rate, but this was vetoed by the Secretary of State.

(f) & (g) Orders have been issued for the temporary suspension of operations that would conflict with the ruling of Mukherji and Cuming, J.J., in the appeal from original decree No. 416 of 1916 (Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta vs. Chunder Kanta Ghosh). Up to the present no reduction

By the Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR :—

* 4. Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has been decided to proceed at once with the project of constructing and starting a passenger station at Ultadinghi on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the convenience of the public, as indicated in the memorandum of the Government of Bengal (Railway Department) No. 2256 R., of the 3rd December, 1914? Proposed passenger station at Ultadinghi.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" It has been decided to defer consideration of the question of constructing a passenger station at Ultadinghi for the present.

In the meantime, to give a better passenger service to Northern Calcutta, the Railway authorities are considering the question of laying a new line to the north of Chitpur yard with stations at the Belgachia overbridge and the Barrackpore overbridge with a possible extension to Cossipore station."

By the Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR :—

* 5. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Public Works Division, known as the Jessore Drainage Division, ceased to exist after it had completed its investigations and submitted its schemes for the drainage of the Jessore Division and other neighbouring malarious districts of the Presidency Division? Jessore Drainage Division.

(b) Has the result of the labours of the Jessore Drainage Division been examined and approved by the Government?

(c) If so, what are the projects so approved as affecting the Jessore and Nadia districts?

(d) Have the Government passed any orders directing that the recommendation of the Jessore Drainage Division, as regards these two districts, be taken in hand immediately after the termination of the war?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" (a) It would be incorrect to say that the Jessore Drainage Division has ceased to exist after completion of investigations into the drainage conditions of the Jessore and other districts of the Presidency Division. In 1912 the Government of India sanctioned the creation of this Division for a period of two years only. At the expiry of this period this Government reported to the Government of India that they had sanctioned the retention of the Division for a further period of two years for further investigations. The second period of two years ended on the 16th September, 1916, and the Division as a Public Works Division, has been closed with effect from that date in view of the shortage of superior staff of the Public Works Department owing to the absence of several officers on military duty. A temporary subdivision of the Nadia Rivers Division, to be called the Drainage Subdivision, has, however, been sanctioned for a further period of five months to continue certain investigations which are now in hand in the districts of Nadia and Murshidabad and to maintain the records of works hitherto in charge of the Jessore Drainage Division.

(b), (c) & (d) Reports on the investigations carried out in the Jessore district have been submitted to Government, and are under the consideration of Government, but no projects have been finally approved. It will be impossible to pass final orders on these projects until the complete report of the Sanitary Commissioner to the Government of Bengal on the subject of malaria in Bengal has been received."

By the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur :—

Cutting up of Zakariah Street.

*6. (a) Are the Government aware of the circumstances in which Zakariah Street, which joins Chitpur Road to Halliday Street, and which was newly made by the Calcutta Improvement Trust and handed over to the Corporation of Calcutta a few months ago, has been cut up by the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation.

(b) Is it a fact that just before the transfer of the street to the Corporation of Calcutta, the Calcutta Improvement Trust inquired from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation whether they intended cutting up any portion of the new street in the near future and that the reply was that they did not?

(c) Is it a fact that shortly after the transfer the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation cut up the whole street for the purpose of laying down underground cables?

(d) Is it a fact that the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, the Oriental Gas Company and the Bengal Telephone Company, who are empowered by special legislative enactments to cut up public roads for their own purposes, do so without reference to the authority responsible for their maintenance?

(e) Are the Government aware that these bodies seldom restore the roads which they cut up to their original serviceable condition?

(f) Are the Government aware of the general complaint that the Corporation of Calcutta, who are responsible for the good order and condition of the public streets in Calcutta, are hampered by the action of the bodies referred to in clause (d) of this question?

(g) Are the Government considering the desirability of introducing measures for the amendment of the law with a view to give a controlling voice to the authority responsible for the maintenance of the city roads?

Answer by the Hon'ble Mr. Donald :—

"(a) & (c) Zakariah Street was transferred to the Calcutta Corporation by the Improvement Trust on the 16th August, 1916. The Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation wrote to the Corporation on the 8th September and expressed their intention of laying a main in Zakariah Street. A cable has been laid by the Company in the road, the footpath being also opened up for the execution of the work.

(b) The Improvement Trust wrote to the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation on the 17th February, 1913, pointing out that all underground work should be executed before the roads were metalled and calling on the Company to submit plans showing the position of any lines or mains which they proposed to lay down. The Electric Supply Corporation replied on the 27th March, 1914, giving an estimate of the cost of a system of overhead mains for Zakariah Street and other streets within Improvement Scheme No. I. It was understood from the letter of the Company that there would be overhead wires, and that the Company would not require to lay underground cables. It was not, however, clearly stated in the correspondence that underground mains would not be laid. Copies of this correspondence are laid on the table.

(d), (e) & (f) The Hon'ble Member is referred to a reply given to a similar question by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur at a meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 13th December, 1915, a copy of which is laid on the table.

(g) Government are not at present considering the amendment of the law on the subject."

CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT TRUST.
ENGINEER'S DEPARTMENT,
5, CLIVE STREET.
Dated 17th February, 1913.

TO THE CHIEF ENGINEER AND GENERAL MANAGER,
Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited.

DEAR SIR,

Herewith please find two prints showing the area, known as Scheme No. 1, with which the Trust are about to deal.

No. 1 shows the existing arrangement of streets, lanes, etc., and No. 2 shows the area as it will be after treatment; and I should be greatly obliged if you would show on plan No. 1 any existing overhead or underground lines and mains you may have within the area, and on plan No. 2, the position of any lines, or mains, you propose should be laid down to conform to the new arrangement of streets. I am anxious that all underground work should be carried out before the roads are metalled, and in preparing your estimate, which I should be glad if you will submit along with the plans, you might allow for the fact that no macadam will require replacing. As I am desirous of submitting my detailed estimate for the scheme at an early date, I should take it as a favour if you would go into the matter immediately.

Please show the position, old and new, of any transformer houses, main fuse or switch boxes.

Thanking you in anticipation.

Yours faithfully,

(Sd.) J. M.,
Deputy Engineer.

THE CHIEF ENGINEER,

Re Scheme No. 1.

DEAR SIR,

Referring to your letter No. 121 of the 17th of February, 1913, and our letter No. 2488 of the 4th March, 1913, we would say that the cost of a system of overhead mains for the new streets of this scheme would be Rs. 24,525. The cost of 32 new overhead services would be Rs. 3,040. We send herewith plan No. 1676 showing the proposed arrangement.

With reference to the lighting of these roads, we have arranged the positions of the poles so that each pole could carry a light; the number required would be 49 lights.

The initial cost of a system of lamps fixed on to our poles, complete with mains and switches ready for lighting, would be Rs. 2,079, which is Rs. 42-7 per lamp.

The yearly maintenance cost of this system—estimating that each lamp would be of 64 British standard candle-power, which we think, is ample for these streets—would be Rs. 39-6 for a lighting year of 3,914 hours.

The positions of the lights are shown on our plan No. 1676.

Any further information we could give you on this matter we should be pleased to do so.

(Sd.)
Agent and Chief Engineer.

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

* 8. (a) Will the Government be pleased to make a statement as to the nature and extent of the damage caused by cyclone and floods in September last and during the Durga Pujas, in the various parts of the Province? Effect of cyclone and floods in September, 1916.

(b) Have the prospects of crops been prejudicially affected by the same? If so, to what extent?

(c) Has any distress resulted, or are there indications of impending distress in any part of the Province? If so, what is the estimated extent thereof in each area?

(d) What steps have been taken or are contemplated by Government for the purpose of meeting the situation?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a), (b), (c) & (d) Damage was caused by floods in September and October in the Burdwan and Chittagong Divisions: the damage caused by cyclones, apart from the resulting floods, was not extensive.

For information regarding the Burdwan Division, the Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer to the question of the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

In the Chittagong Division damage was caused by floods in the districts of Tippera and Noakhali and in the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

In Tippera district breaches in the embankment of the Gumti river caused floods in an area of 100 square miles and the destruction of the transplanted winter rice crop on an area of about 50 square miles: the long-stalked rice was not badly damaged, but the extent of the damage to the winter rice crop as a whole in the flood-affected area was about 12 annas. This area has had good harvests in recent years and distress is not expected.

In Noakhali district the crops were totally destroyed in an area of about 35 square miles and were seriously damaged in a further area of 15 square miles: in the affected area a fairly good crop of autumn rice had been harvested in 1916, but the winter rice had been seriously damaged in the previous year, and distress is expected in March 1917. Rupees 4,500 was advanced under the Agriculturists Loans Act for the purchase of seed for rabi crops and boro rice, and together with the advances made by Co-operative Societies this sum is, in the opinion of the Commissioner, sufficient for the present: the situation is being carefully watched and provision is being made for further relief when it is required.

In the Chittagong Hill Tracts very extensive damage was done by floods to the lands under plough cultivation in the valleys, and in some places 12 annas of the winter rice crop has been destroyed: inquiry is still going on and the exact extent of the damage has not yet been ascertained. Distress is expected in April 1917 and provision is being made for giving relief when the situation makes it necessary."

* 9. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state in how many instances, and where, during the past three or four months, dacoits have been resisted or caught by the people of the locality without any aid from the police? Resistance to dacoits by the public.

(b) In what manner were the dacoits and the people, respectively, armed, and what was their comparative numerical strength, approximately, in each case?

(c) What have been the resulting casualties, if any, among the people?

(d) Did any member of the public, on any of these occasions, display bravery which, in the opinion of Government, merits recognition? If so, will the Government be pleased to state the names of such persons, and the manner in which it is desired to signify approbation of their conduct, if at all?

Questions and Answers.

(e) Are the Government considering the desirability of encouraging such acts of bravery by :—

(i) instituting medals or other decorations for marking such acts, quite apart from rewards in any existing forms;
(ii) exempting such persons from the operation of the Arms Act, at least for a stated period as a trial; and
(iii) granting allowances or gratuities to the families of those persons who may be killed, or pensions to those who may be permanently disabled in skirmishes with dacoits?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) In the last four months dacoits have been resisted by the people of the locality in nine cases, viz , two each in Hooghly and Birbhum and one each in Murshidabad, Dinajpur, Faridpur, Tippera and Mymensingh.

(b) In three of these cases the dacoits were armed with guns and pistols and in the others with lathis, daos or axes. In two cases the villagers were armed with guns and in the rest with lathis, etc. In one case the numerical strength of the dacoits was about 30, in two cases between 15 and 20, in two cases between 10 and 12, and in four cases between 6 and 7. The number of villagers who resisted the dacoits cannot be given.

(c) Casualties occurred in two cases. In all, 6 persons were killed and 8 wounded.

(d) The villagers displayed conspicuous bravery in the Lalitasar dacoity in the Tippera district: five persons, viz., Purna Datta, Gaur Kishor Datta. Golamuddin, Hamidali Haji and a boy named Gadu Meah, were killed, and five, viz., Banga Pal, Jabbarali, Dula Mian, Tilakbir and Jan Muhammad, were wounded. Great courage was also displayed in the Parail dacoity in the Mymensingh district: three persons, viz., Gopal Chaukidar, Inchan Shaikh and Faizuddi Shaikh, were wounded while opposing the dacoits. In the Altara dacoity of the Hooghly district, the complainant (Nitai Ghosh) showed great bravery and shot one of the dacoits. The question of making provision for the families of the deceased villagers and of rewarding the wounded persons and others who took an active part in the pursuit of the dacoits is now under the consideration of the local officers.

(e) Government do not consider that the grant of medals and decorations or exemption from the provision of the Arms Act would be suitable forms of rewards in cases of this nature; but bravery in resisting dacoits would constitute a strong claim to the grant of an arms license. Government are always prepared to consider the question of making provision for persons who have been permanently disabled or for the families of persons who have been killed in resisting dacoits."

* 10. What steps have been taken to remedy the overcrowding in jails to which the report on the Bengal Jails, for 1915, drew attention?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" To prevent overcrowding, arrangements have been made for the erection of extra wards and sheds in some of the jails, and Government have made a special grant for the purpose. Eleven such sheds have been built up to date, and, in addition, certain worksheds and godowns have been altered and made suitable for the accommodation of prisoners. There has, within the last three months, been a steady decline in the number of prisoners confined, and at present there is no general pressure on accommodation."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

* 11. Has any decision been arrived at regarding Lieutenant-Colonel Buchanan's proposal for the formation of a central committee, consisting of officials and non-officials, in Calcutta, for the Juvenile Jail, and also of local committees in the mufassal, having among other objects, that of helping juvenile convicts in securing suitable work after their release, and guarding them from relapsing into crime when restored to free life? Proposed central committee for Juvenile Jail.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The matter has been delayed owing to Lieutenant-Colonel Buchanan's absence on leave, but he is now dealing with it and will submit definite proposals as early as possible."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

* 12. (a) With regard to the " special class " prisoners mentioned in the administration report on jails, will the Government be pleased to state what classes of prisoners are included in this term? "Special class" prisoners.

(b) What special precautions, if any, are taken in guarding the " special class " prisoners? Are they kept in solitary cells? Are fetters generally imposed on them for safe custody?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) ' Special class ' prisoners are prisoners convicted of or undergoing trial for offences of a political nature. This class does not include State prisoners or persons detained under the provisions of the Foreigners Ordinance (Act III of 1914), the Ingress into India Ordinance (Act V of 1914) or the Defence of India Act (Act IV of 1915).

(b) ' Special class ' prisoners are not specially separated from other prisoners, but a special watch is kept over their associates in jail and their correspondence. They are not kept in solitary cells, nor are fetters imposed on them for safe custody."

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

* 13. (a) Are the Government aware of the several complaints that have been made against the management of the Lady Dufferin Hospital and against the way in which patients and their guardians are treated by the hospital authorities? Complaint against the Lady Dufferin Hospital authorities.

(b) Have the Government instituted any inquiry into the matter? If so, what has been the result of the inquiry?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" The answer to both parts of the question is in the negative. The Lady Dufferin Victoria Hospital, Calcutta, is not a Government Institution. Any complaints should be addressed to the Managing Committee of the Hospital."

By the Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR :—

* 14. (a) Are the Government aware that a notification, dated the 15th August, 1910, issued by the late Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam prescribing certain rules regarding the admission, withdrawal, rustication and expulsion of students is still in force in the Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong Divisions? Rules regarding admission and transfer of students in East and West Bengal.

(b) If so, are the Government aware of the great divergence which subsists between these rules and those in force in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions?

(c) Is it a fact that under the rules referred to above, the students in Eastern and Northern Bengal are subjected to greater hardships and difficulties in getting transfers from one school to another and are, besides, compelled to pay the fees for an entire term both to the institution which they leave and the institution which they join in the midst of a term, as defined by such rules?

Questions and Answers.

(d) Are there any such terms for the schools in Western Bengal, and are the students in Western Bengal required in cases of transfers to pay such fees twice for the same period?

(e) Are the classes in the high and middle English schools numbered inversely in Eastern and Western Bengal? If so, are the Government aware that this causes confusion and are they taking any action to alter this arrangement?

(f) Are the Government considering the desirability of withdrawing the notification of the late Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam referred to above, and of placing the students in Eastern and Western Bengal on an equal footing and under the same conditions as regards admissions and transfers from one school to another, and also as regards the division of a session of a term, as well as the payment of fees consequent on any transfer or withdrawal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

"(a) & (f) It was intended to supersede the rules issued by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam by those approved by this Government in letter No. 742, dated the 23rd March, 1916, of which a copy is laid on the table. The latter rules were, however, found defective in some respects and their operation has been temporarily suspended in the Dacca Division. Their revision is under the consideration of the Director of Public Instruction.

(b) Government are aware of the divergencies between the Eastern Bengal rules and the rules issued in March, 1916, and their final co-ordination is under consideration.

(c) Under the Eastern Bengal rules, the school year is divided into three terms. A student transferred during a term is liable to payment of fees for the whole term to the school which he leaves, and a fee proportionate to the remaining period of the term to the school which he joins. The latter may be remitted by the Managing Committee.

(d) The school year has not been divided into terms in Western Bengal and there is consequently no such rule.

(e) Classes in middle schools in Western Bengal are numbered inversely as in Eastern Bengal, but there are different systems of numbering classes in high schools. It will not be possible to prescribe a uniform system of numbering until a revised and uniform curriculum is prescribed."

Rules for the admission and withdrawal of pupils in schools referred to in the answer by the HON'BLE MR. HORNELL to Question No. 14 (starred) asked by the HON'BLE BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR at the Council Meeting of the 13th December, 1916.

No. 742, dated Calcutta, the 23rd March, 1916.

In the case of girls' schools, for "Inspector" read "Inspectress" and for "Deputy Inspector" or "Sub-Inspector" read "Assistant Inspectress."

3. The school session is the same as the calendar year, but for pupils permitted to appear at the Matriculation Examination, the session ends in the month in which the first day of that examination falls.]

in writing that he has never before attended any public school. He shall also produce evidence (such as a horoscope) of the pupil's age or shall declare in writing that he can produce no evidence in which case he shall record in writing the true age of the pupil to the best of his knowledge and belief. The age shall be recorded in years, months and days, calculated according to the English method.

2. A pupil who has attended a public school shall not be admitted to another public school except on production of a withdrawal certificate (Appendix A). In such cases, the pupil's parent or guardian shall accompany him or shall provide him with a letter of application for admission.

3. Withdrawal certificates obtained from schools from which scholarship rights have been withdrawn shall not be accepted unless they have been countersigned by the Deputy Inspector of Schools.

4. A pupil shall not, on admission, be placed in a class higher than that which his withdrawal certificate shows him to be entitled to enter.

5. A withdrawal certificate shall not be granted to a pupil except on payment of all sums due on his account up to the date of application for the certificate. If the pupil withdrew from the school without written notice before such date he shall be required to pay all sums due on his account up to the date of such withdrawal and may in addition be required to pay the class fees for the period between such date and the date of application for a withdrawal certificate or for a period of three months whichever shall be less.

6. Applications for withdrawal certificates shall be made by the parent or guardian of a pupil either personally or by letter. On the day of receipt of an application, the head teacher shall either grant a certificate or inform the applicant in writing of his reasons for refusing a certificate together with a statement of dues in detail. No fee shall be charged for the grant of a certificate.

7. All questions arising from these rules shall be referred to the Sub-Inspector of Schools, from whose decision an appeal may be made to the Deputy Inspector. The latter's decision shall be final.

8. Wilful transgression by a school of any of these rules will render it liable to forfeit the right to present candidates at the departmental scholarship examinations.

SECTION II.

Schools other than primary.

1. When a pupil who has never attended any public school, seeks admission for the first time to a public school, other than a primary school, his parent or guardian shall, if possible, accompany him and shall declare in writing that he has never before attended any public school. He shall also produce evidence (such as a horoscope) of the pupil's age or shall declare in writing that he can produce no evidence, in which case he shall record in writing the true age of the pupil to the best of his knowledge and belief. The age shall be recorded in years, months and days, calculated according to the English method. If it is not possible for the parent or guardian to accompany the pupil, a person authorized on that behalf in writing shall do so.

2. A pupil who has attended a public school shall not be admitted into another public school except on production of a withdrawal certificate (Appendix A or B). If the certificate is in the form given in Appendix B, both original and duplicate copies must be presented. He shall also produce a letter of application for admission from his parent or guardian stating the condition of his residence.

Questions and Answers.

3. The statement of age contained in a certificate obtained from a primary school may be called in question and the parent or guardian of the pupil may be required to produce evidence or to make a declaration in the manner prescribed in rule 1.

4. A pupil who presents a withdrawal certificate from a school from which scholarship rights have been withdrawn or from a school from which he has been expelled, shall not be admitted without the sanction of the department.

5. Without the sanction of the department a pupil shall not be admitted who presents a certificate in which the date of withdrawal is not less than six months previous to the date of application for admission.

6. Without the sanction of the department a pupil shall not be admitted between the Puja vacation and the end of the session if he presents a withdrawal certificate granted more than a month previous to the date of application for admission.

7. Except at the commencement of a session no pupil shall be admitted with a certificate of withdrawal from any school within a radius of three miles without the sanction of the department.

8. No pupil shall be provisionally admitted without the sanction of the Inspector of Schools.

9. On admission, a pupil shall be required to pay an admission fee equivalent to one month's fee of the class into which he is admitted. (Sons and wards of Government officers whose application for admission is due to the transfer of their parents and guardians are exempt from the payment of an admission fee.)

10. A pupil whose name has been struck off the roll on account of non-payment of fees, may be readmitted—

(i) in the month following that in which his name has been struck off on payment of all sums due to the school together with a fine of eight annas in the case of a middle school, or a fine of one rupee in the case of any other school ;

(ii) in any other month on payment of all sums due to the school together with an admission fee equivalent to one month's fee of his class.

11. A pupil shall not, on admission, be placed in a class higher than that which his withdrawal certificate shows him to be entitled to enter except with the sanction of the department. Every application for such sanction shall be accompanied by a report from the headmaster of the result of an admission test.

12. Pupils who, before admission, have not attended any public school, shall undergo an admission test. No such pupil shall be placed in a class higher than the 4th class of a high school without the sanction of the Inspector.

13. No pupil who has attained the age of fourteen years shall be admitted into any class of a Government high school below the fourth without the sanction of the Inspector. Sanction will ordinarily be given as a matter of course in the case of middle vernacular scholarship-holders and also in the case of members of the backward classes when there is no high school under private management in the neighbourhood.

14. A pupil shall not be promoted to a higher class after admission under the foregoing rules and before the next annual class examination except with the sanction of the department.

15. No pupil who has failed at the test examination of any public school shall be admitted from another school to the next ensuing marticulation examination.

Questions and Answers.

16. Every application for a certificate of withdrawal shall be made in writing to the headmaster by the pupil's parent or guardian. The headmaster shall within three days of receipt of the application, either grant the certificate or inform the applicant in writing of the reasons for refusal.

17. A certificate shall not be refused except for one or more of the following reasons :—

(i) The pupil has been rusticated.

(ii) The pupil has been guilty of gross misconduct. (The fact that a pupil has been expelled shall not be adduced as a reason for refusal. The certificate shall state that the pupil has been expelled).

(iii) The withdrawal is sought on account of disciplinary action taken by the masters of the school.

(iv) The sums due on account of the pupil up to the date of withdrawal together with the certificate fee, if any, have not been paid.

(vi) The pupil is a Government scholarship-holder.

No certificate shall be granted in cases (i) and (vi) except with the sanction of the department.

In case (v) a certificate shall not be granted till after the publication of the results of the annual class examination except for special reasons and with the sanction of the department.

Cases of refusal under (i), (ii) and (iii) shall be immediately reported by the headmaster to the department. The applicant may represent his case to the department in such cases and also if a certificate is not issued within three days of the payment of dues to the school. The decision of the officer to whom the representation may be made shall be final.

18. When a pupil of one of the two senior classes of a high school has held a scholarship, free studentship or half-free studentship under express stipulation in writing, signed by himself and his father or guardian that the whole or a portion of the sum drawn by, or remitted to, him, shall be refunded to the school in case of withdrawal from it within a certain period, the amount so claimed shall be included in the sums due on account of the pupil for the purpose of the preceding rule provided it does not exceed the amount actually drawn or remitted.

Special rules which are in contravention of the preceding rule shall not be recognized by the department unless they are agreed to in writing both by pupils and by their parents or guardians.

19. If it appears—

(a) that the granting of a certificate is being unnecessarily delayed, or

(b) that a lengthy correspondence is likely to take place before a settlement can be arrived at, or

(c) that a certificate is being refused on inadequate grounds,

a provisional certificate may be given by the department on the condition that the pupil's parent or guardian undertakes to pay whatever sum may be subsequently determined by the department to be due to the school from which the pupil has been withdrawn. In case of (c) action will at once be taken under rule 29.

20. The date of withdrawal of a pupil is the date on which his name is struck off the roll. A pupil's name shall be struck off the roll—

(a) on the last day of the month for which fees (including late payment fines) have not been paid, except in cases of rustication for more than a month, when the name shall not be struck off for non-payment of fees until the last day of the third month of rustication, or the last day of rustication if the rustication be for a period of less than three months, or

(b) on the day on which all sums due on his account are paid preparatory to withdrawal (with or without a certificate).

Questions and Answers.

21. The following fees shall be payable when the date of withdrawal comes under the definition contained in rule 20 (b) :—

(ii) When the date of withdrawal is not at the close of the session, an amount equivalent to one month's fees provided the date of withdrawal does not fall between the Puja vacation and the end of the session.

(iii) In addition to the fee under (ii) an amount equivalent to the fees payable up to the end of the ensuing vacation if the date of withdrawal falls in a month immediately preceding a recognized vacation of more than 15 days' duration and the withdrawal is not consequent upon the transfer of the parent or guardian of the pupil nor is due to the ill-health of the pupil.

(iv) An amount equivalent to the fees payable up to the end of the session if the date of withdrawal falls between the Puja vacation and the end of the session.

(NOTE.—Sons and wards of Government officers whose withdrawal is due to the transfer of their parents or guardians are exempt from payment of these fees.)

22. When the date of withdrawal comes under the definition contained in rule 20 (a) the fee for a withdrawal certificate shall be an amount equivalent to a month's fees of the class of which the pupil was a member together with the amount, whichever is greater, (a) that would be payable under rule 21 if the date of payment of all sums due were the date of withdrawal, or (b) that would be payable under rule 21 if it applied to the date of withdrawal to which this rule refers.

23. No pupil shall be sent up for the Matriculation examination who is not eligible for a withdrawal certificate on the date on which the examination begins.

24. Government scholarship-holders are required to pay the same withdrawal and admission fees as other students. The transfer of scholarships requires the sanction of the department under the scholarship rules.

25. Withdrawal certificates shall be in triplicate and marked "original," "duplicate," "triplicate." The triplicate and duplicate copies will be retained in the issuing and receiving school respectively. The original shall be returned to the issuing school after a pupil's admission and shall be attached to the triplicate copy. The pupil's name as entered on the certificate shall not be altered at the time of admission, but shall be entered in the admission register for future reference.

26. Copies of the original and duplicate withdrawal certificates may be granted on receipt of a fee of one rupee, provided the original has not been returned to the issuing school.

27. All questions arising between one headmaster and another respecting the enforcement of these rules shall be referred as soon as possible to the department. The decision of the Inspector shall be final.

28. If a pupil be found to have produced a false document or to have made a false statement as to his attendance at any school he shall be reported to the Inspector of Schools who shall award a suitable punishment.

29. Any departure from these rules in particular instances shall require the sanction of the Inspector of Schools.

30. Wilful transgression or attempted evasion of any of these rules shall render a school liable to the withdrawal of scholarship rights.

By the Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR :—

* 15. (a) Are the Government aware of the complaint that the Education Department is receiving less attention than any other department as regards the pay and prospect of the officers in the subordinate service? Subordinate Educational Service.

(b) Is it a fact that not long ago assistant teachers in Government institutions, like the Dacca Collegiate School and the Krishnagar Collegiate School, were appointed on an initial pay of Rs. 10 or Rs. 11 per month and there were circle pandits appointed on Rs. 9 a month?

(c) Is it a fact that teachers in the Lower Subordinate Service of the Education Department are being appointed on an initial pay of Rs. 15 to Rs. 20 a month?

(d) Is it a fact that clerks, with inferior qualifications in other departments, e.g., in the Collectorates, Civil Courts, Police offices, etc., are being appointed on an initial pay of Rs. 30 a month?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

" (a) The answer is in the negative.

(b) No such appointment at these rates of pay has been made at the institutions named or others of similar status within the last ten years.

(c) Teachers appointed to the lowest grade of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service are appointed on an initial pay of Rs. 15—1—20. Undergraduates are, however, given Rs. 25—1—30 a month and graduates Rs. 35—2—45 as initial pay.

(d) It is a fact that clerks in certain Government offices are being appointed on an initial pay of Rs. 30 per mensem; but Government are not prepared to express an opinion as to whether men appointed to such posts are superior or inferior to any other men appointed to any other class of appointments."

By the Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR :—

* 16. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to paragraph 181 of the Report of the Bengal District Administration Committee for the year 1913-14, and to the Report of Mr. Gunn, Inspector of Schools, Chittagong Division, as contained in the Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for the year 1914-15 calling attention to the pay of teachers in Government service and the prospects of their promotion? Pay and prospects of teacher in Government service.

(b) If so, what steps have the Government under consideration to remedy the condition of the Lower Education Service?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

" (a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) The question of improving the position of teachers in Government and aided high and middle schools is engaging the attention of the Local Government in consultation with the Government of India. The following allowances were sanctioned with effect from the 1st January, 1915, at a total cost of Rs. 33,120 per annum :—

(i) A local allowance of Rs. 50 per mensem each to the Head Masters and Head Mistresses of Government high English schools (including the Anglo-Persian Departments of Government Madrassahs) who belong to the Subordinate Educational Service.

(ii) A local allowance of Rs. 20 per mensem each to the Assistant Head Masters and Assistant Head Mistresses of Government high English schools (including the Anglo-Persian Departments of Government Madrassahs) who belong to the Subordinate Educational Service.

(iii) A local allowance of Rs. 30 per mensem each to the Head Masters and Head Mistresses of Government middle English schools.

(iv) A local allowance of Rs. 20 per mensem to the Head Masters and Head Mistresses of Government middle vernacular schools.

Pay of teachers in secondary English schools.

* 17. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the remarks of the Conference of Directors of Public Instruction held at Allahabad in 1912, and also to the Government of India's scheme, of January, 1913, in regard to the secondary English schools, providing a scale of pay from Rs. 40 to Rs. 400 for the teachers in the Education Department?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

" (a) The Hon'ble Member probably refers to a conference held at Allahabad in 1911, but this question does not appear to have been raised at that conference. There was no such conference at Allahabad in 1912. The Government of India's Resolution of the 21st February, 1913, to which, presumably, the Hon'ble Member also refers, has received the full attention of this Government.

(b) The proposals of this Government with regard to the improvement of the pay of teachers in secondary English schools are now before the Government of India."

Private tuition by teachers in Government service.

* 18. Is it a fact that subordinate teachers in Government service as well as in aided schools in Eastern Bengal are prohibited from supplementing their pay by private tuition for more than one hour a day?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

" The instructions issued by the Director of Public Instruction regulating private tuition by teachers who are in Government service contain a provision that they will ordinarily not be permitted to undertake private tuition for more than one hour a day. These instructions apply both to Eastern and Western Bengal. There are no rules relating to aided schools."

* 20. (a) Is it a fact that one Sanjib Chandra Ray was imprisoned in the Mymensingh Jail?

(b) Is it true that while so confined the said Sanjib Chandra Ray was stricken with typhoid fever accompanied with bronchitis and delirium?

(c) Is it a fact that his father on receiving information of his son's illness applied both to the Magistrate of the district as well as to the Government to remove him to his house or to the Government Hospital for proper medical treatment, promising to return him to the jail after his recovery?

(d) Is it a fact that the said Sanjib Chandra Ray was not restored to his father and that he subsequently died in the Mymensingh Jail?

Questions and Answers.

(e) Is it a fact that his father was not allowed to remain by his side on his death-bed and that his dead body was not restored to his father for the purpose of cremation?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to make a full statement with regard to the above allegations, and, if the facts are as alleged, say under whose orders, and under what rules, the case was dealt with?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) & (f) The facts of this case are as follows :—Sanjib Chandra Ray was convicted on the 8th July, 1916, of an offence under the Arms Act at Kishoreganj and sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment. He was received in the Mymensingh Jail on the 12th July. He had slight fever on the 8th August and was admitted into hospital on the following day. There was no reason to anticipate any serious consequences until the evening of the 20th August, when a sudden rise in temperature occurred and the man's breathing became laboured and frequent. The Civil Surgeon, who is also Superintendent of the Jail, examined him on the morning of the 21st and found that he had diffused bronchitis. Every care and attention were given in the case. The patient was fed on special nourishing food to keep up his vitality and all possible medical help was administered. He appeared to be progressing favourably, but succumbed suddenly on the 27th August.

The father of Sanjib Chandra Ray first applied for an interview with him on the 13th August after Sanjib Chandra Ray's admission into hospital. The Additional Magistrate gave permission for an interview to take place on the 14th August. The father did not appear on that day, but on the 16th August he filed another petition praying for an interview. This petition was also granted and the interview took place. On the 18th August another petition was filed by the father, in which he asked that in view of his son's illness he should be permitted to see him twice daily and to stay with him for at least two hours at each interview. This application was refused by the Additional Magistrate, as under rules 679 and 1198 of the Jail Code, interviews of this nature are permissible only in the case of prisoners who are dangerously ill or moribund and on the 18th August there was no reason to anticipate that Sanjib Chandra Ray's illness would prove fatal. No further request for an interview was made by Sanjib Chandra Ray's father, but a few days later he applied to the Magistrate for permission to take his son out of the jail to a local hospital or nursing home. This petition was rejected, as there is no provision in the Jail Code authorising the removal of a prisoner from jail under these circumstances. Moreover, as Sanjib's illness was due to acute inflammation of the lungs, absolute rest was necessary, and removal from the jail would probably have been followed immediately by fatal results. On the 23rd August Sanjib's father telegraphed to Government, asking for the removal of his son to the General Hospital or to his brother's house at Mymensingh. This telegram was sent to the District Magistrate for disposal, and the petitioner was instructed by telegram to apply to the Magistrate. On the 25th August he sent another telegram to Government, stating that the Magistrate had refused his application on the ground that he was unable to sanction release under the Jail Code. The Magistrate was then asked to report the facts of the case by telegram, and he wired on the 27th August to say that the prisoner had died of pneumonia that morning.

As regards the cremation of the body, the Jail Superintendent reported to the Additional Magistrate, on the 27th August, that he apprehended a demonstration if the body were made over to the relatives. The Additional Magistrate, following the instructions of Government for dealing with such cases, issued orders that the cremation should take place within the jail and that the relatives should be allowed to attend. The relatives were duly informed of this order but did not attend the cremation, although it was postponed to the evening in order to give them full opportunities of doing so.

A full enquiry was made by the Divisional Commissioner, and Government are satisfied that the action taken by the Jail authorities and the Additional Magistrate was in compliance with the provisions of the Jail Code and the orders of Government dealing with cases of this kind."

Proceedings under the Defence of India Act.

* 21. (a) Upon whose initiative are proceedings under the Defence of India Act usually taken?

(b) Is it a fact that these proceedings are usually based upon informations supplied by spies and by the officers of the Criminal Investigation Department?

(c) Are written copies of charges supplied to the arrested persons and explanations in writing taken from them before an order of internment is passed against them?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Usually on the initiative of superior officers of the Police, subject to certain administrative guidance.

(b) It is not a fact that such proceedings are usually based on information supplied by spies and C.I.D. officers. On the contrary, there is a large quantity of material, both documentary and oral, on which such action is based.

Faridpur and the river Padma.

* 22. (a) Are the Government aware that the town of Faridpur is seriously threatened by the river Padma and that the railway line below Faridpur station has been breached causing great hardships and inconvenience to the public?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of causing a diversion line from somewhere above Shivarampur before the next rainy season?

(c) Are there any grounds for the belief that the present temporary station at Govindpur is likely to be washed away before the next rainy season?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" (a) The Eastern Bengal Railway line has been breached about a mile from Faridpur railway station and a temporary station has been opened at a distance of about $1\frac{1}{4}$ miles from the nearest part of the town.

(b) The question of building a diversion line is being considered by the Eastern Bengal Railway Administration. A final decision has not yet been arrived at.

(c) The river has stopped cutting for the present and further damage is not anticipated before next rains. It is not possible to forecast now what further damage may occur during next rainy season."

Election to the Bengal Legislative Council by the special Muhammadan electorate of the Presidency Division.

* 23. (a) Is it a fact that at the last election of a member by the Special Muhammadan electorate of the Presidency Division the voting papers of electors Nos. 339 and 356 did not reach the office of the Returning Officer and were not, therefore, counted by him at the time prescribed for the counting of votes?

(b) If this is correct, what steps have been taken to ascertain whether these two electors actually recorded their votes?

(c) If they did record their votes, what became of their voting papers?

(d) If the votes were actually recorded and the voting papers have been destroyed or misplaced, are the Government considering the desirability of setting aside the election?

(e) If the two voting papers have been lost, what steps have been taken by the Government against the Attesting Officers at whose offices the votes were recorded, with a view to prevent the destruction and loss of voting papers in future?

(f) Is it a fact that the Sub-Registrar of Dumuria did not attend office on the 5th June, 1916, the last date for the recording of votes?

(g) Is it a fact that Abdul Bari Sardar (elector No. 904) made an affidavit before the Sadar Subdivisional Officer of Khulna, to the effect that on the 5th

June, 1916, he called at the Dumuria Sub-Registrar's office to record his votes, but could not do so on account of the absence of the Sub-Registrar, who did not come to the office until the 6th June, 1916?

(h) Is it a fact that the vote of Abdul Bari Sardar could not be recorded in time for the want of an Attesting Officer? If so, are the Government considering the desirability of recording the vote now?

(i) Is it a fact that the Sub-Registrar of Khulna refused to record the vote of Abdul Bari Sardar unless he was identified by two senior pleaders or a landlord?

(j) Is it a fact that the names of Abdur Rahim Molla and Muhammad Raziuddin Ali were printed twice in the same list of electors, that two voting papers were issued to each of them, and that two votes were recorded by each of them?

(k) If this is correct, are the Government considering the desirability of cancelling one of the votes at least of each of these electors and ordering a recount of the votes obtained by the candidates?

(l) Is it a fact that the Joint Sub-Registrar of Khulna refused to accept the identification of certain Mukhtars, and that one of the said Mukhtars felt so aggrieved at this that he submitted a petition to the District Magistrate of Khulna?

(m) Is it a fact that a pleader's clerk and two Mukhtars, one after the other, presented themselves before the Joint Sub-Registrar of Khulna to identify Abdur Rahim Molla and Bishu Molla (electors Nos. 950 and 1019), but that he refused to accept their identification and consequently the votes of these two electors could not be recorded at Khulna?

(n) Is it a fact that subsequently one of these electors, named Abdur Rahim Molla, was brought to Calcutta by one of the candidates, and as he had received two voting papers, he recorded two votes in favour of the same candidate?

(o) Is it a fact that the Sub-Registrars of Sealdah and Alipore, who were Attesting Officers, had votes recorded in the presence of identifiers and others, and did not supply envelopes to the electors for the purpose of enclosing their voting papers, as is prescribed by the rules?

(p) Is it a fact that when it was known that votes were being recorded in this manner a protest was made to the Sub-Registrar of Sealdah and apprehension was expressed that unless the votes were recorded in a screened place, as required by the rules, and voting papers were enclosed in envelopes by electors themselves, they might be tampered with or misplaced, but that no notice was taken of the protest?

(q) Are the Government considering the desirability of cancelling the votes recorded at Sealdah and Alipore? Is it not a fact that it is laid down in the instructions relating to elections that "Neglect on the part of the elector to comply with any of these instructions shall render the vote invalid"? If so, are the Government considering the desirability of declaring the election null and void?

(r) Is it a fact that the Sub-Registrars of Sealdah, Alipore, Kushtia, Chuadanga and Kandi canvassed for one of the candidates and dissuaded some of the electors from recording their votes in favour of the other candidates?

(s) Will the Government be pleased to state how the election will be affected if the irregularities referred to in the above question are found to be true?

(t) Are the Government taking any steps to prevent the recurrence of such irregularities and corrupt practices as are set forth in the above questions?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

PRESS COMMUNIQUE.

GOVERNMENT have received reports from the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, which contain the following particulars regarding the effects of the floods which occurred at the end of September and the beginning of October in the Burdwan Division :—

(i) DAMODAR FLOOD.—The total area affected is 127 square miles, but only 23 square miles, comprising 20 villages, have been seriously affected. There was no loss of human life, and the loss of cattle was not considerable. About 3,000 houses collapsed. The damage to the rice crop in the affected area is estimated at about four annas. The crops were not submerged for more than twenty-four hours. No relief measures have been found necessary in this area.

(ii) AJAY FLOOD IN BURDWAN DISTRICT.—The total area affected is 157 square miles, comprising 169 villages, in 87 of which the damage is reported as being serious. Two people (a leper and an old woman) and 114 head of cattle were drowned, and 18,111 houses belonging to 9,671 house-holders were destroyed. The damage to the rice crop in the affected area is estimated at eight annas. In many places the crops were submerged for four or five days continuously with the result that they were destroyed.

(iii) AJAY FLOOD IN BIRBHUM DISTRICT.—The total area affected is 68 square miles, comprising 113 villages, in 20 of which the houses have been almost completely destroyed. There was no loss of human life, but about 300 head of cattle, in addition to large numbers of sheep and goats, are reported to have been drowned. The number of houses destroyed is estimated at 15,000.

In the greater part of the flooded area in Birbhum district the water subsided after two or three days, but in a small area the crops were submerged for four or five days and were destroyed. Deposits of sand left by the flood have also done considerable damage in Birbhum district.

(iv) SELYE FLOOD IN GHATAL SUBDIVISION OF MIDNAPORE DISTRICT.—The total area affected is between 20 and 30 square miles, and the winter rice crop is expected to have been totally destroyed in an area of about 10 square miles. There was no loss of human life or of cattle, and very few houses were destroyed, as the country is very liable to floods and the houses are built on high ground. On account of high tides, and the flood and the Damodar, the water did not flow off for seven days. It is expected, however, that where the winter rice has been destroyed it will be possible to grow boro rice, and as last year's crops were good, no relief has been found necessary at present.

2. The flood in the Ajay reached its highest level on 23rd September in the day time, and the people had sufficient warning to enable them to take refuge on the roofs of their houses : otherwise the loss of life would have been serious. While the flood remained high, the people in the area affected by the Ajay suffered very severely from exposure to the weather and want of food, and the absence of boats made it very difficult to convey relief.

3. All possible measures for relieving the distress were taken by the Collectors of Birbhum and Burdwan, who received full assistance from other officials and from private persons, and no time was lost in organizing relief. The Collector of Midnapore visited and inspected the affected area in his district. Allotments of Rs. 1,00,000 for loans and of Rs. 20,000 for gratuitous relief have been made by Government in Burdwan district, and of Rs. 30,000 for loans and Rs. 10,000 for gratuitous relief in Birbhum district. These sums have been supplemented by private subscriptions, and grants of Rs 8,000 from Babu Joy Govind Law's Fund and of Rs. 2,000 from Babu Ram Lal Mukherji's Fund, which are held at the disposal of Government for giving relief on such occasions as this, have been placed at the disposal of the Commissioner.

Alleged insanitary condition of Berhampore Sluice.

* 30. (a) Are the Government aware of the present insanitary condition of the Berhampore Sluice on the Bhagirathi Embankment which is in close proximity to the Sadar Hospital, Berhampore in the district of Murshidabad?

(b) Are the Government in possession of any report made by the Superintending Engineer, Central Circle, or the Executive Engineer, Nadia Rivers Division, on the subject?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the report and state what action has been taken in this connection?

(d) If no report has been received, are the Government considering the desirability of directing the District Magistrate to hold an inquiry into the matter in consultation with the Engineer concerned?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" (a) & (b) Yes.

(c) The Executive Engineer has proposed the following improvements :—

(1) opening out two man-holes in the arch in the compound of the Mission House,

(2) straightening the channel from the sluice to the Berhampore road culvert and making the bottom and sides pucca.

The Superintending Engineer in his letter No. 3700 G., dated 28th June, 1916, has reported as follows :—

' The length of the Berhampore channel from the river to the bhil is 2,200 feet. The first 400 feet is the entrance channel and then there is the sluice, the barrel of which is 225 feet long below the Strand Road and the compound of the Mission Boarding. The barrel in the countryside is open and in the riverside is provided with a screw-gear shutter. After this barrel there is an open channel 125 feet long and then follows a municipal road culvert with a long underground barrel having pucca houses on each side of the road. After this culvert there is about 900 feet of open channel with irregular bed and side slopes, running in a zigzag way, having pucca and kutcha houses on the banks. The channel receives the washings from various municipal drains which stagnate throughout the whole year, till the channel receives its flushing by the admission of river water during the silting operation of the bhil. The barrel being underground, long and dark, it is very difficult to clear the silt. It is for this reason, as well as for ready examination of the barrel, that some improvement is considered to be necessary.'

(d) The proposal is receiving the consideration of Government."

By the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA :—

Dacoity in village Lalitashar Tippera.

II. (a) Are the Government aware that there was a serious dacoity committed in village Lalitashar, within police-station Muradnagar, in the district of Tippera, in September last?

(b) Is it a fact that the villagers, although unarmed, made an effort to capture the dacoits, who were armed with revolvers, and chased them for a long distance?

(c) Is it a fact that in the fight which ensued, no less than five villagers were shot dead, and many more wounded and maimed for life?

(d) Is it a fact that the villagers succeeded in securing one of the dacoits who met his death at their hands?

(e) Is it also a fact that the five villagers who have laid down their lives, and the others who have been disabled for life, were the bread winners of their respective families?

Questions and Answers.

(f) Will the Government be pleased to state what reward, gratuity or allowance, if any, has been granted by the Government in recognition of the services of these villagers and for making provision for their children and relatives?

(g) If nothing has been done in the matter, will the Government be pleased to say whether they are considering the desirability of making such grants as may appear to them to be suitable.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) & (b) The answers are in the affirmative.

(c) Five villagers were shot dead and five were wounded, two of them seriously. The wounded men were removed to hospital and they have since recovered and returned to their homes.

(e) Four of the five villagers who were killed and all the men who were wounded were cultivators or labourers with families. The fifth person killed was a boy 13 years of age.

(f) & (g) Proposals on the subject have recently been received from the local officers and are now under consideration. In the opinion of Government the pluck and determination shown by the villagers in this case are deserving of full and liberal recognition."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA asked the following SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTION :—

With reference to the answers given to clauses (f) and (g) of my question, will the Government be pleased to state when the proposals referred to were received from the local officers?

The Hon'ble MR. LYON said :—

" The proposals in question were first received about a month ago. They were considered insufficient. Government therefore returned the proposals to the local officers for reconsideration. They have been further revised and are now, I believe, on the point of final acceptance."

By the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA :—

Dismissal of a Police officer.

III. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the case of Babu Durgadas Datta who was Sub-Inspector of Police in the district of Chittagong and who was dismissed by the Superintendent of Police of that district on the 4th September, 1915, on the report of Babu Srish Chandra Sarkar, officiating Inspector of Police?

(b) Is it a fact that the said Babu Durgadas Datta, in his explanation questioned the report of the Inspector as maliciously false and attributed it to personal animosity and prayed for an inquiry by the Superintendent of Police or by any other responsible officer?

(c) Is it a fact that the Superintendent of Police at first promised to make an inquiry, but that later on he changed his mind for reasons which have not been communicated to the Sub-Inspector, and declined to make an inquiry as to the truth of the charge made against the Sub-Inspector?

(d) Is it a fact that no inquiry has been made by any officer and no opportunity has been given to the Sub-Inspector to disprove the allegations made against him, and that he has been condemned merely on the verbal information said to have been given to the Inspector by some persons whose names were not disclosed by the Inspector, although that officer was taken to task for this non-disclosure by the Deputy Inspector-General of Police?

(e) Is it also true that the Inspector himself did not allege that he made any inquiry as to the truth of the information upon which the Sub-Inspector was dismissed?

(f) Is it a fact that the whole charge against the Sub-Inspector was that an entry in his diary of the 15th June, 1915, to the effect that he had made a local inquiry into a case of drowning was false, and that in point of fact he made the inquiry at the police-station?

(g) Is it a fact that the Inspector himself accepted the report of the Sub-Inspector about the drowning case as correct and that the District Magistrate disposed of the case accordingly?

(h) Is it a fact that it is admitted by all parties concerned that it was a true case of drowning and that there was no suggestion of any corruption or bribery on the part of the Sub-Inspector?

(i) Is it a fact that the Sub-Inspector has got a record of twenty-four years' good and loyal service in the Police Department?

(j) Have the Government before them any proposal for a mitigation of the punishment accorded to the Sub-Inspector to something less than dismissal from service?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"Government have received a memorial on this subject from Babu Durgadas Datta. No appeal lies to Government against the orders passed by the Inspector-General of Police but Government have examined the record of the case, and are satisfied that there is no reason to interfere. Government are not prepared to make a statement in this Council regarding the details of the case."

By the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA :—

Internments under the Defence of India Act.

IV. (a) Have the Government considered, or are they considering, the advisability of the appointment of an Advisory Board for determining all questions of internment under the Defence of India Act, as suggested in a memorial submitted by the Indian Association?

(b) Are the Government providing for the education of interned students in those cases in which their guardians and parents are prepared to meet the cost of their education?

(c) Are the Government taking any steps for the reformation of young and impressionable détenus beyond mere detention?

(d) Do the Government take the parents and guardians of young and impressionable suspects into their confidence, and warn them as soon as the police begin to suspect that their children or wards, as the case may be, are inclined to go astray, and ask them to take particular care of such children or wards?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) The Council may rest assured that Government give full consideration to all proposals made with regard to the Defence of India Act, and will not hesitate to adopt any change in procedure which may seem to them likely to be productive of good. At the present moment there is no intention on the part of Government to act on the lines suggested by the Indian Association.

(b) In a few cases this has been permitted.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA asked the following SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTION :—

With reference to the answers given to clauses (c) and (d) of my question, will the Government be pleased to state from what date action has been taken in the direction indicated?

Questions and Answers.

The Hon'ble MR. LYON said :—

"I think the Hon'ble Member should give notice of that question."

...ments the ... of Act.

VI. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, in the case of persons interned under the Defence of India Act, it is the invariable practice to formulate definite charges in writing against the suspects?

(c) What is the rank of the officer who draws up the charge?

(d) Is there any foundation for the impression that the suspect is asked merely to give full information as to his antecedents, and all that he knows about other suspects?

(e) Is the suspect allowed an opportunity of disproving the allegations made against him, and of clearing his character? If so, what time, if any, is ordinarily allowed to him for this purpose?

(f) Is each suspect asked to make a written statement?

(g) If an oral statement is taken, is it reduced to writing?

(i) Is the suspect required to sign the oral statement when it has been reduced to writing?

(j) If not, are the Government considering the desirability of this being done?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a), (b) & (c) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to the question asked by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar on the 4th September, 1916, which was as follows :—

' In the case of each suspect who is interned under the Defence of India Rules he is informed generally as to the allegation made against him, and is asked to state what he has to say in answer to them.'

Charges are not reduced to writing.

(d) It is not the case that the suspect is merely asked to give the details mentioned in the question.

(f) Each suspect is now invited to make at his option a written statement for submission to Government.

(g) The answer is in the affirmative.

(i) & (j) In every case he is given an opportunity to sign his statement when it has been reduced to writing; but no compulsion is used. In most cases he does elect to sign. Government do not think it necessary to compel him."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA asked the following SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTION :—

With reference to the answer given to clause (f) of my question, will the Government be pleased to state from what date the procedure that each suspect is invited to make a written statement, has been introduced.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Government are aware that there is a feeling to this effect in Bengal among many people. Government are also aware that there is also a feeling among many other people in Bengal to the opposite effect.

X. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state on how many occasions there have been breaches in the Gumti embankments during the last ten years which have resulted in floods?

(b) Was there destruction of crops on each of these occasions?

(c) Was the damage on each of these occasions approximately of the same magnitude as that caused by the floods of 1915 and 1916?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

"(a) The following is a statement of the breaches in the Gumti embankments which are on record.

In 1906, a year of exceptional rainfall, there were high floods with several breaches.

In 1909 there was a bad breach which affected the railway.

In 1913 there were no breaches above the Assam-Bengal Railway bridge, but the right embankment, where it had been lowered and demolished but re-erected, was breached in four places.

In 1914 there were two breaches in the left and three in the right embankment in the Paitkara and Gangamandal estates, respectively.

In 1915 there were two breaches in the right embankment above the Assam-Bengal Railway bridge and four breaches below it.

In 1916 there were two breaches above the Assam-Bengal Railway bridge and one below it. There were also several breaches in the right bank within the Gangamandal estate in that section of the embankments which had been partly demolished and lowered in the year 1892.

Questions and Answers.

(b) There was destruction of crops in 1913, 1915, 1916. There is nothing on record as regards destruction of crops in the other years.

(c) No; the floods of 1915-16 appear to have caused more damage than in any previous year."

By the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA :—

XI. (a) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a rough estimate of the total loss to the raiyats during the last ten years by the destruction of crops in the flooded area due to breaches in the Gumti embankments? The Gumti embankments.

(b) Is it a fact that experts have recorded an opinion that the embankments are no longer sufficient to afford protection against floods even in years of normal rains?

(c) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the opinions that have been expressed that chances of breaches in the Gumti embankments are steadily increasing from year to year and that there is good reason to believe that the consequent flood will be an annual visitation?

(d) Are the Government aware that there is a feeling of insecurity and helplessness amongst the agricultural population of a large tract of country at the prospect of breaches occurring every year in the Gumti embankments?

(e) Have the Government instituted inquiries—

(i) as to the causes of the successive floods, and

(f) Are the Government aware that the town of Comilla is in danger of being flooded if any breach occurs near the town on the town side of the river?

(g) Is it a fact that the town of Comilla has very narrowly escaped inundation on several occasions?

(h) Is it a fact that in 1910 the Superintending Engineer of the Eastern Circle expressed his deliberate opinion that there was no doubt that unless steps were taken, it was only a question of years before the town would be flooded, as the Gumti was slowly but surely rising and would continue to do so?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

"(a) No estimate has been made except for 1915 and 1916, in which years the damage is estimated at Rs. 1½ lakhs and Rs. 6 lakhs, respectively. No estimate is possible of the damage done in the lower reaches of the river by breaches of the bunds in Paitkara and Gangamandal parganas. The breaches of these bunds are frequent and are looked upon as ordinary incidents of the rainy season.

(b) No record can be traced of any expert opinion that the embankments no longer afford protection against floods in the years of normal rainfall.

(c) Yes.

(d) As is usually found in the case of an agricultural population living beside an embanked river, fed from hill torrents, there is a feeling of considerable apprehension during periods of excessive rain.

(e) to (h) Yes."

By the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA :—

XII. (a) How long has the Gumti embankment question been under the consideration of the Government? Gumti embankments.

(b) In what year, for the first time, was the gravity of the situation first brought to the notice of the Government?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether any expert opinion has been recorded that it is possible to control the floods and that the evils arising from the Gumti embankment are not irremediable?

(d) In what year was it first decided by the Government that immediate steps should be taken to solve the Gumti embankment problem?

Questions and Answers.

(e) How many conferences of Government experts and other Government officials have been held for the solution of the said problem?

(f) What various schemes have been propounded by Government experts to control the Gumti floods ever since the question has engaged the attention of the Government?

(g) Have any of the schemes been tried?

(h) If so, what are the schemes which have been tried?

(i) If not, will the Government be pleased to state the reasons why no steps have yet been taken?

(j) When did the Government first have under consideration the abandonment of the Gumti embankment? Have the Government come to any final decision about it?

(k) When did the proposal of providing escape for discharge of surplus water come under the consideration of the Government?

(l) Is it a fact that this proposal has had the approval of expert opinion for some time past?

(m) Is it a fact that the proposal has not been carried out on account of the initial costs of the escapes and of the necessary channels?

(n) Is it a fact that the Agent of the Assam-Bengal Railway expressed an opinion in 1910 that the control and maintenance of the bunds were such as to invite disaster?

(o) Is it a fact that he urged that some definite policy should be decided upon as soon as possible?

(p) Is it a fact that in 1912, the Agent of the Assam-Bengal Railway reiterated his indictment against the authorities responsible for the construction and control of the bund, and complained of the complete want of any definite scheme for controlling the river Gumti and the continued absence of any decision in the matter?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" (a) The embankments on the Gumti were not constructed by, nor are they the property of, Government. The embankments on the upper reaches belong to His Highness the Raja of Hill Tippera, who has undertaken by a special agreement to keep them in repair to the satisfaction of Government. The embankments on the lower reaches belong to other private zamindars. Although all these embankments are private property, Government have all along endeavoured to see that they are so managed as to do as much good and as little harm as possible. The records show that Government have made these endeavours from 1845, and probably from an earlier date.

(c) Yes.

(f) The main schemes which have been suggested are—(1) the construction of retired lines of embankment, (2) the construction of escapes, (3) the construction of reservoirs to hold up a portion of the Gumti flood.

(g), (h) & (i) Some retired lines have been constructed. The other schemes involve grave difficulties—engineering, financial and administrative—and have not yet been attempted.

(j) Sir Henry Harrison, in his account of the action of the Government in dealing with embankments since the Permanent Settlement, stated: 'In Tippera the embankments on the Gumti were abandoned in 1845 and the result was also reported to be satisfactory.' The records show, however, that the embankments were still in existence (perhaps reconstructed) in 1881. In 1884 Colonel McNeile, then Chief Engineer, Bengal, proposed to demolish certain lengths of the embankments on the right bank of the river. This proposal was not accepted in full, but in 1890-92 the embankments on the lower reaches of the river were removed or lowered in height. The question of a further demolition or reduction of embankments was considered in 1916, but Government decided not to take further action on these lines until escapes or reservoirs be constructed.

(m) As noted above, the reasons were partly financial and partly otherwise.

(o) Yes.

(p) Yes. Since then Government have undertaken to see that the embankments are maintained in the state in which they existed when the railway was under construction. The Railway Company has also made an additional bridge. As a result the railway line is now practically safe."

By the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA :—

XIII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it was the case that in consequence of the flood of 1915 there was a conference held at Comilla in April 1916 to consider the Gumti embankment problem under the presidency of the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell? Gumti embankment.

(b) Was the conference attended by the Superintending Engineer, Eastern Circle, the Chief Engineer of the Assam-Bengal Railway and the District Engineer of Tippera?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the remedy or remedies decided on by the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell in consultation with the said Engineers?

(f) Is it a fact that the schemes of escape on either bank and the storage reservoir in the hills were accepted by the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell? If so, have these projects been given effect to?

(g) If not, will the Government be pleased to state the reasons why the said schemes were not carried out?

(h) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to expert opinion that the estimated cost of the damage caused by the flood in a single year is much greater than the cost of the most expensive scheme yet suggested?

(i) Is it in the contemplation of the Government to take any steps or to cause any steps to be taken in accordance with expert opinion? If so, what are the steps so contemplated?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" (a) & (b) Yes.

(c), (e), (f), (g) & (i) A copy of the proceedings of the conference is laid on the table. The decision of Government was as follows :—

' Unless and until storage reservoirs or escapes are provided, the embankments, and in particular the right embankment to the east of the railway bridge, shall be maintained as efficiently as possible and at a height not less than that at which they stood when the railway was under construction.'

The schemes for storage reservoirs and escapes are still under consideration.

(d) The Collector was requested to see that the Tippera Raj maintained the embankment on the lines of the Government order.

THE HON'BLE MR. N. D. BEATSON BELL, C.S.I., C.I.E., Member of Council (in the Chair).

E. GEAKE, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

J. H. LINDSAY, ESQ., I.C.S., Offg. Collector of Tippera.

C. P. WALSH, ESQ., Superintending Engineer.

The Agent, Assam-Bengal Railway.

The Chief Engineer, Assam-Bengal Railway.

BABU PEARY CHARAN GUPTA, District Engineer of Tippera.

„ PRASANNA KUMAR DAS GUPTA, Manager of the Tippera Raj Estate.

„ SITA NATH DAS, Manager, Gangamandal Estate.

„ ANUKUL CHANDRA ROY, Manager, Ward's Estates, Comilla.

RAI K. BANERJEE BAHADUR, Engineer, Gangamandal Estate.

BABU UPENDRA MOHAN MITRA, Legal Adviser, Gangamandal Estate.

MAULVI SYED ABDUL JABBAR, Zamindar.

BABU TARAK CHANDRA CHAUDHURY, Talukdar.

„ SATYENDRA NATH SEN BISWAS, Pleader.

The Manager of the Tippera Raj explained that the estate wished to remove altogether the embankment on the north side of the river both east and west of the railway, but to retain that on the south side. By this the town of Comilla would be saved, and the damage done to the raiyats on the north would not be excessive.

Babu Satyendra Nath Sen Biswas, speaking on behalf of the tenants of the Raj, opposed the removal of the embankment as the crops would be destroyed and the damage done would be greater than if Comilla were flooded. In this he was supported by several of the actual tenants present.

Babu Upendra Mohan Mitra, speaking for the Gangamandal estate, mentioned the large increase in its value since the creation of the embankment, that most of the estate was lowlying and would be reduced to useless bhil land on its removal. In this he was supported by Rai K. Banerjee Bahadur, who appeared on behalf of the Receiver of this estate. He laid stress on the fact that the river section at Comilla is double that at Jafarganj and asked that two spills might be made, one to the north and the other to the south, somewhere near Bibir hât. The Chairman pointed out that proposals for these two spills had already been examined by engineers and rejected in 1889. The tenants of this estate also spoke vehemently against the proposed demolition. They said that before the building of the embankment the Gangamandal pargana was a waste, very sparsely inhabited, but that now though lowlying it was prosperous and supported a large population. Several speakers suggested that the water from a spill in the north bank would probably find its way into the lowlying land of the Gangamandal pargana. The Manager of the Tippera Raj Estate said he was not much interested in the spill proposals, but wanted the north embankment to be demolished.

Enquiries by the Chairman elicited the fact that none of the estates had given any substantial help to their tenants who suffered last rains because of the breaching of the embankment.

Babu Kailash Chandra Bhattacharjee stated that the last year had shown that Comilla town was in imminent danger of severe flooding and asked that something should be done to improve matters. He had no definite suggestions to make.

Questions and Answers.

The Agent of the Assam-Bengal Railway asked that the right embankment to the east of the Railway might be retained. The new bridge, which was almost complete, would afford sufficient outlet from water coming over a prepared spill as through a breach in the embankment. But it would not be sufficient for the excess water which would come if the whole right embankment east of the railway were removed. He asked if the left bank was not higher than the right and this was admitted.

Finally Rai K. Banerjee Bahadur pointed out that if the embankments were removed the weak spots in the natural bank would have to be strengthened by pitching to prevent scouring once the river began to overflow its banks.

XV. With reference to the reply given to my Unstarred Question No. XX at the meeting of Council of the 4th September last, will the Government be pleased to state whether it is not a fact that there are at least four Muhammadan students living in a hide godown at No. 31, Upper Circular Road, and living in the midst of strangers?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

"It has been ascertained that two Muhammadan college students are living at No. 31, Upper Circular Road, with their uncle and guardian, who is the tenant of the house. It is a residential house and not a hide godown. There are also a scholar of the Madrasa, an ex-scholar of the same institution and a medical student in the house."

XVI. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the settlement operations in the Rajshahi Division have been indefinitely postponed?

(b) If so, is there any reason for this step other than that of curtailment of expenditure necessitated by the war in Europe?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Settlement operations are in progress in Rajshahi district. Under normal conditions they would have been initiated in the districts of Pabna and Bogra during the current year, but the settlement programme has been curtailed on account of the financial situation.

XVII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that Head Constable Paresh Chandra Bose, who was stationed at the Titagarh police-station, in the 24-Parganas, lost his life in the discharge of his duty in a scuffle with a number of gamblers whom he tried to arrest?

(b) If so, have the Government under consideration any proposal to provide for his family?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) It has been ascertained that on the night of the 26th October last information was received at the Titagarh police-station that gambling was going on in a public place. Head Constable Paresh Chandra Bose at once proceeded to the spot with a posse of constables and succeeded in arresting certain gamblers who were made over to the constables. After the arrests had been made, he suddenly fell backwards and died shortly after. He was not assaulted by any one and the gamblers offered no resistance. After a post-mortem examination, the Civil Surgeon declared death to have been due to rupture of the wall of the heart caused by exertion, the heart being dilated with very thin walls.

(b) Government have not yet received any such proposal, but they understand that a petition from a relation of the deceased is now under the consideration of the Inspector-General of Police."

(iii) how often the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal has visited the subdivision during the above period; and (iv) how many miles he travelled into the interior of the subdivision on each occasion?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (i) Separate statistics of the mortality due to malaria are not available, the deaths from malarial fever being included in the statistics under the head 'Fever.'

(ii) During 1915-16 two Sub-Assistant Surgeons were deputed on anti-malarial duty for five months. An Assistant Surgeon and Sub-Assistant Surgeon were also deputed to Tangail in the same year to investigate malaria with special reference to a proposed drainage scheme. A grant of Rs. 9,616 and a loan of Rs. 10,000 were made by Government in the years 1913-14 and 1914-15, respectively, for the purpose of this drainage scheme, which is now under construction.

" (a) On the Eastern Bengal Railway, except in the case of flag stations and a few stations where passenger traffic is small, all stations have waiting rooms or sheds for third and intermediate class passengers.

On the Assam-Bengal Railway practically every station has a booking hall with a verandah, the larger stations having separate waiting sheds.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

AGRICULTURAL BRANCH.

Calcutta, the 25th April 1916.

PRESS COMMUNIQUE.

IN view of recent correspondence in the Press on the subject of " Water-hyacinth," the following information may be of interest. The " Water-hyacinth " (Eichornia Crassipes) is found in most parts of Bengal. Botanically, it is not a hyacinth, but its beautiful purple flower has a considerable resemblance to the real hyacinth. Its appearance in Eastern Bengal is believed to date from about five years ago, since when it has spread very rapidly and in many places has blocked tanks and waterways. The same plant has been found to interfere with navigation in Florida, Australia and Indo-China. The Department of Agriculture in Bengal has been investigating the subject during the past two years. Though it is possible that some commercial use may yet be found for the plant, a more hopeful prospect lies in establishing its value for agricultural purposes as a manure. Analysis has already shown that "Water-hyacinth" contains a large percentage of potash, and tests of the use of the plant as manure will be carried out on the Dacca Farm this year, and the results will be published in due course. If the manurial value of the plant be fully established and widely recognised, it is hoped that cultivators will put it to this use and thus prevent it spreading as a harmful weed.

(b) Have the Government any proposal before them for restoring the steamer service in the near future?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

"(a) Yes.

When these steamers have been released by Government, the Steamer Companies will take steps to reintroduce a daily service."

Embankments on the Ajai river.

XXIV. (a) Is it a fact that a proposal has been submitted to Government involving the taking over of the zemindari embankment, on the north bank of the river Ajai, with a view to ensure the protection of the lands and villages on the north of the Ajai, in the district of Birbhum, from damage by floods?

(b) Are the Government taking any action to repair the breaches in the embankment on the southern bank of the Ajai between Satkonia and Sagarpootal?

(c) Are the Government aware that the opinion has been recorded that the existence of this embankment subjects the country down to Sagarpootal to damage by floods?

(d) Are the Government also aware that the area of the land lying between the Ajai and the Kunoor, and the villages south of the Damodar, in the district of Burdwan, are damaged almost every year by floods?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

"(a) A proposal to repair a short length of embankment on the north bank of the river Ajai at Baledangal in the district of Birbhum is now before the Bengal Government for decision. The length of this embankment is approximately 1 mile only and will protect a very small area on the north bank in the village of Naranpur.

(b) Yes, it is hoped that all breaches in the embankments mentioned will be completely repaired before June of the year 1917.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes, to a certain extent."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM asked the following SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTION :—

Are the Government making an inquiry as to the extent of the damage caused by the floods of the Ajai and Kunoor rivers?

XXV. (a) Is it a fact that before the year 1913 the Public Works Department Subdivisional Officer of Idilpur submitted a report to the higher authorities to the effect that the Ajai embankment near Satkonia and Bhedia was in a bad condition and that there was every danger of a breach and suggested that the embankment should be repaired?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

"(a) It does not appear that any such report has been received. It is a fact that the breaching of the embankment No. 29 in its 4th mile was reported by the Subdivisional Officer of [dilpur on the 15th of June, 1911.

(b) The report alluded to in (a) above led to an examination of the system of Schedule D embankments on the Ajai river. An estimate (Rs. 23,990) was prepared for raising Schedule D embankments Nos. 27, 28 and 29 on the right bank of the river to a height of 3 feet above the high-flood level of 1911. This raising was not however carried out, as subsequent inquiries raised doubts as to the soundness of the proposal."

(c) Are the Government aware that this practice causes great inconvenience to witnesses, to parties and to their legal advisers?

(d) Are the Government considering the desirability of issuing instructions to the effect that judicial work should be taken up earlier in the day and that Deputy Collectors should do their revenue work after attending to their judicial duties?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Government are not aware that any Deputy Magistrates at the headquarters of the Burdwan district habitually take up judicial work late in the afternoon. It is a fact that Magistrates sometimes sit until 7 o'clock, but this does not often occur.

(b) & (c) Government are aware that witnesses and parties are required to attend at 10 o'clock. It is not a fact that they are required to wait till late in the evening, even when it is known to the Court that their cases are not to be taken up that day.

(d) The answer is in the negative. It is not practicable to lay down a rule that judicial work should always be taken up first. Magistrates are well aware that it is their duty to see that witnesses are not unnecessarily detained, and special attention is paid to this point at inspections."

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of issuing instructions to the effect that Deputy Magistrates at headquarters who are doing judicial work should be relieved of their revenue and other duties and that those doing revenue and other work should be relieved of their judicial duties?

From—The HON'BLE MR. C. J. STEVENSON-MOORE, C.V.O., I.C.S., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal,

To—All Commissioners of Divisions.

THE question whether it is necessary to allow leave for an hour or two on Fridays to Muhammadan employés of Government to enable them to say their Juma prayers has recently been under the consideration of Government, and I am directed to communicate to you the following orders on the subject.

2. The Governor in Council is of opinion that no hard and fast rule need be laid down as the conditions prevailing in different parts of the Presidency vary, and any general direction may interfere with the satisfactory working of the machinery of Government. At the same time it is desirable that reasonable facilities should be granted to all communities to perform their religious duties and His Excellency is accordingly pleased to direct that permission should be given on Fridays to such Muhammadan employés of Government as ask for it, to say their Juma prayers, on the understanding that they make up the time by working extra hours during the week, if necessary.

3. I am to request that these orders may be communicated to all District and Subdivisional Officers in your division.

TO THE DISTRICT JUDGE OF

Dated Calcutta, the 28th April 1916.

SIR,

I AM directed to request that you will be so good as to bring the following matter prominently to the notice of the members of the Provincial Judicial Service employed in your district.

2. The High Court have hitherto made recommendations for promotion in the Judicial Branch of the Provincial Civil Service in accordance with the principles laid down in the following rule :—

" Promotion to grades below that on Rs. 600 a month will ordinarily be given according to seniority, subject to fitness and approved conduct. But the Lieutenant-Governor* reserves to himself the right to make promotion to the senior grades of the Provincial Service by special selection for merit without regard to seniority, and hereby declares that seniority alone shall not give a claim to appointment to the grade on Rs. 600 or higher grades.

* Now the Governor in Council.

3. The general conditions governing appointments to the Provincial Civil Services have now been reconsidered by the Government of India in connection with the inquiries made by the Public Services Commission, and the principles determined for future guidance are set out in the Home Department Resolution Nos. 1046-58, dated the 19th August, 1910, which contains the following condition relating to promotion :—

" The Local Government should reserve to itself the right to make promotion to the superior grades of the Provincial Civil Service without regard to seniority, and seniority alone should not give a claim to appointment to the grade of Rs. 500 a month and higher grades."

Questions and Answers.

4. The Judges have decided, in concurrence with the Government of Bengal, that the condition above referred to should be strictly applied to the Judicial Branch of the Provincial Civil Service. Accordingly, in future, they will recommend to Government for promotion to the superior grades of the service only officers who, on their merits, are clearly entitled to such promotion; and the members of the Service should, therefore, understand that seniority alone will give no claim to appointments in the grade on Rs. 500 a month and higher grades.

5. The Judges have also decided, in order to give effect to this principle, to procure as much information as possible regarding the merits of each candidate for promotion. In addition to the character reports submitted by District Judges annually, special reports will be called for on the merits and work of officers due for promotion to the grade of Rs. 500 and upwards, and such material as may be available from the records of the High Court will also be carefully examined, so that the case of every officer will receive detailed consideration before he is recommended for promotion.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. M. VEITCH,

Registrar.

(c) What has been, year by year, the approximate total area in Bengal, excluding Government farms, which has been sown with the seed of each of these improved types of crops?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) Owing to these varieties having each been produced from selected single plants, the determination of their economic value could only be arrived at after they had been multiplied on a sufficiently large scale to permit of field trials. This may be said to have been effected last year.

The grounds for the discharge of the twenty-one men were the reduction of the demonstration staff owing to the separation of the statistical from the purely agricultural work in the districts. LI. (b) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of requiring the Eastern Bengal Railway Company to provide steps for such passengers, like those which are provided at Goalundo for first and second class passengers?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" (a) Government are aware that a certain amount of inconvenience is felt by intermediate and third class female passengers on the broad gauge portion of the Eastern Bengal Railway, owing to the absence of facilities for entering or alighting from trains where no platform exists.

(b) At stations such as Goalundo and Santahar, where steps are provided for first and second class passengers, the railway authorities are arranging to supply steps also for the zenana compartments of the intermediate and third classes."

(c) If the answer to clause (b) of the question is in the affirmative, are the Government considering the desirability of issuing instructions to the Steamer Companies enjoining the strict observance of the rule?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" (a) Yes, vide sections 6 (1), 11 and 54 A of the Inland Steam Vessels Act of 1884.

(b) & (c) Government have no information that excess numbers of passengers are frequently or habitually carried on inland steamers, but if the Hon'ble Member will favour Government with any information that he may have to this effect, an inquiry will be made and the result communicated to the Hon'ble Member."

LIII. Will the Government be pleased to state whether the river steamers, which carry passengers, have a sufficient number of life boats for use in emergencies? Life boats in River Steamers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. GREEN :—

" The scale of life-saving appliances is regulated by rules Nos. 23 and 24 on pages 56 and 57 of the Manual of Requirements for the Survey of Inland Steam Vessels, which is issued under the powers vested in Government by the Inland Steam Vessels Act, VI of 1884. All life-saving appliances are on board the vessel at the time of the survey and no ship is passed unless this is so, and unless all the appliances are in good condition and fully satisfy the rules. Inland steam vessels do not carry life boats but ordinary open gigs and cutters, which have been found to be the most suitable form of boat for their requirements. Government are satisfied that the present rules are complied with by the Steamer Companies, but Government are now examining these rules in order to see whether the scale of boats and other appliances requires amendment."

Resolution.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

His Excellency addressed the Council as follows :—

"I shall not keep you waiting for many minutes before we get to our ordinary business I would not keep you at all, were it not that custom demands that the President should say something at the opening of each cold weather session. I am very glad to welcome you here. I hope that you may be able to do something useful during this session. I am sure you will, because not only will there be the budget to deal with but I feel sure you will ask questions and perhaps move resolutions which will be of great interest, but I cannot promise you much legislative work. Indeed at this moment it seems to me that there is only one Bill with which Government are at all likely to ask you to deal.

We hope to be able to introduce and pass the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, whose object is to supplement and amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, in respect of the alienation of land by aboriginals. I cannot, I fear, claim that this Bill will excite much interest: I do not think it will call forth much enthusiasm, but I hope it may prove to be useful.

I regret to say there seems to me no hope of our being able to do anything in regard to the Calcutta Municipal Bill during the present session. That Bill was one of the first things which I considered after I came to Bengal, and I have been sorry each year when it had to be put off.

I regret too that there is probably no chance of our being able to bring in, as I much hoped we might have done, the Bengal Village Self-Government Bill—a Bill which will, we hope, some day help to extend the system of Self-Government in Bengal. As you know this Bill is mainly due to the labours of my colleague, Mr. Beatson Bell, and I feel sure that you will recognize its importance. and I did most sincerely hope that it would have been passed before I left Bengal. for I believe it will go a very long way towards making a sure foundation in Bengal, on which, in time, a very useful structure will be built. I can only hope that my successor may be more fortunate in regard to these measures than I have been and that when eventually they can be brought in and passed, the people of Bengal will find that the delay has been for their advantage.

The war still affects us as it affects people in every part of the world, though not in the same manner. I wish to call your attention to one point. I, and probably you, have often been told how much other provinces have done in the way of sending officials to Military Service. You and I have been glad to hear it. I do not know whether you realize what Bengal has done in this way. If you do, I do not think you will feel that we here have any cause to be ashamed, especially when we consider the relative size of our cadres. Altogether Bengal has supplied 333 officers for some form of Military Service—71 haved joined the Indian Army Reserve of Officers, including 23 men from the Indian Civil Service, 11 from the P. W. D., 9 from the Customs, 7 from the Education Department, and 7 from the Police. Many more officers would have liked to go, and offered to go, from each Department, if we had been able to spare them. Ninety-four men have joined other units on active service. In addition to this, we have supplied 141 medical men, including 37 I.M.S. officers. 29 Military Assistant Surgeons, 75 Assistant and Sub-Assistant Surgeons. Five Government servants have joined the Bengal Double Company and about a dozen others served with the Bengal Ambulance Corps. Four of our officers have been killed in action; one died of disease while on service and one is missing.

Before I sit down I would like to mention that soon, probably before our next meeting, you will all have a copy of a new edition of the Bengal Legislative Council Manual which the Bengal Legislative Department, and especially Mr. McKay, have carefully brought up-to-date and enlarged. I trust that it will be as useful to you as the earlier editions compiled by Mr. Wigley have been to members of this Council in the past."

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following resolution :—

'This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the system of trial by jury be extended to all those districts in Bengal in which it is not at present in force.'

He said :—

"My Lord, the Jury system was first inaugurated by the Criminal Procedure Code passed in 1861 (Act XXV of 1861), under section 322 of which the Government of Bengal introduced the system into 7 districts, viz., the 24-Parganas, Hooghly, Burdwan, Murshidabad, Nadia, Patna and Dacca. This was in 1862. Thirty-five years after, i.e., in 1897 the system was extended to 4 other districts, viz., Chittagong, Mymensingh, Rajshahi and Jessore. So that the system is now in force in 10 out of the 26 districts of Bengal. (Patna no longer forming a part of Bengal.)

I have now the honour of moving for the extension of the system to the remaining 16 districts of the Presidency.

Now, my Lord, my contention is that the time has now arrived—in fact it had arrived long before—when the system of Trial by Jury should be extended to all the remaining districts of Bengal. I shall not dwell upon the inherent merits of Jury trial as a system. They are universally admitted. But to make out a case in favour of my resolution, it lies on me only to establish that the system has worked satisfactorily in those districts in which it has been in force. It has now been under trial for over half a century and my submission is that it has been nothing but a success. But without giving my own humble opinion on this question, I propose to place before Your Excellency the verdict of competent authorities, both official and non-official, on the working of the Jury system in Bengal in chronological order.

Less than three years after the introduction of the system, the District Judge of Nadia expressed, in 1864, his decided opinion that it had worked well. From his actual experience of the trials in his court, he was satisfied that the presence of a Jury in criminal cases had been of essential assistance to himself, and was regarded by the Indians themselves as a safeguard against errors of judgment and a guarantee that all the details in a case would be fully understood before any conclusion was formed. He observed 'Every year I hope to see an improvement of what, in its present stage, can only be regarded as an experiment.'

In 1865, the then Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Cecil Beadon, after an elaborate examination of the working of the system during the period of five years 'and on a review of the reports, submitted both by the executive and judiciary' came to the conclusion that the experiment had succeeded to an extent which was scarcely to be anticipated and that on the whole the Jurymen had discharged their duties intelligently and conscientiously. In the same year the High Court remarked that the Jury system worked well in the districts into which it had been introduced in 1862.

Two years later, in February 1867, Sir Cecil Beadon recorded his deliberate and mature conviction, 'founded on long experience and observation, and specially on the results of the system in the Lower Provinces, so far as it had been acted upon', that the trial of all offences before the courts of sessions, in all parts of the Lower Provinces, ought to be by Jury; and that the system might be universally adopted not only without prejudice to the administration of criminal justice, but with decided benefit to the courts, and with increased confidence on the part of the public in their judgments. He observed that it had been his invariable aim to select the most efficient and generally the most experienced officers at his disposal, to serve as judges in the jury districts, and that it might be, in some degree, owing to the care with which selection of judges had been made that the system had been so entirely successful as far as it had been introduced. He added that even if there were one or two judges on the mufassal Bench who were not fully competent to direct a jury,

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

it seemed to him that this circumstance ought not to operate against the general introduction of a measure believed otherwise to be expedient.

My Lord, it is now precisely 50 years since one of the most illustrious rulers of the Province, Sir Cecil Beadon, proposed seriously and earnestly to extend the Jury system to all districts and to all offences triable by Courts of Session. Half a century of British rule has since elapsed—is it too much, my Lord, even now to claim the extension—a consummation which was so devoutly wished in 1867? May I not very legitimately claim that my resolution is a very modest one? May it be reasonably said that I am asking for too much? Sir Cecil Beadon was not an impatient idealist or a visionary enthusiast. He was the responsible ruler of Bengal. Besides his views were not looked upon as ultra radical or fantastic—those were views in which the Government of India also coincided generally. And if the Government of India declined to extend the system to all districts and to all offences at that time, they did so, not because competent jurymen were not available in the country but because in their opinion competent judges were not then available—judges competent to advise and guide the jury properly. What an irony of fate it is that the people of a vast province were refused such a progressive institution for no other reason than that the judges were not competent to preside over a jury trial.

Seventeen years later, i.e., in 1884, the Government of Bengal reopened the question of the extension of the jury system and asked the opinion of the High Court whether it was desirable to introduce Trial by Jury into other districts. The letter of the Government of Bengal, dated the 17th July, 1884, addressed to the High Court after a review of all the official reports on the working of the system from 1862 to 1884 concluded as follows:—"Without going so far as to pronounce the system of Trial by Jury to have been anything like a complete success, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that it has worked fairly well in the more advanced districts to which it has been applied. Occasionally, no doubt, bad verdicts had been given by juries and miscarriages of justice have resulted; but since 1872, when at the suggestion of Mr. Justice Jackson, the law was amended and a reference to the High Court allowed in cases in which the presiding Judge considered the verdict given to be wrong, these have decreased in number. It will be seen from paragraph 7 of this letter that Sir Cecil Beadon advocated the extension of the system to all the districts of the Lower Provinces so far back as 1867, when it had been in force for only five years. This proposal was apparently abandoned in deference to the views which had been expressed by the High Court that a longer trial should be given to the system in the districts into which it had been originally introduced. Upwards of 11 years have elapsed since Sir Cecil Beadon's Resolution of February 1867 was recorded and Mr. Rivers Thompson thinks the time has now come when the matter might with advantage be reconsidered. I am accordingly to request that the Hon'ble Judges may be moved to favour him with expression of their opinion as to the advisability of extending the system to the districts named in the margin."*

*Midnapore, Rajshahi, Rangpur, Mymensingh, Chittagong and Cuttack.

Sir Rivers Thompson was District Judge of jury districts for a considerable period and had thus enormous experience which is the real training and education of men in responsibility, and was therefore pre-eminently in a position to speak with authority on the subject. This enhances the value of the deliberate opinion recorded by Sir Rivers Thompson about the success of the Jury system in Bengal.

The Judges of the High Court could not, however, agree. Justices Mitter, Norris and Ghosh were for extension, but the other Judges were not. The result was, that on this occasion also, the proposal of the Bengal Government for extension of the system had to be dropped. But, my Lord, more things happened in 1884 than I have yet described—in fact, I have presented only one side of the shield. The disappointment of the Indians in 1884 was more than compensated by the unusual advance made by the Europeans in this country in the matter of Trial by Jury. In that memorable year—memorable for more reasons than I can legitimately discuss here—during those troubled days, my Lord, the Europeans in this country were fighting tooth and nail for their rights and privileges as regards the administration of justice. They were very naturally keen about this valued right of Trial by Jury and they acquired it in 1884 after a stormy but triumphant agitation—an agitation which was so vehement and so violent that history has immortalised it by the dignified but sensational expression of "white mutiny". Act III of 1884, gave every European British subject, charged with an offence, however trivial it may be, not only before a Sessions Judge but even before a District Magistrate, the right to claim to be tried by a jury of which, not less than half the number shall be Europeans or Americans. It is a claim which cannot be made by an Englishman in a Magistrate's Court in his own country. Suppose a European of Faridpur or Comilla is charged with committing trespass or mischief, the pettiest of offences known to criminal law before the District Magistrate, he can claim to be tried by a jury. But it is denied to an Indian citizen even if he is charged with murder in the Court of the Sessions Judge of the same place. This distinction between the Indians and Europeans is so remarkable and so glaring that it is not at all consistent with sound and impartial administration of justice. It is quite out of tune, my Lord, with the truly liberal policy which Your Excellency has been striving amid unparalleled difficulties to follow in Bengal. It is a distinction, the perpetuation of which can by no means be consistent with wisdom and statesmanship. The distinction is naturally enough resented by my countrymen, and it is high time, my Lord, that it should be removed. I appeal to Your Excellency with all the earnestness that I can command to do away with this needless distinction between the Indians and Europeans as regards the right of trial by jury, so far of course as lies within Your Excellency's power

But to return to my chronological story. I have brought it down to 1884. I am not aware whether there are any official reports between 1884 and 1890. The year 1892, however, is a very memorable year in the history of the Jury system in Bengal. But before I come to 1892, I propose to draw the attention of the Council to what the people, not only in Bengal, but throughout the length and breadth of the Indian continent, felt and thought and spoke about the Jury system. How keen the people of Bengal in particular were about this matter at this time will appear from an incident which occurred on the eve of Lord Ripon's departure from Calcutta on a certain occasion.

Before bidding farewell to one of the leaders of public opinion in Bengal, his Lordship asked "Now, tell me, my friend, what can I do for you"? To this the latter replied, going down on his knees, "My Lord, concede to us the right of Trial by Jury." The kneeling gentleman was no other than the late Babu Shishir Kumar Ghosh, the foremost patriot of his generation. In 1884 the Bengal Government, as we have seen, proposed the extension of the system, and in the year following, the Indian National Congress held its first meeting in Bombay. We find, that almost from the very foundation of that great and august body, resolutions were passed from year to year praying for the extension of the system to other districts and for greater finality for the verdicts of jurors.

Vide Resolution	No. 8	of 1886.
,,	No. 4	of 1888.
,,	No. 3(b)	of 1889.
,,	No. 2(b)	of 1890.
,,	No. 7(b)	of 1891.

Thus we find the glorious and edifying spectacle of the Government and the people, the officials and non-officials standing on a common platform and advocating the extension of the Jury system, for which, my Lord, I am now claiming Your Excellency's favourable and sympathetic consideration. Verily this was a sight for the gods to see and enjoy. But the gods, like men, have their reverses and disappointments and they were not allowed to enjoy this sight for any length of time. For, on the 20th October, 1892, Sir Charles Elliott, the then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, issued a Notification, not for extension but for limitation of the system, withdrawing the right of Trial by Jury in the majority of serious offences including murder and rioting.

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

The people asked for bread but instead stones were flung at them. This Notification came to the people like a bolt from the blue and evoked in the country a unanimous outburst of indignant protest which even the author of the Notification felt unable to disregard. On the 30th December, 1892, the Indian National Congress at Allahabad passed a resolution demanding not only the withdrawal of the Jury Notification but also the extension of the system. The following two days were holidays and on the very next office day, viz., 2nd January, 1893, the Lieutenant-Governor addressed an important despatch to the Government of India stating that he desired to reconsider the question and suggested the appointment of a Commission to consider the matter. The above-mentioned Resolution of the Indian National Congress was moved by the late Babu Guru Prosad Sen and seconded by Rai Baikunta Nath Sen Bahadur. The speeches of these two level-headed and sagacious leaders proved conclusively, not by declamation and denunciation, but by 'a careful examination of the crime statistics for a number of years taken from the Administration Reports' that the Jury system worked much better than the non-jury or the Assessor system. The very fact that even the author of the Notification with all the natural bias for it was induced to reconsider the matter and to institute forthwith a careful and satisfactory inquiry is proof positive of the fact, if any proof is needed, that the Indian National Congress made out a very strong case in favour of the Jury system. There is therefore no reason to brush aside the Resolution of Babu Guru Prosad Sen as an expression merely of non-official opinion. In fact, I venture to place this Resolution on the same footing with the recommendations of Sir Cecil Beadon and Sir Rivers Thompson for extension of the Jury system and claim no less authority and weight for the former than must unquestionably be conceded by all to the latter.

My Lord, out of evil cometh good. The Jury Notification led to the appointment of the Jury Commission, who, after a most careful and critical examination of the working of the system from 1862 to 1892, and, who, after examining the whole literature on the subject including all official and judicial reports, arrived at the following important conclusions :—

"After the fullest consideration of the very abundant materials before us we cannot come to the conclusion that the Jury system in its present shape has proved a failure in Bengal. Our general conclusion is the same as that arrived at by the Local Government in 1884, that system has worked fairly well in the more advanced districts to which it has been applied." "And dealing more specifically with the Notification of Sir Charles Elliott, the Commission recorded the following opinion :— * * * * we have come to the unanimous conclusion that the classification of offences triable by jury as it stood before the 20th October, 1892, should be reverted to."

And who were the members of this Commission? The President was no other than Mr. Prinsep who was Judge of the Calcutta High Court for a very long time. Among the members were Sir Romesh Chunder Mitter, another illustrious Judge, 'who officiated as Chief Justice of Bengal,' and Sir Griffith Evans, Advocate-General of Bengal, 'who enjoyed such unstinted confidence of the Government that they appointed him member of the Supreme Legislative Council for about a quarter of a century.'

The Commission submitted their report on the 24th March, 1893. And only three days after, i.e., on the 27th March, the people hailed with delight the publication by the Bengal Government of a Notification by which the Jury Notification of the 20th October was cancelled.

All that happened during the time of Sir Charles Elliott afforded, therefore, the clearest vindication of the Jury system in Bengal. He no doubt condemned the system in the first instance but through the mysterious dispensation of Providence he eventually proved himself to be the most genuine and ardent supporter of the institution.

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Dutta.)

So I feel justified in contending that Sir Charles Elliott like Sir Cecil Beadon and Sir Rivers Thompson was an advocate of the Jury system in Bengal.

But there is a strange fatality which has always attended this ill-fated institution in Bengal. For, in spite of the fiery ordeal it passed through in 1892 and 1893, all that was done was merely the maintenance of the status quo. The question of extension of the system to other districts was not at all referred to the Commission 'who felt that they were not authorised to travel beyond the matters expressly referred to them, although they received representations on the subject from many non-jury districts.'

The result was that, in spite of the vindication of the Jury system by such competent expert opinion, no step was taken in 1893 for the extension of the same. But the people were not satisfied with merely regaining lost ground. They were keen for extension. Accordingly we find the Indian National Congress reopening the question of the extension of the Jury system in 1894 and passing a resolution in that behalf year after year. I shall only quote the text of one typical resolution, viz., the resolution which was passed by the twelfth Congress in 1896. "That this Congress having regard to the opinion of the Jury Commission as to the success of the system of Trial by Jury, and to the fact that with the progress of education a sufficient number of educated persons is available in all parts of the country, and concurring with previous Congresses, is of opinion that Trial by Jury should be extended to districts and offences to which the system at present does not apply and that the verdicts should be final." The Government was apparently satisfied with the reasonableness of the demand and made a slight response. On the 19th April, 1897, the Bengal Government published a Notification by which the system of Trial by Jury was extended to the districts of Chittagong, Mymensingh, Rajshahi and Jessore with respect to certain offences. My Lord, while certainly thankful to the Government for this concession, my countrymen looked upon it only as a small instalment of a large debt still due to them. The extension of the system in 1897, slight as it is, is valuable to us as a distinct recognition once more by the Government that the system has been nothing but a success in the 7 districts in which it had been under trial for a period of thirty-five years.

Since then education has made phenomenal progress all over Bengal and if education is any test of fitness for this valued right, then it cannot possibly be gainsaid that every district of Bengal has fully established its claim to the Jury system.

Let us now for one moment turn to facts and figures. Let us compare the number of schools, colleges, graduates and under-graduates in 1862, 1867, 1884, 1893, 1897 and 1916. The position is so very clear and so absolutely uncontroversial that I should not feel justified in trespassing upon Your Excellency's time to labour this point by an examination of the statistics on the subject. I shall content myself with summing up the position very broadly by stating that education in the most backward district to-day in 1916 compares very favourably with education in the most advanced district in 1862. There can be no denying the fact that if there was any one district in Bengal which was fit for the Jury system in 1862, then judged by the test of education there is no district now in Bengal which can reasonably be considered unfit for the same. If competent jurors were available in Nadia in 1862—we have quoted the opinion of the Judge of Nadia that they were available—can it be said with any semblance of reason that after the lapse of over half a century there will not be found a sufficiently large number of educated men in Tippera or Bakarganj, in Faridpur or Midnapur to draw jurors from? Is there any conceivable reason why Tippera and Faridpur should be considered unfit for jury trial in 1916 when Burdwan and Hooghly were found qualified in 1862? The system was introduced in all the districts of Assam with respect to all offences triable by courts of session as early as 1862. Can it be seriously contended that the 16 Bengal districts on behalf of which I am moving this resolution are more backward in 1916 than the even now benighted Assam districts were in 1862? My Lord, I am not demanding more for the Bengal districts than the Assam districts have, as a matter of fact, already enjoyed for the last fifty-four years.

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

There is one very important fact which I should have mentioned before. I have cited many authorities, but I have not yet cited the authority of the very authors of the Jury system in British India. The system, as I have said, was introduced by the Criminal Procedure Code of 1861. The history of that legislation so far as the question now before us is concerned, is both interesting and instructive. The Indian Law Commissioners 'appointed under the Indian Act of 1853' upon whose report the Code of Criminal Procedure was introduced in the Imperial Legislative Council in 1859 recommended the present double system of jury and assessor. The Code, as prepared by the Commissioners, was laid before the Legislative Council and referred to a Select Committee. Now, my Lord, I beg leave to call your special attention to the report of the Select Committee. They did not accept the double system and struck out altogether the provision respecting assessors and provided for the introduction of a general system of Trial by Jury. We arrive at the next stage, my Lord, when the report of the Select Committee was presented before the Council who approved and adopted the uniform system recommended by the Select Committee. In other words the Bill as approved by the Imperial Council provided for the introduction of the Jury system in all districts.

We now come to the last and final stage when the Bill was submitted for approval to the Secretary of State for India in Council, who, however, was of opinion that the course recommended by the Law Commissioners should be followed, that trial in the Session Courts should be generally conducted with the aid of assessors, and that Trial by Jury being settled by law in regard to certain classes it should be left to the Government to extend it to localities as it may deem fit. The Imperial Council accordingly modified their own conclusions and the present double system was brought into existence. It will thus appear that, but for the interference of the Home Government, the Jury system would have been introduced throughout the length and breadth of the Province as early as 1862. My Lord, I am not asking for more than the Supreme Council very graciously, but none the less solemnly, proposed to give us more than half-a-century before. I use the word "graciously" advisedly because the legislation proposed by them was not the result of any agitation or public opinion but proceeded from themselves.

The principal argument against the extension of the Jury system is that the jurors sometimes return wrong verdicts. The Jury system, after all, is a human institution and jurors are, after all, men. Like all other human institutions the Jury system is also bound to have its ordinary share of imperfections. Like all other men the jurors are also liable to err. It is therefore only natural and inevitable that the verdicts of the jurors in some cases will be erroneous. Is this, however, a ground for condemning the system? Are there any tribunals of any description in any country which are absolutely free from wrong verdicts? Are not the decisions of the Sessions Judges in the non-jury districts reversed by the High Court in an appreciably large number of cases? Are not even capital sentences in non-jury districts set aside by the High Court and replaced by order of acquittal? Are not the decisions of the High Courts not infrequently set aside by their Lordships of the Judicial Committee? Is that a ground for the abolition or condemnation of the Sessions Courts or High Courts? Has not the elaborate machinery of our law courts 'beginning from the courts of the Deputy Magistrates and Munsiffs with provisions for appeals in the court of the District Magistrates and District and Sessions Judges and for second appeal and revision and reference in the High Courts with the Privy Council in England as the highest tribunal for counteracting and undoing all the blunders committed by the courts of the various grades in India, has not this elaborate machinery' for its basis the fundamental truth that the verdicts of all courts and all tribunals must inevitably be wrong in some cases? We have no right to claim or expect utopian perfection for the Jury system. We ought to judge it by that ordinary standard by which we ordinarily judge all other human institutions. No institution is or can be ideally perfect.

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

The complaint against the jurors comes chiefly from the police. The police complain because the jurors cannot and do not always see eye to eye with the police. They complain because the jurors sometimes fail to give credence to the evidence that is brought up by the police in Sessions Courts and let off innocent persons who are not infrequently sent up by the police. On this rather ticklish and delicate question, my Lord, I shall not hazard any opinion of my own but with Your Excellency's permission I shall quote the authority of no less a personage than Sir Rivers Thompson who observed that the jurymen were more scrupulous in accepting police evidence than the Judges were and that it was quite right that they should be so scrupulous. There is one fact which lends the utmost weight to the observation of Sir Rivers Thompson. Obviously he did not consider this "scrupulousness" on the part of the jurors to be a discredit or a demerit, for, in spite of this opinion, he was, as a matter of fact, one of the greatest advocates of this institution and he was anxious for gradual extension of the same. I may be permitted, however, to observe that over-scrupulousness on the part of the jury is a failing which leans on virtue's side, if it is a failing at all. One of the fundamental principles of jurisprudence is that it is better to let off ninety-nine guilty men than to send one innocent man to jail. This over-scrupulousness is not the characteristic of the Bengalee jurors alone. That is the distinguishing feature of jurors in England also. Mr. John Bright, speaking of the jurors in England, observed that the jury naturally were over-scrupulous in weighing evidence in cases where punishment might be death. But I shall cite still another high authority and shall quote the following passage from the report of the Jury Commission:

"Some of the verdicts alleged to be erroneous may be fairly attributable to distrust of police evidence and of the manner in which cases are got up by the police. This distrust has not been without reason in the past, but steps have been recently taken to improve the police generally, and in particular investigation and preparation of cases shall be entrusted to a higher and more trustworthy class of officers. With these improvements the distrust may be expected to gradually disappear." Whether the hope of improvements of the police and their methods has been justified by the event may or may not be a matter of controversy, and whether the distrust of the police evidence has since disappeared or is still one of the disadvantages the jurors labour under in coming to a right decision—quite apart from those considerations, we have at all events here a most significant and unequivocal pronouncement of most competent Judges that the alleged erroneous verdicts are not always erroneous in point of fact that it is the unreliable police evidence which is the real cause for failure of prosecution and that if there is anything wrong in those cases, it is not in the verdict of the jury but in the very inception of the case—in the placing of a wrong man upon trial and in the attempt to obtain conviction by evidence which is not acceptable to the jury. The opinion of the Jury Commission comes to this, that the police in the first instance try to obtain conviction by misleading the jury by unreliable evidence and that when the jury are intelligent enough to see through their tactics they raise the stereotyped cry—"The verdict is wrong, the verdict is perverse."

The reports of the Judicial Officers as to the success of the system in Bengal, although not uniform, are, on the whole, decidedly favourable. Some of them reported strongly in favour of it, others reported against it. But with respect to the latter, the Jury Commission observed that many of the Judicial Officers who reported against the system based much of their opposition to it on grounds not special to Bengal but equally applicable to England.

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

The Judges either agree or disagree with the verdict of the jury. If they agree, then certainly the verdict is not erroneous—at all events it is not erroneous in their estimate. It is only when they disagree that the Judges call the verdict of the jurors to be erroneous. Now the verdict of the jury cannot with confidence be said to be erroneous merely because the Judge differs from the same. There is absolutely no justification for the assumption that in all cases of difference of opinion the Judge is right and the jury wrong. On the contrary, the jury-men being drawn from the people themselves are better able to decide questions of fact than the Judges who are more or less unfamiliar with the customs, manners, and languages of the accused and the witnesses. It is universally admitted that jurors are more often right in the facts than the Judges. That is the dispassionate judgment even of the Judges themselves all over India. I shall quote the testimony of three Judges from three Presidencies. Mr. Woogan, District Judge of Cuttack, observed so far back as 1884 :—" I have found the assessors as a rule take an intelligent interest in the proceedings * * * and although I think them in some cases prone to acquit, I have frequently found where I have over-ruled, that their doubts were endorsed by the High Court on appeal." Mr. Benson, a Judge of the Madras Presidency, remarked in 1890, " Jurors are more often right on the facts than Judges in their self-sufficiency give them credit for." In the same year Sir Charles Farran, Chief Justice of Bombay, said : * * " The verdict of the jurors, by reason of the local knowledge they possess and their more perfect acquaintance with the habits, customs and modes of thought, of the accused and of the witnesses examined before them is more likely to be correct than the decision of a Judge, though the latter approaches the considerations of the case with a more trained intelligence and a more logical mind, but with less accurate preception of native life and native thoughts." That is also the verdict of the Jury Commission who observed that compared with the Sessions Judges, a local jury should be better able to draw inference of fact and to discriminate between the truth and falsehood of conflicting oral evidence given in their language. One of the greatest disadvantages of a Sessions trial in this country is that many of our European Judges do not know the language of the accused and the witnesses and some of them do not care to know it. This is simply disastrous for the end of justice.

As a matter of fact there are numourous cases in which the High Court on a full consideration of the evidence upheld the verdict of the jury and rejected that of the Judge.

It should be borne in mind that the success of the jury system depends to some extent upon the efficiency of the Judges. In a jury trial, the Judge must play the rôle of a friend, philosopher and guide to the jurors. In their Report on the Criminal Administration of Bengal for the year 1865, the High Court went so far as to remark that the success of the system depended not so much upon the proper selection of persons to form the jury list as upon the ability and care with which the presiding Judge performed the duty of explaining the case to the jurors, and they therefore strongly urged the importance of invariably selecting the most experienced and efficient officers at the disposal of the Government to serve as Judges in the jury districts. Sir Cecil Beadon recorded precisely the same opinion in 1867. In the same year the India Government refused to adopt Sir Cecil's recommendation of extension of jury trial to other districts not because competent jurors were not available but because Judges of assured capacity of the requisite number were not then available. In this connection permit me, my Lord, to quote the following passage from the report of the Jury Commission :

" It must be borne in mind that some of the erroneous verdicts are probably due to want of practice on the part of the Judges in the very difficult art of charging a jury. A good and clear charge or an inefficient one frequently makes all the difference in a verdict. The careful appointment of only the best and most experienced Judges to jury districts must mitigate this danger." So the High Court, the Local Government and the Supreme Government all unanimously attribute some of the erroneous verdicts of the jurors in Bengal to the inefficiency of the Judges. It is somewhat interesting therefore to find some of the Judges trying to shift the burden of wrong verdicts from their own shoulders to those of the jurors.

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

But apart from these prior considerations, my contention is that the statistics do not support the charge of "wrong verdict." The statistics furnished by Government reports were examined at length by the Jury Commission from this standpoint. The following extract from their report is a sufficient refutation of this baseless charge :

"The opinions before us shew that experienced officers have frequently complained of the prevalence of wrong verdicts, which they have attributed to various innate defects in the jurors. The statistics, on the other hand, do not shew that there has been any larger number of cases than might have been reasonably expected, and certainly do not indicate any breakdown of the system. We think that considerable weight should be given to the opinion of competent observers. Still, statistics are of great importance as indicating the number of trials, the number of cases in which the Judge has disagreed with the jury, the number of cases referred and the result of references ; and they form a sound basis for judging how far the matters complained of have operated so largely as to seriously interfere with the administration of justice. Opinions of this character have been expressed from time to time since 1862, but they have never been accepted as sufficient material for the condemnation of the system. There is reason to think that the variance between the adverse opinions and the actual result shewn by the statistics can be explained by the bias caused by the occurence of some case, in which the unexpected results have shocked these officers, who are thus too easily led to believe in the prevalence of influence which may have caused a failure of justice in an individual case. Having formed this strong opinion and probably reported it to their superior officers, and having satisfied themselves of the existence of certain tendencies or prejudices calculated to interfere with the correctness of verdicts, and having seen some instances of their operation, they have too readilly assumed that these tendencies and prejudices were overwhelming and generally operative to the subversion of justice, without considering how far education or a sense of responsibility might counteract them and might have led to the majority of the verdicts being such as could not have been given if the tendencies and prejudices in question had swayed the decision of the jury. Assuming that such tendencies and prejudices on the part of the jurors do exist, the statistics show that they do not operate to anything like the extent which might be expected from the perusals of many of the reports made to Government." The statistics of 11 years prior to 1893 were very carefully examined by Babu Guru Prasad Sen from whose speech I quote the following illuminating passage :—

"In my humble opinion, no amount of platitudes, or denunciation, but a careful examination of figures comprising the crime statistics for a number of years can alone help us in coming to a right conclusion regarding the matter. We have jury trials and non-jury trials in Sessions courts under the Government of Bengal, and the result of trials with jury as compared with the result of Sessions trials without a jury, will show the merit of each. Such a statement I now hold in my hand. It is a comparative statement of the above kind from 1877 to 1891 compiled from the reports of the Administration of Criminal Justice in the Lower Provinces. It would be tedious to read to you all the figures, even if our 10 minutes rule will allow. I shall crave your permission to take it as read, and I shall hand over a copy to our Secretary for record as a part of this address. I shall, however, read to you the summary of the result.

From 1877 to 1891, barring the years 1879, 1880, 1881 and 1882 for which certain figures are not available, the number of trials with jury was

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

3,567; the number of verdicts agreed to by the Sessions Judges was 632; the number of references disposed of, under section 307, Criminal Procedure Code, was 238; verdicts approved by the High Court were 90; verdicts set aside by the High Court were 148. The percentage, therefore, of verdicts not agreed to by the Sessions Judges to the whole number of verdicts during these years, was 16·9. The percentage of verdicts actually set aside to the total number of verdicts, was 3·68. While, if all cases in which the Sessions Judge disagreed from the verdict of the jury had been referred by them under section 307, Criminal Procedure Code, to the High Court, and verdicts set aside in the same proportion as in cases referred, the percentage of verdicts which would have been set aside, would be 11·8.

On the other hand, we find that during the same period the total number of non-jury trials, i.e., trials with Assessors, was 12,141. The number of appeals disposed of by the High Court from the decisions of the Sessions Judges was 8,205; the number of cases in which there were no appeals, was 3,936; of the appeals disposed of 6,632 were affirmed, and the number reversed, modified and sent back, was 1,603. The percentage of judgment of Sessions Judges affirmed to the total number of appeals was 81·6 and the percentage of judgments reversed, modified and sent back, was 19·4. The percentage of judgments affirmed or not disturbed to the total number of trials was 86·7, while the percentage of judgments that would have to be corrected by the High Court, if there had been appeals in all cases to the total number of trials, would be 13·3.

It would perhaps, be conceded that the cases not referred were such that if they were before the High Court there would be less chance of their being set aside. Under the present Code (sec. 307, Cr. P. C.) wrong verdicts may be set aside in every instance; it is not, therefore, an irremediable wrong. Again, there are doubtless cases in which no appeal against the sentences of the Sessions Judge is proferred, because the prisoner has no money or friends to take up his case before the High Court; and if appeals had been preferred in these cases the sentence would not have been affirmed; while, therefore, the mode in which the percentage has been worked out in column 9 of the statement A, I have in hand, is unfavourable to the jury, the mode by which the percentage in column 7 of the statement B, also in hand. has been worked out, is very favourable to the Sessions Judge, and they have been worked out in this way to remove all hesitation in adopting them for the purpose of comparison.

Now comparing these figures, we find that while the actual percentage of verdicts of juries set aside during these years has been only 3·68, the actual percentage of judgments of Sessions Judges reversed by the High Court in appeal is 19·4. While, if all disagreed verdicts had been referred to by the Sessions Judges to the High Court. under section 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and these verdicts set aside in the same ratio as those referred, the percentage of verdicts set aside would have been only 11·8, but the percentage of judgments of the Sessions Judges that would have to be corrected by the High Court, to the total number of trials, treating cases not appealed against as affirmed, would be 13·3.

These figures, I hold, conclusively prove that the jury system has worked much better than the non-jury or the assessor system. Opinions from whatever source they may come, would be no weight if not based on facts, and isolated facts can scarcely furnish a correct basis for generalization."

An ounce of fact is worth a ton of theories and opinions. We must therefore bow down to the conclusions which have been irresistibly drawn from the statistics not of a doubtful character but about which the Government and the people are absolutely certain. The charge of wrong verdicts brought against the jurors of Bengal has therefore no foundation in fact. It is a grand fiction—and a great libel upon the jurors who do a public duty at considerable personal sacrifice. It is too late in the day now to reiterate this exploded heresy and worn-out prejudice. I feel persuaded, my Lord, that this argument will not be urged against my resolution.

But conceding for argument's sake that the verdicts of jurors are wrong in an appreciable number of cases, it really passes my comprehension how the alleged wrong verdicts can necessarily lead to a failure of justice any more than the wrong verdict of a Munsiff, or Subordinate Judge, or District Judge or a High Court in a civil suit or the wrong verdict of the Deputy Magistrate, District Magistrate or Sessions Judge in a criminal case can. The law as it stands now has made ample provision for preventing any failure of justice. Whenever the Judge disagrees with the verdict of the jurors, and is of opinion that the verdict will lead to failure of justice, section 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code empowers him to submit the case to the High Court, which may exercise any of the powers which it may exercise on an appeal. There is a good deal of controversy whether the verdict of jurors should be final or not. But certainly under the existing law this apprehension of failure or miscarriage of justice is absolutely unfounded.

My Lord, I am anxious to call Your Excellency's attention to another aspect of the matter. The safe-guard now provided by section 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code against any miscarriage of justice from erroneous verdicts were not in existence when Sir Cecil Beadon and Sir Rivers Thompson proposed to extend the system. The Supreme Council proposed to introduce the system in all the districts with final powers to the jurors. If the system could be extended under the old law without the safe-guard, how much more safely can it be extended now under the existing law with this additional safeguard which has placed the jury and the Judges in the non-jury districts practically in the same position, so far as the powers of the High Court for revision and correction of wrong verdicts are concerned, the intervention of the High Court being invoked by the Judge in one case and by the aggrieved party in the other.

It has been declared by eminent jurists that if Trial by Jury is looked at from the political and moral point of view, everything is to be said in its favour and nothing can be said aginst it. This doctrine of universal application applies with special force to India in the present political condition of the country. Looked at from this standpoint the following aspects of the question cannot fail to strike the most unimaginative and superficial student of the present day politics.

(a) In the administration of justice the Jury system may be looked upon as a measure of self-government. So far back as 1872, Sir George Campbell, the then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, although he was rather hostile to the Jury system in India, remarked in the course of a debate in the Supreme Council that the system had a great effect on the political education of the people in-as-much as they were induced to take part in self-government, and in the administration of justice.

(b) The system is also calculated to promote co-operation between the people and the judiciary and will provide a common platform where the leading and educated men of the whole district can meet the Judges. Sir Charles Elliott was of opinion that the Jury system was beneficial on political grounds as a means of identifying the people of the country with the administration of justice.

(c) Sir J. F. Stephen, in his history of the Criminal Law of England, observed :—

"Though the Judges are, and are known to be, independent of the Executive Government, it is naturally felt that their sympathies are likely to be on the side of authority. The public at large feel more sympathy with jury men than they do with Judges, and accept their verdicts with much less hesitation and distrust than they would feel towards judgments, however ably written or expressed." If this is true of England, how much more is this true about India where the Judges are not independent of the Executive Government. Accordingly, the Jury Commission said: "The odium of what may appear harsh punishments is shifted in great part from the Government, and the dread, however unfounded it may be, of the all-pervading influence of the Government affecting the judgment is removed." My Lord, the importance of this consideration from the standpoint of the Government cannot be too much emphasised. In the peculiar circumstances of India, it is not only necessary that justice should be administered but it is equally necessary that the people should feel and be satisfied that it is being properly administered. This satisfaction of the people is an important asset for the Government. The Jury Commission were so emphatic in their opinion on this point that they held that this advantage is sufficient to compensate for a certain number of cases in which criminals may escape conviction or may be convicted of lesser crimes than the evidence might warrant. Even a superficial consideration should convince the Judges that the jury not only help them in their judicial task but also relieve them of great responsibility. They should therefore welcome the extension of the system for their own sake.

In conclusion I beg leave to submit that the resolution which stands in my name is a resolution which is identical with the resolutions of the Bengal Government on several previous occasions on the one hand and with the resolutions of the Indian National Congress on the other. I believe, my Lord, and I do so honestly, that the proposed extension will operate as much for the benefit of the Government as for the people. A dispassionate consideration will shew that this is at all events a matter in which there is abslutely no manner of conflict between the Government and the people. I hope and trust that the resolution will be acceptable to all parties concerned. I appeal to the non-official members of this Council for supporting the resolution in the name of the Indian National Congress who have been fighting in this behalf ever since 1885. I count upon the ungrudging and whole-hearted support of the European members on the simple ground that they are as keen about the right of Trial by Jury as any other people on the face of the earth. They themselves fought out their own salvation in this matter and I feel sure that they will have nothing but sympathy for us in our efforts for obtaining the same. And, lastly, my Lord, I appeal to Your Excellency for acceptance of the resolution in the name of Sir Cecil Beadon, Sir Rivers Thompson and many other high-officials who from time to time advocated the extension of the system. The system is in force in all the districts of Madras, Your Excellency's first Presidency in India, and my earnest prayer is that Your Excellency will place Bengal on that footing on which Your Excellency found Madras in this respect. In the words of the kneeling gentleman before Lord Ripon I say "My Lord, concede to us the rights of Trial by Jury." May the termination of Your Excellency's rule be signalised by the extension of the Jury system as contemplated by this Resolution.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

"My Lord,—On the 1st December, 1913, I asked the following question in your Lordship's Council :

'In view of the advance in education during the last 20 years, have the Government of Bengal considered the desirability of introducing the Trial by Jury in the non-jury districts ?'

The answer was :

'Within the last 20 years the Government of Bengal have considered the desirability of introducing Trial by Jury into the non-jury districts. In 1897 the system of Trial by Jury was extended to the districts of Chittagong, Mymensingh, Rajshahi and Jessore ; and in 1905 to the District of Khulna.'

This question was asked by me as a preliminary to the moving of the identical Resolution which my Hon'ble friend has moved just now. When,

Resolution.

(Babu Surendra Nath Ray.)

however, I studied the question thoroughly I asked myself have we got the real thing, or is it the mere shadow of the substance, and if the right of Trial by Jury is worth extension to other districts. Whatever my young and enthusiastic friends may think I am sorry to admit that the Criminal Procedure Code of 1898 has made the verdict of a jury and that of an assessor almost identical, in fact, it has made the verdict of a jury worse, for there is no appeal to the High Court against the verdict of the jury when it is concurred in by the Judge on questions of fact except on the ground of misdirection to the jury. The jury system is not what the Law Commissioners under the Indian Act of 1853 recommended, viz., that in jury trials, the verdict of the jury was to be binding on the Court. It is not what it was by the Code of 1861, viz., that the verdict of the jury was to be final when the verdict was either unanimous or that of a substantial majority. The law was amended by the Code of 1872 under the guidance of Mr. Stephen (Sir Fitz James Stephen) who was never known to have been a man of liberal principles so far at least as India was concerned. He made a substantial alteration in the law regarding the verdict of the jury. In presenting the report of the Select Committee on the Code of Criminal Procedure he said : 'I am aware that some of my honourable colleagues think that we have changed the spirit of the whole system so much by these alterations, that it would have been better to sweep it away altogether. * * * * In giving the Judge power to refer to the High Court cases in which he differs from the jury, we have no doubt made a considerable alteration upon English precedents.'

According to Mr. Justice Prinsep the course of legislation and the terms in which the law is now embodied in section 307 of the Code shows that it was intended to prevent the finality of a verdict of a jury given to it by the Code of 1861 to enable the Sessions Judge to interpose by refusing to record and act upon that verdict, if he thought that it would cause a failure of justice ; and in such a case to refer the proceedings to the High Court, and to require the High Court to deal with the entire case, even on its merits on matters of fact, after giving due weight to the opinions of the Sessions Judge and jury. In a Trial by Jury it was the jury who were responsible for the finding on the facts, and nothing short of perversity or very clearly demonstrable error was held by most Judges to justify any expression of disagreement. It is no doubt a valued right, but the way in which the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court have of late begun to interfere with the verdict of the jury in cases where there has been verdict of 'not guilty' that we are bound to think that the real Trial by Jury is at an end.

I have pointed out how the verdict of the jury or at least the verdict of a substantial majority which at first had a finality is now not worth much in cases where the trying Judge disagrees with it, for he has absolute power to refer the case to the High Court. And we find as a result of references to the High Court, during the years 1912-13, out of 22 references decided during the year the verdict of the jury was accepted in 7 cases only, i.e., in only 31·8 per cent. of the cases. In 1913-14, out of 36 references disposed of, the verdict of the jury was upheld in 9 cases only or in 25 per cent. of the cases. In 1914-15 out of 26 references disposed of, the verdict of the jury was accepted in 9 cases, or in 26·9 per cent. of the cases, while during the last two weeks of August last, out of 7 references to the High Court in 6 the verdict of the jury was not accepted. Of course we must admit that this is not the normal state of things. It varies according to the inclinations of individual Judges. As Trial by Jury has been reduced to this skeleton form, we feel some difficulty in giving our whole-hearted support to the Resolution. Trial by Jury is not a thing unknown to the Indians. Settlement of disputes even in civil matters was always decided in the ancient days in India by the Punchayet.

My Lord, we all know the history of the last change in the law as to reference to the High Court, I mean the change in the Code of 1898. When in 1892, by a Notification it was notified in the Calcutta Gazette that certain offences which had hitherto been tried with the aid of jurors would not be so tried in eight of the districts of Bengal, the whole Bengal public was taken by surprise. There was a public meeting in the Town Hall of Calcutta in which both Indians and Europeans joined. The result was that Government appointed a Commission and they recommended the amendment of section 307 of the Code.

I do not know whether my friend the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Judicial Portfolio whose able conduct of the what is known as the Shambazar riot case set free a large number of alleged offenders is not responsible for the amendment of the above section. This is what I find in the report of the Jury Commission :—

"SIR CHARLES ELLIOTT now desires me to bring to the notice of the Government of India the case of the third batch of prisoners tried in the 24-Parganas for rioting near Shambazar in the Suburbs of Calcutta as a conspicuous instance of an important trial before a jury, in which justice has been thwarted and offenders have escaped punishment because they were acquitted by the jury, and in which the Judge (Mr. Rampini), although he was evidently satisfied of the guilt of the great majority of the accused, did not refer the case to the High Court... ....Subsequently to the trial some confidential communications have taken place between Mr. Rampini and this Government, and he has explained that he was actuated by the belief that the verdict of the jury being unanimous, it was useless to hope that the High Court would reverse it."

I am bound to admit that there are instances in which the verdict of the jury had been anything but satisfactory. But that is because proper persons are not appointed as jurors. Formerly Pleaders in the mufassal also used to be appointed as jurors, but Government have ceased to appoint them because they were found to be too independent and could thoroughly sift the evidence. Even Sir Charles Elliott in his letter to the Government of India dated the 22nd June 1891 had to write as follows :—"The Lieutenant-Governor conceives that it is possible that suitable men have not been selected for jurors in many districts; but His Honour thinks that this is due to the failure of the Judges and of the other officers associated with them under section 321 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to take care that only qualified persons are entered in the jury lists prepared by them, and he proposed to impress strongly on all Judges in jury districts that under the law they are primarily responsible in this matter." For some years the nomination and selection of jurors in some districts were in the hands of the Police and the result was that properly qualified men were not appointed as jurors. Under the circumstances I think Government is partly responsible for improper verdicts.

There is another defect in the present system of trial by jury and it is this—the charge to the jury as given at the time of the trial and that embodied in the judgment are sometimes very dissimilar, and this is accountable to a very large extent for failure of justice in many instances—at least in getting the reference cases properly laid before the High Court Judges. This was pointed out by Sir Ramesh Chandra Mitter who was also a member of the Jury Commission.
He said :

"As a matter of practice I am informed that Sessions Judges generally record from memory or their own notes the substance of the charge delivered orally, after the verdict has been taken. This course is open to many obvious objections and is likely to lead to unsatisfactory results. When an appeal has to be preferred to the High Court in a jury case, the appellant, in appealing against an alleged misdirection of the Judge, is sometimes forced to complain of the Judge's charge, not as it was probably laid before the jury, but as it has been recorded by the Judge after the verdict has been delivered. I am of opinion that the record should contain a strictly accurate report of the charge as delivered by the Judge to the Jury." And Sir Ramesh Chandra Mitter suggested that it should be made obligatory upon the Judge to write out his summing up before he proceeds to charge the jury or that a Bench Clerk should be attached to each Sessions Court whose duty it should be, to take down in shorthand the Judge's charge as delivered, and whose transcript of the charge, when signed by the presiding Judge, should form part of the record. This recommendation has not been carried out. Hence miscarriages of justice occur in some cases. These are the reasons why the jury system has not been a real and effective part of the machinery for the administration of criminal justice.

Resolution.

(Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.)

This is no doubt the gloomy side of the picture. But there is also a bright side of it and I shall quote certain figures to show how it has proved to be a safety to the liberty of the subject in a large number of cases. From the Administration Reports of the Government of Bengal we find the following important facts: In the year 1912-13, 1,038 persons were tried by Sessions Judges with the aid of jury. In the cases of 884 persons the verdict of the jury was approved of by the Judge. in the cases of 154 persons the verdict was disapproved of by the Judge but as a matter of fact he disagreed and referred only the cases of 71 persons to the High Court under section 307, Criminal Procedure Code. In the year 1913-14, 1,099 persons were so tried. The Sessions Judge approved of the verdict in the cases of 898 persons, disapproved in the cases of 201 persons, but he disagreed and referred the cases of 71 persons to the High Court. In the year 1914-15, cases of 1,168 persons were so tried. The Sessions Judge approved of the verdict in 973 cases, disapproved of it in the cases of 195 persons but disagreed and referred the cases to the High Court in regard to 71 persons only. It will appear from the above figures that the Judge, though he disapproved of the verdict in several cases, yet he thought it proper to actually disagree with it in less than half the number.

We, however, appeal to Government to select better class of men to act as jurors, and, if possible, to move the Government of India to change the law to what it at present is in Sessions cases tried in the Original Side of the High Court. The two principal defects, viz. (1) that good independent men are not empanelled. (2) that their finding is practically subject to the approval of the trying Judge, virtually vitiate the principle of trial by jury whose verdict should always as judges of fact be upheld unless such verdict be grossly perverse and contrary to natural justice.

I am of opinion that trial by jury even with its faults affords protection to the subject and should therefore be extended to all the districts of Bengal as education has made rapid progress throughout the Presidency. I am informed that the system of trial of jury is in force even in such of the backward districts of Assam as the Garo Hills and the North Eastern Frontier.

There is one other thing, my Lord, which I would like to mention. I am not sure whether in a time like this a Resolution such as this should have been moved. But we are bound to support it. I hope the Government will take the opinion of the High Court whether the system of trial by jury should not be extended to all districts of Bengal."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR, said :—

"My Lord, It is Seeley's phrase, if I remember right, that the British Empire was founded in fits of absent-mindedness. Whether this be strictly correct or not as regards the other parts of the Empire, it seems to be too true as regards India. For here there has hardly been in any matter of political progress an unbroken continuity of policy consistently pursued for more than two successive administrations at a time, and an inflexible determination to carry any reform through and through in an uninterrupted course for its fullest development. My Lord, the system of trial by Jury as

tried in this country furnishes a striking illustration of Seeley's dictum as it is one of those half-hearted measures which have suffered rather severely from the effects of this indecision and fit of absent-mindedness. Introduced in 1862 it had of course a small beginning being extended to seven districts only; but its further expansion was simultaneously checked by a curious invention of Sir James Stephen known as the system of trial with the aid of assessors which was transparently a mock substitute for trial by Jury. Then my Lord, full 30 years passed away as in a trance of this absent-mindedness during which no notice was taken of it either one way or the other, when with the growing clamour of the people for an extension of the system there followed a rude awakening, and it was then suddenly discovered that the small measure of reform tried only in a few districts had not proved a success because, as it was officially stated, it let to the "escape of criminals," as if in the remaining 37 districts the administration was perfectly satisfactory and the mock substitute had not resulted in the conviction of any innocents. Then came the Jury Notification of 1892 for the practical abolition of trial by Jury, which naturally evoked an outburst of indignant protest throughout the province. A commission was appointed, the retrograde Notification was withdrawn and in another fit of generous impulse a further extension of the system was directed. But again the same nervousness and half-heartedness supervened and an over-cautious Government administered another homœopathic doze of the reform which limited the extension to five more districts only. It did not proceed upon any serious inquiry or on even a formal examination of the actual condition of the different districts; but as the bitter pill had to be swallowed a haphazard selection was made based upon equally haphazard reports of some Sessions Judges who were guided mainly by their personal likes and dislikes of the system. My Lord, the humble individual who is now addressing Your Excellency had the honour to appear for one of the unfortunate districts whose claims had been unjustly overlooked; but he was frankly told by the late Sir Henry Cotton, who was then the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, that the question was not really one of the actual fitness or unfitness of any particular district, but of the idiosyncracies and temperaments of different Judges in different places. Thus a district which happened to possess at the time a liberal and broad-minded Judge easily got the franchise, while a district more advanced both in point of education as well as public spirit had to be left out because a prejudiced and unsympathetic Judge could not persuade himself to report favourably for its inclusion. And what was still more regrettable a definite step was taken at this time which practically barred the door against further extension and development of the system for an indefinite period. By a Notification of the Government of Bengal, dated the 19th April, 1897, the legal practitioners were wholly excluded from the list and relieved from the task of jurors or assessors in Sessions trial. The wording of the notification was quite artistic and it possessed a grim humour of its own which was all the more refreshing. The notification ran as follows—

'Under Section 320 cl.(a) of the Criminal Procedure Code the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to exempt all legal practitioners in the districts of the province from liability to serve as Jurors or assessors in sessions cases.' This was quickly followed by another exemption equally important which was generously granted to the legal practitioners. For, in the very next year they were further exempted from liability to serve as honorary magistrates also. They could not of course be exempted from the payment of a double income tax against which they had justly complained, but they were gratuitously exempted from offering their services to help the administration and serve as jurors or assessors once in six months. My Lord, it passes the comprehension of ordinary intelligence why the legal profession received so much kind attention and was so zealously exempted from the liability to serve as useful adjuncts to the judicial administration and why the task of carefully weighing evidence was so confidently imposed upon unwilling traders, shop-keepers, brokers and village touts. The legal practitioners never asked for this exemption. If it was the bugbear of acquittals, I feel constrained to say that the Government was grievously misinformed. My Lord, during nearly 40 years of my humble experience at the mufassal bar, I have always found it easier to obtain a verdict of acquittal at the hands of shop-keeper assessors than with the stiff muktars and the stiffer pleader assessors. It is widely known that the late Mr. Mano Mohan Ghose, who was the terror of the mufassal police, was extremely nervous about pleader assessors or jurors. My Lord, I do not overlook the weighty considerations which may justify the exclusion of practising criminal lawyers from the jury or assessor list. But there are many legal practitioners both at the head-quarters of a district as well as in the subdivisions who do not at all deal with criminal cases, while there are many munsifi chowkies where there are no criminal cases to deal with. The revenue agents have nothing to do with criminal cases anywhere. The exemption or disqualification may therefore be safely withdrawn in the case of a large number of educated persons who are eminently qualified to serve as jurors and who are likely to strengthen the Jury list of a district. Then there are quite a number of High Schools in almost all the districts of Bengal where there are a large number of graduate and undergraduate teachers who may serve as jurors or assessors. There are also intelligent zemindars and their officers who are available for the purpose; so that if the Jury list is carefully prepared by responsible men and not left to the thanah officer and the village Panchayet there will not be wanting a sufficiently strong Jury list for every district.

My Lord, as regards the stock argument that Indian jurors are too prone to acquit in murder cases there is in the first place a sufficient safeguard in the provision for reference to the High Court by a Judge differing from a Jury. Then, my Lord, your Excellency's Government will be glad to learn that we have improved a good deal in this respect since the report of the Jury Commission of 1897. Both the Judges and the Jury in this province have taken due note of that report and are now over-anxious to avoid any possible charge of weakness being brought against them, and the result is that there is now almost an equal number of judicial and non-judicial murders in this country.

My Lord, the great importance which the people attach to the privilege of trial by Jury and the real necessity that exists for its liberal application in this country were sometime ago emphasised by a most competent and a very high authority whose opinion is entitled to the greatest respect. Sir Richard Garth, the late Chief Justice of Bengal, shortly after his retirement and with full knowledge of experience of the machinery for the administration of Criminal Justice in this Province, said—

'Of all the privileges I believe which Parliament had bestowed upon India there is none more highly prized by the people than the right of trial by Jury, and well they may prize it. The police are notoriously corrupt and mendacious, the Magistrates too often inexperienced, and the Government, I am sorry to say, far too prone to put an undue pressure upon the mufassal Judges to convict. So that the lives and liberties of innocent persons are often in great jeopardy and the best safeguard they have is an independent Jury who knows the crooked ways of the police and can see through their fraud and falsity.'

My Lord, it is high time that the Government threw off this vacillating policy. The country is fully prepared to receive and exercise this privilege. In this matter of trial by Jury, the first and foremost right of British citizenship, more than 50 years have elapsed in a half-hearted and very limited experiment. There has been a "long pull" and a "short pull" and the reform should no longer remain suspended in the air, but there should now be a "pull all together." I earnestly appeal to the Hon'ble Members, both official and non-official, to rise above all narrow considerations and whole-heartedly accept a recognized principle for the vindication of British justice in the administration of the foremost province in the country."

Resolution.

(Raja Hrishikesh Laha.)

The Hon'ble RAJA HRISHIKESH LAHA said :—

"May it please Your Excellency—I rise to support the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Dutta regarding the extension of the system of Trial by Jury beyond the districts in which it is now in force. Since its introduction by the Criminal Procedure Code of 1861, it has by this time received a sufficient trial to justify the proposal of its extension. The sphere of its operation is confined only to a few districts in Bengal and limited to a certain class of offences. In 1890 opinions were called for by the Government of India as to its working in the Lower Provinces of Bengal by their letter No. 742 dated the 31st May of that year. The majority of opinions no doubt shows that the system was still capable of improvement and that it was not working quite in a satisfactory manner. Since then about a quarter of a century has elapsed, a period during which education has made rapid strides and even the most backward districts have now their schools and colleges. My Lord, I do not wish it to be understood that during this period the defects of the system have totally disappeared. Any system, however sound it may be, loses a part of its efficacy under unfavourable circumstances. The very fact that it has been in existence for over half a century shows that the principle of administering justice, at least in certain classes of offences by the jury system, has been recognised by our Government. If anything unfavourable has happened, the circumstances are to be blamed and not the system. It has been said that failure of justice occurs owing to the incompetency of the jurors; that they are prone to let off persons charged with serious offences, if they happen to be of position and respectability; that they are influenced by caste and social prejudices, amenable to extra-judicial influences and reluctant to inflict capital punishment even when justice requires it. It should, however, be observed that—

(1) Jurors are selected in a haphazard manner without any reference to their competency or qualification, the list being prepared on the report of the Police or of Amlahs who are not in a position to judge of the necessary qualifications.

(2) The Magistrate who commits cases to the Sessions sometimes does so on evidence which cannot stand the test of examination. It should also be noted that the cases committed to the Sessions are Police cases conducted by Police Officers and the commitments are sometimes made with a view to avoid the displeasure of superior officers who are also the heads of the Police, leaving the accused to take their chances of acquittal or conviction in the Courts of Sessions.

(3) There is a general suspicion and distrust of the Police. When therefore a case comes up which involves the infliction of capital punishment, a suspicion arises in the minds of the jurors that the evidence is not as it should be, and when a suspicion once takes hold of the mind, even the best-trained judicial officer, not to speak of the half-educated jurors, cannot shake it off. It is then thought it is better that ten guilty persons should escape than one innocent person should be punished : a life once taken cannot be got back. Under such circumstances it is not strange that the benefit of the doubt is given to the accused. It will therefore be observed that a culprit charged with murder is not wilfully let off by the jury, as it has been supposed.

It is clear therefore that to remove the above defects a scheme for the better selection of qualified jurors be introduced; careless committals be restricted, and the conduct of Police cases be placed in more capable hands. This will remove the defects ascribed to the system.

On the other hand, the benefit arising from the system has not been inconsiderable. Firstly, there can be no doubt that the jurors afford material help in coming to a conclusion about facts, as they are intimately acquainted with the manners, customs, habits and modes of thought of their own countrymen, which an alien Judge, who does not fully understand the language of the people, is not in a position to know. Secondly, Mr. Justice Beverley rightly observes that "the employment of juries serves to disseminate the knowledge of the criminal law, and such extended knowledge, it may be presumed, must have a tendency to repress crime." Thirdly, the people consider it to be a valued right and valuable safeguard to the liberty of the subject. Fourthly, Mr. Beveridge says "if it is to be considered also a political institution and as a means of educating the people and interesting them in the subject of crimes, then there is a good deal to be said for the retention of the system."

Resolution.

(Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray.)

There can be no doubt that some reluctance is shown even by educated people to serve on the jury, not for their innate hatred of the system, but for the trouble it entails upon them while attending Courts as jurors. Besides coming from a long distance and incurring expenses, they have generally to dance attendance day after day till they are empanelled, without having any room to sit even, except under the shade of the big trees in the compound of the Court premises, and without any arrangement for their comfort and convenience. Most of the people who are thus called upon to serve as jurors are of moderate means, and can therefore ill afford to sacrifice their time and money in prolonged attendance. It is human nature to try to avoid troubles.

If the defects of the system, as stated above, be removed, and the comforts and convenience of the jurors be looked into, with a provision to pay their expenses, there can be no doubt that the system would be a still more popular one.

With these remarks, I beg to support the resolution, leaving it to Government to determine which districts should have the extension of the Jury system and which classes of cases should be tried by the jurors.

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY said :—

"My Lord, I have listened with great interest to the debate in which some of our lawyer friends have naturally taken a prominent part. It may be that a few words from a layman, devoid of technicalities and puzzling references to statute and section, will not be quite amiss at this stage. Indeed, the resolution now before us embodies a demand on behalf of the lay public to try and be tried by themselves—a privilege which has been highly prized in every age and clime. The principle of trial by one's peers has found recognition in one shape or another almost all over the civilized world. In India, it can be traced back to ancient days when the king or his judges were prohibited by sages and law-givers from trying singly and without the aid of chosen members of the public, who formed an indispensable part of the judicial system, and in some respects influenced the trial much more than the modern English jury. The principle of co-operation of expert and lay elements, which is exemplified in every branch of the British constitution, reached a high pitch of development in England in regard to administration of justice even during the middle ages. As a learned author has described the British system, "the judge, a Royal officer of high rank, supplies the expert knowledge, while the lay influence is exerted by means of a panel of twelve men of average ignorance drawn from the community by lot for the occasion; and although this is not the usual method of combining the two elements, their reciprocal control has certainly been effective." My Lord, this control of expert knowledge by common sense—happily ignorant of technicalities—makes for equilibrium in the administration of justice.

Apart from this, we claim to be associated more and more in every branch of administration. And this participation by the people in the judicial administration is a necessary factor of self-government, and a concession to which there ought not to be the least objection in any quarter. The jury system, moreover, has an educative value all its own, and helps to enhance the self-respect of the people.

Resolution.

(Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.)

My Lord, so far as the principle underlying trial by jury is concerned, the Indian Government has committed itself by introducing the system in selected areas. And what we really want to-day is that it should be liberalised and further extended. As matters stand, eleven districts of Bengal, chosen I do not know on what considerations, enjoy the privilege of the jury system ; and there even the verdict of the jury has not the same value as in England or in Calcutta. But in the remaining districts the decision of the Sessions Judge is not in any way fettered by the opinions of the Assessors. The law no doubt provides for appeals to the High Court even on questions of fact against the decisions of the Sessions Courts in the Assessor districts. But the remedies which the High Court provides in its criminal appellate and revisional jurisdictions, are becoming more and more illusory. I grieve to have to say so. but the High Court of Calcutta, in so far at least as it concerns itself with criminal justice, has managed to forfeit half the confidence of the public that it enjoyed some time back. It is a well-known fact that the personnel of the Criminal Bench very largely determines the number of applications made and appeals preferred against decisions of the subordinate judiciary. And an impression is unfortunately gaining ground that the constitution of the Bench is made with particular care that the decisions of the Courts below may be as seldom interfered with as possible. My Lord, when we are at this juncture that the High Court cannot always be depended upon to right our wrongs, it is incumbent upon us to see that judicial administration is improved at its very base.

With these words I accord my hearty support to the Resolution which has been moved by my Hon'ble friend Babu Akhil Chandra Dutta."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

" My Lord, as at present advised, I feel inclined to oppose this resolution, but in doing so, I do not wish to be misunderstood. I find that there is an overwhelming majority of non-official opinion in favour of this resolution, and I cannot say that my own doubts as to the utility of the system of trial by jury are strong enough to justify me in placing myself in direct opposition to such a volume of non-official opinion. But at the same time. I feel that the issues raised by this question are of a somewhat far-reaching importance and it is but necessary and proper that Hon'ble Members should have before them the question threshed out from every possible point of view in order that they may arrive at a correct and more definite opinion on such an important question. My Lord, I do not think that there can be any room for controversy as to the intrinsic merits of a real system of trial by jury. I freely admit that this system, in all its genuine purity is embalmed in all those lofty principles of liberty and justice which distinguish British legal institutions from amongst those of other civilised nations of the world. I also admit that the introduction of a real system of trial by jury will be one of the greatest boons which the beneficence of England could confer upon the people of India. But I cannot bring myself to believe that the system of trial by jury as at present in vogue in India is even a modest approximation of the system as it is known in England. It is defective in form ; it is deficient in constitution and it is essentially wanting in all the safeguards which are necessary not merely in securing verdicts in consonance with law and justice but also in ensuring these verdicts from being revised by any final authority. The English system is the genuine article which deserves to be honoured and encouraged. The Indian system is a base imitation ; it is full of all those elements of danger to the liberty of the accused which the system is supposed to guard against. It is because I am convinced that the system is a baneful one that I find it necessary to say these few words in opposition to a recommendation which I admit has had the enthusiastic support of the leaders of political thought in India during the last 30 years. The Hon'ble Member moved the resolution had 30 minutes to deliver his speech, but my time is limited to 15. I will therefore only touch some of the principal points on which I base my condemnation of the system of trial by jury in India.

Resolution.

(Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul Huda.)

To begin with, as some of the previous speakers have already pointed out, there is no finality in the verdict of a jury.

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL HUDA said :—

I rise to a point of order. Although several speakers have spoken in the same strain, I think that it is right that there should be no discussion as to the merits of the present jury system. We are not concerned with the merits of the system which now exists, we are concerned only with the extension of the system to the districts. I therefore rise to a point of order that the discussion should be confined to the desirability of extending the present system of trial by jury to districts other than those in which it already exists.

[The Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq was permitted to continue his speech.]

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ, continuing, said :—

"I do not see, my Lord, how it can be possible for anybody to express an opinion on the question before us unless we discuss the system. Is the system one which we should like to see extended, or is the system one which, in the interests of the people we should like to see abolished altogether? I think the question of merits and demerits of the system is intimately bound up with the question whether the system should be extended or not. I hope the Hon'ble Member who will speak on behalf of the Government, will kindly hear me to the end, because I wish to place both official and non-official views on this question before the house. I was just going to refer to the want of finality in the verdict of a jury. Unlike as in England, the verdict of the jury is subject to further scrutiny by a presiding Judge and it is only when the verdict of the jury coincides with the opinion of the Judge, that there is anything like finality. In case the Judge does not agree with the jury he refers the case to the High Court which then becomes the final arbiter of the destiny of an accused. It may be said that when the final orders are to be passed by the High Court there is no possibility of any miscarriage of justice or any danger to the liberty of the subject. If the High Courts in India, I say with great regret, had maintained their reputation for independence which they had justly enjoyed in the past, there might have been some justification for an argument of this character. Unfortunately, however, the deterioration of the High Court during the past few years has shaken the public confidence. I mean no disrespect to any of the learned Judges composing the various High Courts in India, but were I to give expression to a common feeling, the High Courts of the present day inspire no more confidence than, let us say, the Court of the third class Honorary Magistrate in the mufassal. Perhaps in some respects the Honorary Magistrate's Court is slightly better. I do not wish to cause any surprise in the Council, but there are some reasons for what I say. The Honorary Magistrate knows that he is after all a very insignificant person and that his decisions are subject to appeal, but a High Court Judge is full of his own judicial importance and he is puffed up with the idea that whatever rigmarole he may utter will be crystallized into the pages of the law reports and will be propounded as the law of the land. This being so, I do not think that the people are very far wrong in not placing their confidence in the judicial decisions of the High Courts as they used to do previously. So far therefore as to the protection afforded by a reference to the High Court. As to the protection afforded by the provision for a reference to the High Court, I think that I voice a very general public opinion when I say that it is of an extremely shadowy character. I may mention in passing that this power conferred by the Code of Criminal Procedure on judges to refer matters to the High Court in cases of disagreement with the jury has been a curious development of the law of Criminal Procedure. It did not exist in the law of 1861; it was first introduced in the Criminal Procedure Code of 1872 and has been a part of the Criminal Procedure Code ever since. So far therefore as regards the want of finality in the verdict of the jury.

Resolution.

(Babu Mahendra Chandra Mitra.)

There is another matter in which no referrence has yet been made by any Hon'ble Member to-day, and I do not know if any Hon'ble Members who are going to speak after me, will refer to it. It is this. There is a certain class of cases in which it is sometimes very difficult for accused persons to get a fair verdict. I refer to those cases in which jurors belonging to a particular class are swayed by sentiment, passion or prejudice and are sometimes led to return a verdict not based on the evidence, but on their own opinion and their own feeling as to the guilt or innocence of the accused. I do not wish to go into details, but Hon'ble Members know very well what I mean; it is in these cases that it is almost impossible to get a fair verdict, and if the Judge has got the weakness to accept the verdict of the jury, there is no possibility for the accused to get fair justice because there is no appeal to the High Court and if there is no misdirection to the jury, the verdict of the jury stands good. Then, my Lord, there is another matter to which a passing reference has been made, but which I wish to emphasize as much as I can. This is what happens sometimes in the mufassal, when Judges give the charge to the jury. I speak from personal experience. I have found Judges, not intentionally let me say, charge the jury at the moment using expressions which have got the obvious result of misleading the jury, and of emphasising some portions of the evidence which go against the accused. In these cases the Judge unknowingly and unwittingly misdirects the jury, but when it comes to writing out the charge for the purpose of its being placed before the High Court, he forgets perhaps the exact words he has used and the charge contains very little of the actual expressions used. When the charge is brought up before the High Court, the Judges say, "Well, this is a fair charge, there is no misdirection," when, as a matter of fact, the jury had actually misunderstood the charge. All this would be avoided by having a set of shorthand writers attached to the Courts. But under the present circumstances the Judge may, I do not say he actually will, say one thing and write out something quite different.

Then it has been suggested to me that I should not oppose this Resolution, but support the recommendations and join in a petition to have the law amended. It may be that that would be a very sound policy, but I think that if we were to wait to have the law amended, we might have to wait till the Greek Calends. As I said on a previous occasion, the mills of God grind slowly, but they grind exceeding small, but the mills of Government grind so very slowly that they sometimes seem not to grind at all. It takes years and years before a certain reform is introduced; it may be 50 years before we get the Code of Criminal Procedure in a way we should like to have it, but what is to happen during these 50 years? Are we to have this defective system introduced all over Bengal, and in the words of the Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Mazumdar, go on having judicial murders committed without any remedy, or is it not better to wait and to agitate to have the law modified and the defects remedied, and then to ask Government to let us have trial by jury all over the Presidency? I have no doubt, my Lord, that we will have it all over Bengal. The time must come, but it must come, and it is only a question of time. Why not wait a few years and have these defects remedied and then unanimously ask to have the system extended all over the Presidency, in order to meet the united wishes of all the people and of all the communities in this country?"

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said:—

"My Lord, at the meeting of the Council held on the 1st December 1913 a question was put by one of the Hon'ble Members 'that in view of the advance in education during the last 20 years have the Government of Bengal considered the desirability of introducing the trial by Jury in the non-jury districts?' To this the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming replied that in 1897, the system of trial by Jury was extended to the districts of Chittagong, Mymensingh, Rajshahi and Jessore, and in 1905 to the district of Khulna. The present motion put forward by my Hon'ble friend to-day is for the introduction of the system of trial by Jury in all non-jury districts in Bengal for offences triable by Courts of Sessions.

Resolution.

(Babu Mahendra Chandra Mitra.)

If we go to the brief history of jury notifications, we notice that the earliest one dates from the 7th January 1862 and by it, it was ordered by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that in the districts of 24-Parganas, Hooghly, Burdwan, Murshidabad, Nadia, Patna and Dacca, the trial by any Court of Session of all the offences defined in Chapters VIII, XI, XVI, and XVII of the Indian Penal Code should be by Jury. Then followed the notification, dated the 27th May of the same year, for the trial by jury of the offences defined in Chapter XVIII of the Indian Penal Code in the above-mentioned districts, and on the 13th October 1862, it was ordered that abetments of and attempts to commit any of the above-mentioned offences in the districts specified should be tried by Jury.

After a period of 30 years, there appeared the notification dated the 20th October 1892. Its publication led to very considerable public agitation and was referred to a Commission which consisted of many distinguished persons, viz., Sir H. T. Prinsep, Sir G. H. P. Evans, Maharaja Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore, Sir Romesh Chandra Mitter and Mr. C. A. Wilkins. On the submission of their report the said notification was withdrawn on the 27th March 1893 and there was a fresh notification for trial of offences under Chapters VIII, XI, XVI, XVII and XVIII of the Indian Penal Code by Jury. On the 19th April 1897 there was a notification for trial by Jury under Chapters VIII, XI, XVI, XVII, XVIII and XX of the Indian Penal Code and it was extended to the districts of Chittagong, Mymensingh, Rajshahi and Jessore. In 1905 it was extended to the district of Khulna. The question that has been raised is of great importance and demands the consideration of the Council. The system of the trial by Jury is not the creation of the law enacted by British Legislature. It is laid down in the Code of Manu—the Hindu Law-giver, and therefore it is not foreign to our ideas. The trial of Session cases by Jury, has been in force since a long time, say more than half a century and I think the system has been tried with success in districts where it has been introduced. To rectify errors on the part of the Jury provisions have been made by section 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code. I am aware that there is a class of people who advocate the view that the provisions of section 307 should be removed from the Code. This is evidently to attach finality to the verdict of the Jury. It is a controversial matter and I may be privileged to say that it ought to demand the consideration of the Imperial Legislature. The High Court in many cases have declined to interfere with the unanimous verdict of the Jury. The reason is clear because the Jurors are 'better able to draw inferences of facts and to discriminate between truth and falsehood of conflicting oral evidence given in their own language.' The Jury is guided by many European Sessions Judges who, though they may be considered as trained Judges of experience, are not familiar with the manners and customs of the Indians. The Legislature has carefully laid down the powers and duties of a Judge and a Jury. The opinion of the Judge may or may not be accepted by the Jury. The whole responsibility of the decision on facts rests upon the Jury. The Judge is merely to expound the law. Under such circumstances, there appears to be a harmonious consistency in the procedure laid down for the trial of Session cases. When Sessions Judges do not understand the vernacular language, the necessity of Jurors who understand the language in which evidence is given, becomes manifest. There are many advantages of a trial by Jury in criminal cases in the Sessions Court.

Resolution.

(Babu Mahendra Chandra Mitra.)

The complaint of certain classes of people that convictions in Session cases are not in proportion to what they desire is a chronic one. This is due to their zeal for getting their chosen accused punished and, consequently, this complaint will be an outstanding fact not only in India but in many other civilized countries. Evidence tested by the canons of the law of evidence and properly sifted by Jurors is a guide for the final decision of the case. Cases must frequently arise in which the Court is compelled to give a formal decision which conflicts with a moral conviction The object of evidence is juridical as opposed to moral conviction though in many cases both may co-exist. The trial by Jury system in all districts may be urged on the following grounds :—

(i) The Assessors who are required to help the Sessions Judge are recruited from the same class of people as the Jurors.

(ii) The advance in education in Bengal after half a century since the first notification of the year 1862 urges the necessity for the extension of the jury notification to all non-jury districts of the Presidency of Bengal.

The success of the jury system of trial depends upon a proper selection of jurors. Justice is done in all cases, if we get intelligent and duly qualified jurors. If the preparation of the list of jurors is virtually left to irresponsible subordinate officers, it cannot be viewed as satisfactory. Your Excellency's Government has been pleased to make it incumbent upon the District officials to spend a great portion of the year on tour. Magistrates may consult the leading men of the locality and have thus great opportunites to select competent persons as jurors. They are on tour in every part of the district and they always come in contact with all sorts of men in the mufassal. If an experienced Magistrate is deputed for this purpose, he may be depended on to obtain men who by the light of common sense, intelligence and education will appreciate the value of evidence adduced before them as section 3 of the Evidence Act defines a proved fact. If a prudent man by appealing to his experience considers that a certain fact is probable, that may be considered as a proved fact. The probabilities of the case must be weighed with caution and certainty. I may add in this connection that the legal practitioners of our country who, by virtue of their special knowledge of law, are competent to weigh evidence properly have been excluded from sitting as Jurors. In my humble opinion this rule should be amended. I am led to think that when education has spread far and wide in the districts of the Presidency of Bengal such people are easily available. My experience warrants me from my place in the Council to submit my views for the consideration of Hon'ble Members. It is the favourite idea of accused persons to be tried by their own countrymen whether in England or India. Many accused persons have expressed their appreciation of the verdict by the Jury in preference to the orders passed by the Magistrates. It cannot be denied, that the verdict of a single Judge is not more safe and sound than that of five Judges.

I submit that the system of trial by Jury may be extended to those districts of the Presidency of Bengal in which it is not now in force.

I am aware that the Criminal Procedure Code is within a short time likely to be amended by the Legislative Council of His Excellency the Governor-General of India, but by virtue of the provisions of section 269, lcause (1) of the present Code, Your Excellency's Government may recommend to the Imperial Council for the introduction of the system as the Resolution of the Hon'ble Mover proposes.

My Lord, this system of trial by Jury in non-jury districts is advocated by many educated people of the Presidency. Your Excellency's Government of this Province is based upon the wishes of the people, and if these wishes are reasonable and practicable, they demand a favourable judgment from Your Excellency's Government.

Resolution.

(Mr. K. B. Dutt.)

I am sensible that we are passing through critical times. Crime must be checked, law and order maintained and the people of this country must help and they always do help Your Excellency's Government whenever called upon to do so. Justice must be administered by a machinery which is simple and satisfactory. The people are willing to sit as Judges and deal with crimes if their services are wanted. Experience has shown that, notwithstanding adverse criticism, the system is worth trying. The Jurors cannot but be guided by learned expounders of law, and, by their common sense, they may be depended upon to pronounce those guilty who are really guilty and those innocent who are really innocent."

The Hon'ble MR. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, in rising to support the extension of the jury system in this Province I must state that this extension, if achieved, would be not only a source of the internal improvement of a certain section of our judicial machinery but also of the ultimate betterment of, what I may be permitted to term our legal morality.

I certainly do not mean to suggest that all the defects of our criminal judicial system would disperse simply by the extensive adoption of the jury system. as if by the fairy touch of a magic wand. No, what I do say is that delays, so inherent a factor in our system, the avoidance of which is such a vital factor in every system of justice, would be considerably lessened simply by the necessity of the parties and the pleaders and all others concerned to consult the convenience and the wishes of at least half a dozen men drawn from various sections of the community.

Frequent applications for adjournments and frequent applications for transfer from one bench to another would be a thing of the past. Justice itself would flow more smoothly, the Judge being the interpreter of the Law and the jury the ultimate judges of fact.

Secondly, both the public and the police, recognising the very elementary fact that it is more difficult to please half-a-dozen than one, would avoid entering into 'useless' cases and thoughtless trials. Furthermore, this very cause would lessen the mischief of false witnesses and false evidence, all of which would tend to set a higher and nobler value on our legal morality or legal consciousness.

Of course there are defects in the present system. But weighed in the balance with the sterling benefits derived from the Jury system these defects will be found to be comparatively infinitesimal. I am convinced that in about 80 per cent. of the cases tried by Jurors in our courts, the verdicts given are correct. It would be of no use in doing away with the present system altogether and then trying for the system which prevails in England. It is better to extend the existing system now and then to improve upon it.

Although the system would not usher in the Golden Age, but it would really increase our golden asset of moral independence and would mould the golden chain of sympathy and understanding between the police and the public."

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT said :—

"My Lord, I have much pleasure in supporting the resolution moved by my Hon'ble friend and, in doing so, I must make my position perfectly clear. I am not prepared to say that the system of trial by jury is perfect or is likely to be perfect ever in this country or in any other country. But Your Excellency's Government must determine what is the feeling of the people in this respect. From the interesting discussion which has taken place in this Council, there cannot be the least doubt in anybody's mind that the people want it and want it because they seem to think that it is the better system of trial. It is for that reason, and that reason alone that Government ought to concede this political concession, because to my mind it is nothing more.

Resolution.

(Mr. Z. R. Zahid Suhrawardy.)

nothing less, than something in the direction of a cheap political concession The acceptance of this resolution to my mind depends entirely upon the non-official European members of this Council and I shall therefore appeal to them to look to this question apart from any difference which might arise between them and us. This is a matter to which the people of this country attach a good deal of importance. They think that that would improve their method of trial and it would not be wise and it would not be statesmanlike to go against the wishes of the people. The Hon'ble Mr. Faz-ul Haq has pointed out certain defects and I regret to have to say that I also share in his opinion, but at the same time the time must come when Your Excellency's Government must give effect at least to the principle. It is for the principle that we desire an extension of the jury system where it does not exist now. If the principle is recognised, I have not the least doubt that the responsible legislators of the Imperial Council will in time try to remove these obstacles. With these few observations I wish again to appeal to the non-official European members to consider the question not from a party spirit but to consider whether the people want it or not. I think it would not be sound statesmanship to oppose this resolution because the non-official Bengali members want it."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I have also much pleasure in supporting the resolution moved by my Hon'ble friend Babu Akhil Chandra Datta. I come from a mufassal district and I have sufficient experience of the pre-jury trial system and also the system which now obtains, and without a moment's hesitation I can say that the present system is a far better one. The authoritative opinion of local people, having sufficient knowledge of the habits, peculiarities and social environments of the people to be dealt with, is a thing which is an important factor in determining the question of facts involved in particular cases. My friend the Hon'ble Mr. Haq thinks that it is a pernicious system because there are certain defects. Defects there are, I do not deny, but these defects could be remedied. He thinks that there is no finality and my friend has no confidence in the High Court. My friend practises in the High Court, and of his condemnation of the High Court judiciary, I am not in a position to judge, but I can say that on that account jury trial fares no worse. In a jury trial, my friend thinks we can rely upon the honorary bench in the mufassal more than we can rely upon the High Court Judges. If that is so, in the jury trial there is an honorary bench composed generally of five persons who can pronounce opinions with sufficient knowledge as I have already said on questions of fact. My friend also thinks that fair justice cannot be expected, but he hints on, I believe, personal prejudices. But there is a provision for taking objection to the personnel of a jury. It may be done by the Public Prosecutor ; it may be done by the accused, and if there is any failure, there is the provision for reference to the High Court, so on that account we cannot condemn the system. There is one objection, a very valid objection. In most cases, I think I have got sufficient experience in my own district, charges are not written out before they are submitted to the jury. That can be insisted on. Charges should be written out first, or shorthand writers could be available for taking notes as soon as the charge is delivered. On this account I do not think that we should say that it is not to our advantage to have the jury system and that we should reject it. My friend thinks that the time has not yet come. I do not know when it would come. With the progress of education, I think the time has come when we should extend it to all those districts in which it is not in vogue. With these words, my Lord, I beg to support this resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. Z. R. ZAHID SUHRAWARDY said :—

"My Lord, I have listened with much attention and interest to the arguments that have been advanced in support of the resolution that is now before

Resolution.

(Mr. Z. R. Zahid Suhrawardy.)

Your Excellency's Council. But I regret very much that I have not been convinced of the cogency of the reasons for the adoption of the resolution, especially in view of the present state of the law. In the first place, my Lord, it seems to me that the cry for the extension of the jury system at the present moment is not the outcome of a natural and keenly felt desire or necessity. It strikes me as the outcome of a desire for imitation or perhaps of provincial patriotism. The triumph on the banks of the Jumna may have inspired some of us with the possibility of securing a similar achievement on the banks of the Ganges. If the cry was real we should have heard it louder and more shrill years ago. Apart from all these considerations, I do not think that in the present state of the law any extension of the system of a trial by jury should be granted. We have heard the defects in the law so forcibly put before the Council. Yet there are some defects to which advertence probably has not been made very pertinently. As the law at present stands, the verdict of the jury is always subordinate to the judgment of the Judge. It is the voice of the Judge which is the voice of the Court. Statistics have been brought forward in this Council in order to prove that the verdict of the jury in the majority of cases has been correct. Statistics are very pliable tools which can be made to serve any purpose you like. It has been said that a very small percentage of the verdicts of the jury has been set aside by the High Court. The percentage is drawn on the basis of the entire number of cases tried by jury. In cases in which the Judge concurs with the jury there is no appeal. So in such cases there is no test to find out the correctness of the verdict of the jury or the soundness of the judgment of the Judge. Leaving that aside, if we look to the number of references made to the High Court in which a judge has thought fit to differ from the verdict of the jury, we find that in a large number of cases, almost 75 per cent., the reference has been accepted and the verdict of the jury overruled. That being the state of the law, and that being the state of things, is it desirable to extend it territorially to such offences as are at the present moment included in those which are not triable exclusively with the aid of a jury. The system of trial by jury has been described by an English constitutional writer as the famous institution the development of which is generally regarded as one of the greatest achievements of English jurisprudence. But at the same time many eminent English writers have pointed out the defects in the system even as it obtains in England, and these faults, the inherent faults in the system, are likely to be exaggerated by transplantation. Indian soil is hardly fit for the growth and development of a system of justice which is calculated to control the opinions and the deliberations of a presiding Judge, even as the Parliament aims at controlling or limiting the actions of the Monarch. The difference between the civic life in India and that of England is so great that a wholesale transplantation of an English institution into Indian soil would mean disaster. My Lord, there is one other point which may be urged to illustrate in what confidence Trial by jury is held by the people. Lawyers here, who have supported the resolution, no doubt represent the people, and they have the right to speak on their behalf. But if you ask the people themselves, what they think about this system, you will know what they think about it. Lawyers and legal practitioners in the courts are very jealous of what they call the last word or the right of reply. It is because in the ears of laymen or people who are not trained to weigh evidence or to look at a case dispassionately without being influenced or swayed by personal or communal considerations or by considerations of wealth, position or influence or of the character of the prosecutor or the prisoner, the last word lingers long, and therefore there is the attempt always to have the last word. In 99 out of 100 cases in the subordinate courts where there is no jury, whether the court is presided over by a Magistrate or a Judge, we find that evidence is adduced on behalf of the defence, to refute the case that has been made out by the prosecution, but in the Sessions cases, the ratio is quite the reverse. In 90 cases out of 100, you will find that no evidence is adduced on behalf of the defence because under the law as it stands if any evidence, documentary or oral, is adduced on behalf of the defence, the right of reply or the last word is lost and therefore the accused or his lawyer deems the right of reply, to have the last word, more valuable than adducing evidence that may be cogent enough to convince the Judge of his innocence. I feel so strongly on this point that I venture to say that my friends have been to a very great degree led away by sentiment. They have not looked at the practical side of the question. I appeal to them to look at the practical side of it, and to say whether it will be really beneficial to the people, dissociating it from any idea of the propagation of the principle of self-government, or the establishment of any other valued principle. I would humbly request them to look at it from the utilitarian point of view. Taking for example, if, as it is proposed, Trial by Jury is extended to a simple case of theft, the result would be that if the Judge concurs with the jury, the man loses the right of appeal, whereas now if he gets six months, he can go to the Sessions and then to the High Court. He has at least two other places to try his chance and to get an acquittal if possible. I therefore think that it is not the proper time, considering the law as it stands, to extend the system.

Resolution.

(Mr. A. Rasul.)

There is one other matter. We must also see whether we are sufficiently educated to be saddled with this responsibility and sit in judgment over our own fellows. By education I do not mean mere literacy, but that developed state of mind which can approach a case without being influenced, swayed or biased by any extraneous matter or independent information. With these remarks, I beg to oppose the resolution which has been proposed."

The Hon'ble MR. A. RASUL said :—

"My Lord, having regard to the fact that this question has already been fully discussed, I shall only add a very few words. As far as the principle of the system of Trial by Jury is concerned, I do not think the members of the Government can say anything against it. If it were so, then I think they would have tried to have the system abolished in the districts in which it exists now. Now, because the system has been in existence in some of the districts for so many years and with good results, I do not suppose the Government will ever think of abolishing this system from these districts. If it is considered good as regards those very districts where it exists, where is the harm in extending this very system to other districts.

Now, in every civilised country it is only natural that a man prefers to be tried by a number of men who are his peers than by one single person. Although this system has existed for so many centuries in England and afterwards also in almost all the countries in Europe as some of the previous speakers have already stated, it was not altogether unknown in India, as we have had the Punchayat system. Even now, in some of the districts in Eastern Bengal, when anybody wants to be tried by his people with regard to village disputes, he says—I would like to be tried by Dash (dasher bichar chai), I want to be tried by ten persons. He does not want to be tried by one single person, so the Punchayat system exists in almost every village in Eastern Bengal, and as regards the principle nothing can be said against it. Some of the speakers have said that it ought not to be extended because there are some defects in it. No doubt there are defects, and as one speaker said, no system can be perfect, and we should not expect even the system of Trial by Jury to be perfect. If I am not mistaken, in 1912-13 even in England, a Commission was appointed to inquire into the system as to whether it could be improved upon, so therefore even in England the people do not think it is a perfect system and they want to have it improved.

My Hon'ble friend Mr. Fazl-ul Haq stated in the very beginning of his speech that he was not against the principle of the system, but what he objected to were the defects. The defects are due to what—they are due to the method of selection. If you have a better method of selection, I do not think that you will have so many defects, and so many miscarriages of justice on account of certain offences being tried by jury. My friend also said that there was also a question of class and community. No doubt it does happen, even in England. If I am not mistaken, just a few years ago in the trial of Mrs. Maybrick she made an application that she did not want to be tried by the jurors of Liverpool. She did not think that she would get justice from the jurors in that locality; so in other parts of England such questions have arisen and such questions will always arise, but happily such questions will be few and far between.

Resolution.

(Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur.)

Now, with regard to what my friend Hon'ble Mr. Zahid Suhrawardy said. I do not know on whose behalf he has spoken whether as a barrister on behalf of the barristers practising in the High Court or on behalf of the Muhammadan community, or on behalf of the public in general. He said that there was no keenly felt desire as far as this question was concerned. I know my learned friend is not a member of the Congress, and I do not know if he reads the newspapers regularly, but I know that for the last 20 or 30 years the Congress has been discussing this question and at the Congress the representatives of the people always attend, and when they are demanding that this reform must be introduced, I take it that they speak on behalf of the people of India, therefore, it is not correct to say that there is no keenly felt desire for this reform. Then my friend says that as the law stands now, it is a perfect system, and I think that as far as he is concerned, he is quite satisfied with it. What my friend said about the 'last word', I submit that it is absolutely irrelevant to the question before us. If it is conceded that the system of Trial by Jury should be adopted. I submit that it should be adopted at once, and with regard to the defects, the Government can easily do away with them by introducing a better method of selection.

The Hon'ble Mr. K. B. Dutt has appealed to the European non-official members of this Council, and I also appeal to them, that they should not be swayed by any personal bias, because the non-official Indian members are supporting it and very likely the Government may oppose this resolution. May I say just one word. I am not here to raise any racial question. Under section 451 of the Code of Criminal Procedure we all know that every European in this country for whatever offence it may be, can claim to be tried by his peers. Here we do not want to go so far as that. We want that those offences which are triable by a Court of Session should be tried by jury. When Europeans in this country can demand to be tried by jury even in theft cases or in paltry cases, I am sure they ought to have some fellow-feeling and ought to support this resolution even if they find that Government are going to oppose it. With these words, I support the resolution."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, when I came into the Council Chamber I had no intention of speaking on the subject now before us. But the debate on the subject has so much enlightened me that I think I should not record a silent vote. My Lord, it must be admitted that there is some divergence of opinion on the subject. But at the same time I am sure that there is a preponderance of public opinion in favour of extending the Jury system. My Lord, it is true that Trials by Jury in muffasal Courts are not the same as Trials by Jury in Presidency towns in India or in Great Britain. I know that there are defects in the system, but knowing also that the system of Trial by Jury is an instrument of self-culture and self-development to prepare us for the administration of affairs in our own country, I give my support to the motion.

My Lord, I have listened with great interest to the various points that have been urged by several Hon'ble members who preceded me. And it struck me that there was a similar interesting debate, perhaps in this very Chamber, in Lord Ripon's time, when the celebrated Ilbert Bill was about to be passed into law. My Lord, I wanted to refresh my memory and through the courtesy of the Legislative Council officers I have got hold of the proceedings of the years 1883 and 1884. I find that a motion was moved by the Hon'ble Maharaja Sir Lachmi Prasad Singh Bahadur of Darbhanga in the Resolution.

(Mr. Aminur Rahman.)

Viceroy's Council to the effect that the Jury system should be introduced in Session Courts in cases where the accused would demand to be tried by a jury. There was an animated discussion at the time and I find that the sympathies of Government were on the side of the Maharaja. But at the same time it was stated that as that motion was brought forward rather late, it could not be fully considered by Government. As it was the last day of the debate, Lord Ripon asked the Maharaja not to press it although he (Lord Ripon) expressed his full sympathy with the motion. What the Maharaja wanted was that an accused should be tried by a jury in a Court of Session only if he expressed a wish to that effect. The same privilege was accorded, as has been stated by the Hon'ble Mr. Rasul, to European British subjects in India, with this difference, that they can demand to be tried by a jury even before a Magistrate. Sir William Hunter also expressed his full sympathy with the object of the motion but was sorry that he could not rush such a motion at the last stage of the debate. The Hon'ble Mr. Amir Ali, one of the most worthy representatives of the Muhammadans, expressed not only his own opinion but also the opinion of the community which he represented when he said while supporting the motion that there were many assessor-districts quite as advanced as the jury-districts. My Lord, I find that Indian public opinion was whole-heartedly in sympathy with the Maharaja's motion, although there was at that time only one elected member in the Council representing the landholding class in connection with the Bengal Tenancy Bill. My Lord, I have not fully stated what Mr. Amir Ali said on that occasion. While earnestly supporting the motion, Mr. Amir Ali also pointed out that there would be difficulties in granting a wholesale extension of jury trial to all the districts. He was afraid that the Trial by Jury might not be always advantageous to the accused, for while in a trial by assessors the accused had the right of appeal to the High Court on questions of law as well as of facts, in the case of a conviction on a Trial by Jury he had no such right of appeal except only on a question of law. Therefore, he was not in favour of the extension of the jury system to places which were not prepared for it.

My Lord, I find myself somewhat in the position of Mr. Amir Ali. On principle, I fully support the Resolution that has been moved, but at the same time I am not yet quite certain whether a wholesale extension of Trial by Jury to all the districts will be an unmixed blessing to the accused having regard to the legal defects which were pointed out not only by Mr. Amir Ali 34 years ago but also by some members here to-day. I think the matter requires consideration, but at the same time, having regard to the principle involved in the Resolution, I think, we should all support it. I am sure the matter will receive the most earnest and careful consideration at the hands of Government, and as far as practicable the system will be extended to the districts which are ripe for it."

The Hon'ble MR. AMINUR RAHMAN said :—

"My Lord, the question we are discussing to-day has been the subject of long and sometimes bitter controversy in this country. In this meeting to-day we have heard members who staunchly support the Resolution. As far as I know they are really voicing the feelings and opinions of the majority—I must say an immense majority of the people of this land. Others again have as strongly opposed the Resolution and I know that they are giving expression to serious misgivings that exist in the hearts of many. My Lord, if there is one good reason for not establishing the system of Trial by Jury there are a hundred good reasons for having it. I am not sure if all the hundred have not already been put forward by the Hon'ble members who preceded me. I cannot say that I have any special contribution to make. But the subject provokes discussion and the discussion of to-day has given rise to most conflicting thoughts in the minds of many—at least it has in mine. But by weighing the merits of the points in favour and against the extension of this system, I am bound to confess that a judgment in favour of extension seems to me inevitable. The question that I asked myself was why it was that men generally had more faith in the judgment of 10 ordinary men than in that of a most learned Judge? Those who have fought for this system in other countries felt in the same way as people in this country feel to-day. This system was really introduced in other countries when abuses crept up in the administration of justice and as an escape from the tyranny of a system which although administered by the most learned and noble-minded of men yet became corrupt or effete for many reasons people demanded that the judgment of a single man, however learned and great he may be, should be reinforced or corrected by the judgment of a number of ordinary but intelligent men who did not form a part of the administrative machinery but could bring to bear their unsophisticated and unbiased minds on the consideration of every point. A prominent Englishman once said that he had more faith in the judgment of ten fishermen than in that of one learned Judge. That may be an exaggeration. But men do feel like that; they have fought for it in some countries and they have got it. It may be that the jurors may not always be just the kind of people who can form a clear and dispassionate judgment on any point even if the merits and demerits of the points are discussed in their presence three times over. But that is very rarely the case; and the authorities have the power to select the right type of men of whom there are plenty no doubt in every district. I feel, that at a time like the present, when restrictions have been imposed, may be for very good reasons, on the liberties of the people and when the thoughts of people are in a state of fermentation and their minds a little excited; when more than ever there should be better understanding between the Government and the people and when the Government should make every attempt to strengthen their position by enlisting the loyalty, sympathy and co-operation of the people in every way, it is eminently desirable that they should grant a concession which will improve rather than thwart the administration of justice. It may be that the Jury system as it exists to-day in this province has not proved to be quite as satisfactory as the people expected. The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray has given some reasons why it has not. One may agree with him or one may not; but I am of opinion that even if the system is not working well for any fault in the system itself, the best way to remedy it is to expose the defects of this system and the best way to do it is for the people to have a share in it so that every incident of maladministration of justice is noticed and discussed by the people and the Government. It is good for the people to discuss and criticise what they think to be wrong. It is also good for the Government. The demand as embodied in this Resolution is just and necessary. It will be another evidence of the justice and benignity of British rule in this country if the Government accept this Resolution. I hope the Government will not miss this opportunity of doing this great act that will make them beloved of the people."

Resolution.

The Hon'ble MR. H. R. A. IRWIN said :-

"My Lord, I think it is a great pity that longer notice of questions of such an important description as this are not circulated to members before the meetings of this Council, so that members may have an opportunity of collecting facts and statistics relating to them. I must confess that this most important Resolution has been practically sprung upon me and consequently I have not been able to prepare myself for it, and do not therefore feel sufficiently competent to discuss it. But, my Lord, what I do feel is, whilst sympathising with the principle of the Resolution, that after the arguments which we have heard to-day, Your Excellency's Government may be trusted to extend the system either at once or from time to time, as may be seen fit and I would ask the Hon'ble mover not to press it to a division."

Resolution.

Rai P. N. Mukherji Bahadur; Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda.

The Hon'ble RAI P. N. MUKHARJI BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, 'trial by jury' is a phrase to conjure with and is a precious mouthful; but like all things good created by God or built by man it has its limitations; rightly used it may be the greatest of blessings; wrongly used or abused it might prove the greatest curse. While administration of justice, as it obtains in British India, happens to be the administration of law with justice, very often only as a separable accident, not even an inseparable accident,—perhaps it is well that it should be so, certainly it could not be otherwise under present circumstances,—so long as that obtains, we have to see what the machinery is that we can employ and what the means are that are at our disposal. I am sure that 'trial by jury' in the abstract we are all in love with. There is no one in this House, I venture to say, from your Lordship downwards who is not partial, intensely partial, to 'trial by jury'. We all want it and would be glad to have it, but the question is whether we should have it under the present circumstances. I have in my hands a paper book showing that in a certain case, which happened not a hundred miles from Government House and only so far back as the 23rd of November, 1914, in a district where the system of 'trial by jury' had obtained for years and years, the jury found two men guilty of murder, but the judge, now our respected Legal Remembrancer, felt compelled to refer the case to the High Court and the finding of the jury was annulled or partially annulled. That case or even a dozen cases do not prove the inutility or the impracticability of 'trial by jury.' We have good juries and we have bad juries. We have places where we can get good juries and there are places where we cannot get them. I think that after all in most things we get what we deserve. It was well said :—

'I hold it as a changeless law,
From which no soul can sway or swerve;
There is that in us which will draw,
Whate'er we need or most deserve.'

All good things will come in time, and it would not be right to force the hands of Government with a resolution like this and to hasten the extension of the jury system to all the districts of Bengal where it has not already been extended. Bengal is a little continent. All the districts are not similar to one another. My work takes me into all the districts and I submit that to say that Calcutta or the 24-Parganas is on a par with certain other districts of Bengal which are hundreds of miles away and where the conditions of living are absolutely different is to say what is not correct. They are as poles asunder from each other. Although they are under the same Governor, they are as unlike two places as the antipodes are to each other. I think, as the previous speaker has said, that the point should not be pressed to a division. I should have liked to say a few more things, but I find that the ground has been cut from under my feet by some of the previous speakers, and it is no use reiterating facts which have already been stated. I am sure that the house will exercise its good sense, as it always does, and do what is the right thing to do under the present circumstances."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"MY Lord, this resolution has been fully discussed and many have supported it, and a few, a very few, have opposed it. Those who have supported the resolution seem to have been influenced very largely by sentiment and political considerations. They have claimed it as a privilege which obtains in other countries and which therefore should be conceded in this country, in places where it has been withheld. On the other hand there are those who have opposed the resolution and they have introduced into the question a variety of subjects. Some have opposed because they think the system itself is not perfect and that finality does not attach to the verdict of a jury in this country. Some have said that the right of appeal to the High Court would be shut out if the system of Trial by Jury is extended.

Resolution.

Babu Akhil Chandra Dutta.

Others think this is not a valuable right because they have no confidence in the High Court. Suggestions have been made that the charges are not always fairly recorded, and recorded after they are delivered. These are all collateral matters into which I do not propose to enter. As a matter of fact I do not propose to enter into the merits of the resolution at all. There is one thing that differentiates the position of Government from that of the non-official members who have spoken either in favour or against the resolution. I hope I shall offend nobody when I say that, amongst the non-official classes, the best judge is considered to be he who acquits the largest number of accused and the worst judge is he who convicts, and the feeling in favour of the extension of trial by jury to places where it does not obtain, is perhaps the belief that there would be more acquittals if trials are held by judge and jury than by a judge with the aid of assessors whose opinion is not binding. The position of Government is however different. It is not the interest of Government to secure convictions where there should be an acquittal, nor is it the interest of Government that there should be acquittal where there should be conviction. While most of the Hon'ble Members who have spoken in support of the resolution have looked upon trial by jury as a great political privilege, the absence of which is a stigma on the people of the country, Government will have to consider the question very largely from the point of view of the administration of justice. From their point of view the most relevant question to consider is whether the administration of justice would be facilitated or retarded by the extension of the system. However, as I said, I have no desire to enter into the merits of the question. There are difficulties, and the question is one which is of far reaching effect. Government are not at the present moment in a position to express an opinion one way or the other. It has been said that because the system obtains in 16 districts, it ought to be extended to 10 other districts, but if the system has not worked well in 16 districts there is no reason why it should be extended at all. I do not say that the jury system has not worked well. Perhaps the more correct thing would be to say that it has neither been a conspicuous failure nor a conspicious success. However, in a matter like this, Government can only proceed upon the advice of those most competent to advise in such a matter. There are two parties to be considered. The Crown that prosecutes and the accused who is prosecuted. In a matter like this we can express no opinion without consulting the High Court as well as our own officers whose opinion would carry weight. A great deal has been said about the High Court. It would be impertinent on my part to enter into a defence of that body, nor do they stand in need of any such defence, but I know this, that in spite of what has been said the High Court does command the confidence of the people of this country. As I have already said we have to consult the High Court and we have to consult our own officers, and we are not at the present moment in a position to say whether the system of trial by jury is such a success that we ought to introduce it into the remaining districts of Bengal. I would therefore tell my hon'ble friend that if he would amend his resolution and would only ask that Government should take up the matter for consideration, we will gladly do so. But if he insists on our giving him a pledge now, I am sorry I am not able to do so. I hope my hon'ble friend will realise that in a matter of such importance, we require time and have not had sufficient time to go into the question properly and to get the opinions of those without whose opinion we cannot proceed further. I would therefore request my hon'ble friend either to withdraw his resolution, on my promise to look into the matter, or amend it in the manner I have suggested. As I do not desire to enter into the merits of the system of trial by injury, I will not detain the Council any longer.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DUTTA said :—

"My Lord, one word about the observations made by the Hon'ble Mr. Haq. It is not disputed that there are defects in the system. The question is because the existing system is not perfect, is that any reason why it should not be extended to other districts? There are many institutions which are not perfect; for instance, our Legislative Council. Nobody would say that it is a perfect institution. Nobody would say that we have the elective element here as we ought to have it, but I do not think that because it is not perfect, therefore other Provinces should not have it. Perfection must follow introduction and not precede it. First of all the system must be introduced and then it will be made perfect. It will be placing the cart before the horse if you talk of perfection before introducing the system. My friend has spoken about the High Court, and I feel constrained to observe that his opinion is an extreme one; but even taking him at his own word and even if the High Court is so bad according to my friend's opinion, is it seriously contended that because the High Court is bad therefore we ought not to have it, or that that institution should not be introduced into other provinces where it does not obtain? We all know that the people of Bihar fought for a High Court and they have got it. We are not satisfied with one Indian member in the Executive Council, we want three, and there are some who want half a dozen, but because there is only one Indian member, is it any reason why we should not have that one member at all? That is not the point. The point is, is it desirable as far as it goes? That is the point. Will anybody demand abolition of the system? I do not think that there is anybody who will say that because the system is bad it ought to be abolished. If the view taken by my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Suhrawardy is correct, certainly I should think that it is his duty in view of the opinion he holds, to move in this Council for the abolition of the system of Trial by Jury. And if his views are correct, then he has failed most conspicuously in that duty. I hope I shall not be misunderstood, and I do not wish to raise any racial question, but there have been cases in which Europeans have been accused and it has been very difficult to obtain a verdict of guilty, but because in one or two more instances that was so, nobody can honestly contend that Europeans should not have the system of Trial by Jury. There are bound to be one or two cases in which there will be failure of justice.

Resolution.

(Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.)

With regard to one other point raised by my Hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, about the difficulty of obtaining educated jurors, my only answer is that it was a difficulty that we experienced 34 years ago, and since then education has made great progress in this country, and that difficulty has disappeared more or less.

My Lord, I am extremely sorry that I am unable to accept the suggestion made by the Hon'ble Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda. The position taken up by the Hon'ble member is this, that the Government are not yet in a position to form any opinion and this would take a year or two. It has also been said that they have not had sufficient time to come to a definite conclusion on this matter. My submission is this. That as this is a very old question, the opinions of the High Court have been taken on several occasions and there has been a very careful inquiry by the Jury Commission, and the literature on the subject is voluminous and unweildy. I mean the official literature, that is, the reports of Executive and Judicial officers. Besides, notice of this Resolution was given about three months ago and the Government have had sufficient time to consider it.

One word, my Lord. It has been said that we are guided in this matter by sentiment. I must admit that as long as we continue to be men, we cannot rid ourselves of sentiment. Sentiment of course there is, but is it sentiment alone that has guided us in bringing up this matter before the Government? My submission is that it has not. Weighty considerations are at the root of this resolution. To the non-official European members of this Council, I would particularly submit this, that it is perfectly clear from the speech of the Hon'ble Nawab Sahib that the Government are not against it. In view of that declaration I appeal to those non-official European members for support and there are more reasons than one why I am entitled to their support. I have already said in my previous speech that the Europeans fought for their salvation in 1884 and they succeeded after a very stormy agitation. In view of their attitude at that time, I think I can claim their whole-hearted support in favour of this resolution."

Resolution.

Maulvi Abul Kasem : Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

The following Resolutions, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta, were, with the permission of the President, withdrawn, viz. :—

LIST OF BUSINESS ITEM No. 4.—This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the system of Trial by Jury be extended to all offences triable by Courts of Session.

LIST OF BUSINESS ITEM No. 5.—This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the Special Jury system, as contemplated by sub-section (2) of section 269 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, be extended to all those districts in Bengal in which it is not at present in force.

LIST OF BUSINESS ITEM No. 6.—The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a Government High School be established at Burdwan as soon as practicable.

He said :—

"My Lord, this Resolution is a very simple one and I do not think it requires many words from me to commend it to Your Excellency's Government and to this Council. It may be that this is not the proper time to introduce a Resolution like this, because the condition of our finance is anything but satisfactory. and if I do it, it is simply because I want the administrative sanction of Your Excellency's Government to a proposal like this, and I wish and pray that it may be carried out as soon as there is an improvement in the condition of our finances. There was a Government school in Burdwan which was abolished some 63 years back. That school was abolished when the Maharaja of Burdwan established an institution of his own and it was at that time thought that there was no room in the town of Burdwan for two schools. Thanks to the personal interest taken by the Maharaja Bahadur in this school, the school has developed into a college. That school is now doing excellent work. My Lord, education has advanced to a very large extent and there is room now in Burdwan for more than one school, and what is more, we want a Government school to be established, not so much to provide for education as to serve as a model to the large number of institutions existing in that district. I think that the officers of the Education Department themselves will admit that so far as the district of Burdwan is concerned, there has been some deterioration both in the discipline as well as in the instructions given in the schools there and at one time, only a couple of years ago, one of the schools at the headquarters had to be abolished because the University disaffiliated it, it having failed to carry out the reforms which the departmental officers and the Syndicate repeatedly asked them to do, and about 700 students were thrown into the streets of Burdwan. But for the timely intervention of the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell and Mr. T. O. Dunn, whose services we have just lost, the whole body of these students would have gone without any education. They made a handsome grant to the Municipal school from Government funds for its maintenance. I think there is absolute necessity for the establishment of a Government school at Burdwan, and I may only say that Burdwan is one of the two districts of Bengal where there is not a single Government school. In several districts there are more than one. With these words I commend this resolution to the Council."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"My Lord, the resolution is a simple one and I naturally take an interest in any educational institutions about to be started in Burdwan. I may say at the outset that I support the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem's resolution not exactly on the same grounds on which he has put forward, but because I think that there is room in Burdwan for another school, and a model Government school would be, I think, most welcome to the people there. When the third school in Burdwan was disaffiliated a few years ago. a lot of young students were put into great difficulty and their parents more so. We have at the present moment two schools, the Municipal High school and the Burdwan Raj Collegiate school, and provided that the Municipal school is maintained, the Burdwan Raj will certainly not have anything to say against the starting of a model school by the Government, and I hope the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell will give that assurance, and, subject to that, I will support the Resolution."

Resolution.

Mr. Hornell; Maulvi Abul Kasem.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hornell said :—

Sir, the Government accept the Resolution of the Hon'ble member. The general policy is that there should be a Government high school in every district and there is at present no such institution in the Burdwan district. Government therefore consider that there should be a zilla school at Burdwan, but they desire to emphasize another aspect of the policy to which I have just referred—it has also been mentioned by the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur and the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem, viz., that a zilla school should be something of a model. That some Government schools are not now exactly model ones, is not pertinent to the present issue. The point is that Government will not be prepared to establish a Government school in Burdwan until they can establish a good one, i.e., a school with suitable building accommodation and provided with adequate hostel arrangements.

The Resolution of the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem contains the blessed words "as soon as practicable." Some day I will show the Hon'ble member a list of the educational schemes which are awaiting better financial conditions. When he sees this list. he will, I am sure, feel satisfied that in making schemes at least we have not been idle. I shall take an early opportunity of visiting Burdwan and seeing what is required there and what should be done. Then the scheme will be worked out and added to the list of pending projects. It is impossible to say more except perhaps that the scheme is one to which I personally shall assign a place of importance in the waiting list.

To the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur I would say that I think that it is essential that the Government school, being a model, should not replace the Municipal school, but that the existing Municipal school should be retained, because if we start a zilla school in Burdwan, I should not contemplate establishing a school for more than 400 or 500 boys. In that case there would certainly be room for both schools, and I should not be prepared to consider any scheme which contemplates the creation of a school which might be expanded to any size. I can, therefore, assure the Hon'ble Maharaja that the zilla school, whenever it is established, will not take the place of the Municipal school."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem said :—

"We are deeply grateful to the Director of Public Instruction for kindly accepting this Resolution."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

List of Business Item No. 7.—The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasim moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to protect from damage by floods the areas of land in the district of Burdwan, lying to the south of the river Damodar, and between the rivers Ajai and Kunur.

Resolution.

Maulvi Abul Kasem.

He said :—

"My Lord, at the last meeting of the Council, I had the honour of moving a Resolution to the effect that an embankment be raised on the southern bank of the Ajai river; and I was told that the professional advisers of the Government were strongly opposed to that proposal, and I had no alternative but to withdraw the motion. A Resolution similar to the present one was moved in this Council on the 3rd March, 1914, and that also had to be withdrawn. If I venture to-day to place the present Resolution before the Council, it is because I know that I have the sympathy and I hope I will have the support not only of the Hon'ble member in charge but of this Council as well. Since the last meeting of the Council things have happened. Sir, which loudly call for some redress of the grievances and the protection of the people and villages in the neighbourhood of the Damodar and the Ajai. Towards the close of the month of September there was an abnormal rise in the two rivers and the result was that hundreds of villages have been practically washed away and thousands of poor men rendered homeless and destitute. I do not like to inflict on this Council a description of the ravages caused by these two rivers or to recite harrowing tales of misery and woe. I need only say that thousands would have died of starvation but for the timely help received from the Government. According to the official report the Damodar is responsible for the damage of 127 square miles of country and the destruction of 20 villages with 3,000 houses and the Ajai caused havoc over an area of 225 square miles and caused the destruction of 280 villages with 35,000 houses. The official estimate is in my opinion very moderate. At a time when these reports and estimates were prepared it was not practicable to go from village to village and prepare statistics within the short time by which it was required to be submitted to the Government and consequently the estimate was made on information then available to the officials entrusted with the work. However, that does not matter in the least. Every one knows that the recent floods caused great destruction to the villages lying on the banks of the Danodar and the Ajai. If the loss of cattle caused directly by the floods has not been very great the indirect result had been disastrous. The people not only lost their houses and huts but also their granaries and stock of fodder. There being no grass in the fields people knew not how to feed their cattle; and hundreds of our animals had consequently to be placed under the butcher's knife. While speaking of the last floods I would be failing in my duty if I did not say that my countrymen are deeply grateful to Mr. D. H. Lees, the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, and his able lieutenants, Mr. Bhupendra Nath Gupta, the then District Magistrate of Burdwan, and Mr. Guru Saday Dutt, the Collector of Birbhum, for the prompt, energetic and well organised measures they adopted for the relief of the sufferers. They moved from place to place at great personal inconvenience and without the least concern for their own health or comfort. Wherever they went they carried with them cheer and hope to people who were gloomy and destitute. The subordinate officials also deserve our thanks. They denied themselves the few days' holiday which they get in the year and which they so much needed after a year's hard work. They did their work under trying circumstances in a manner worthy of the great Government they serve and of the highest traditions of the services to which they belong. Babus Prafulla Chandra Ghosh, Abhaya Charan Chatterji, Ashu Tosh Deb and Maulavi Ekramuddin all did their duty zealously and at great personal sacrifice. Babu Kshitinath Ghosh was put in charge of the worst affected area and he had to wade through deep water and knee deep mud from day to day for weeks together. He did his work with a devotion which elicited public admiration and gratitude. Our thanks are also due to non-official agencies such as the Ram Krishna Mission and the Social Service League for the help received from them in the hour of our sorest need. In this connection I may say, Sir, that at Burdwan town the District Magistrate and leaders of public opinion tried to form a volunteer band to help the official agency, but the attempt failed. Rightly or wrongly there is an impression

Resolution.

Maulvi Abul Kasem.

among young men that those who engaged themselves in philonthropic works are watched by the police and sometimes get into trouble. I know, Sir, that the works of our volunteers in the past as in the present has been highly appreciated not only by the public but also by the highest authorities in the land. Still, whether there be any grounds or not, the apprehension is there. Above all, Sir, our gratitude is due to the Hon'ble member in charge and to the Government for the sympathy we received and the generous help given to us in our distress. In 1913 there was a great flood from the effects of which even the Municipal town of Burdwan did not escape. It then received a good deal of public attention and philanthropic men came to our rescue in large numbers. The floods of 1916 were no less violent and the damage caused no less serious, but this year our tales of woe did not receive that public sympathy and attention which they deserve. Even the press gave us only a lukewarm attention. The only substantial help received was from the Government and it was not supplemented by non-official agency to an appreciable extent. It may be due to the fact that the Burdwan flood by its repetition has lost its novelty. I know, Sir, that the question of dealing with the Damodar and the Ajai is not an easy one. The Government have considered the gravity of the situation on several occasions in the past and had, from time to time, adopted measures which then seemed to have solved the question. At one time it was thought that the battle of the Damodar and the Ajai had been fought and won, but subsequent events have shown that the measures then adopted were only of temporary success, and to-day we find ourselves in just as great difficulties as ever with these two rivers. The abnormal floods, though in recent years they have become more frequent, are not the subject of the question, the solution of which I beg in the Resolution I have the honour to move. In this Resolution I beg to draw the attention of the Government to the condition of the people of the villages by the side of these two rivers in the years of normal rainfall. So far back as 1859, Mr. Hobhouse, the Collector of Burdwan, who made an enquiry into the matter in the course of his report remarked: "Much sand has been deposited near the river banks and some crops were probably swept away or rotted inland." Further on he says that, "from one to two miles in length and a quarter of a mile on the river bank and inland, scarcely any crops are to be seen, and sand deposits studded now and then with clumps of coarse grass everywhere meet the eye and the villages and their cultivation seemed to have suffered very much destruction of houses, property and crops. Another officer, Mr. Jones, reported that, 'the prevailing feature testifying to the damage done was the immense quantity of waste land to be met with and although these lands were too far from the river to be covered with sand yet the good soil appears to have been washed away by the force of the currents." Another Collector says in his report: "The direct results of abandoning the embankment on the right side of the Damodor have been almost the complete ruin to the cultivators." As the result of an inquiry made by Lieutenant Garnault, R. E., in 1862, it was found that the extent of waste land increased by thousands of bighas from 1854 to 1862, and it was also found that a great quantity of land has been put out of cultivation, and that a great quantity more has been unfitted for rice cultivation. If such was the condition, Sir, more than 60 years back, one can well imagine what it is now. The abnormal floods of 1916 and 1913 attracted public attention. But every year the fields are flooded and the crops are destroyed. This being the normal state of affairs, it does not receive the attention of the people other than those whose misfortune it is to suffer the misery caused by the flood. Captain Beadle, on the 1st of July, 1858, said: "Ajai is perhaps the most torrential of our rivers and its floods come down as an advancing wall of waters full of sand until they reach the normal level bed. Hence there is a considerable fall in the land over the bank and at the craves of the rivers; it is well to maintain embankment which the experience of a long period has proved to be protective to property and crops." It has been said, Sir, that "rabi crops" flourish in flood areas; it should be remembered that these crops are grown on scattered patches where there are deposits of silt but we get more sand than silt. At best it is only a poor compensation for the loss of rice crops in a large and extensive area. As I have said, the question has been engaging the attention of the Government and we have been repeatedly assured of the sympathy of the Government with the distressed people. Sympathy goes a great way, but it certainly does not relieve the distress. In 1863, the then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in passing orders on the report of Lieutenant Garnault, remarked that: "It is certainly desirable that a much greater protection should practically be attained." And so late as March 1914, the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore, speaking on behalf of the Government, closed his reply to a similar resolution in Council by saying that the Government quite realised the difficulties which the inhabitants of the flooded area were put to, and having full sympathy with them, would do all they can to mitigate the evil. The literature on the question of floods in the Burdwan district is getting more voluminous and the reports submitted to the Govrenment for consideration too numerous to be dealt with properly. In this Resolution, Sir, I do not ask the Government to commit themselves to any particular policy or to any definite action, it only prays that steps be taken to alleviate the miseries of the people living within the flood zone. I know the problem is a difficult one, but however difficult it may be, I hope, Sir, that the engineering skill at the disposal of the Government is not so poor as not to be able to devise some practical means of relief and to tone down the miseries of a people once flourishing but now reduced to a state of abject poverty and helplessness. The Government are doing their best to help the people after abnormal floods by loans and gratuitous relief, but I beg to submit that unless steps are taken to save the land from annual floods, measures of relief would be of no avail. People would not be able to repay the loans, and would not be able to obtain such loans in future. Even the resources of the Government are limited and we cannot expect the Government to relieve our wants when these wants are of a recurring character. Make-shift devices and patch-work protection cannot save a people subjected to the ravages of the flood year after year. I respectfully submit, Sir, that the Government be well advised if they follow the old English adage that "prevention is better than cure," and instead of spending large sums of money for the relief of the sufferers from the floods, they adopt measures which would make the recurrence of these floods a matter of past history. I commend for the consideration of the Government the suggestion made by the Collector of Burdwan in 1859, that "a measure of equity to the raiyats and landholders on the right bank would be to fill up all the breaches mentioned, so as to bring them to the level of the river banks on either side of them; and thus perhaps when all the right bank is overtopped by flood, there might be a general and equal spill over the whole country instead of these partial rushes of flood water at 8 breaches over some 36 miles of the river banks." The flooded area between the Ajai and the Kunoor does not seem to have received much attention at the hands of the Government. But I submit, Sir, the situation there is certainly as grave as that of the country lying on the right bank of the Damodar, and I think, Sir, the question of protecting this tract of the country is much easier of solution. I understand that Mr. J. Mallik, the District Engineer of Burdwan, an officer of great experience and ability, who earned some distinction in the service of the Government, submitted a scheme to the Collector of Burdwan, and I hope, Sir, the Government will consider that report in dealing with the question. I submit for consideration, the suggestion made by one of the foremost noblemen and one of our most sagacious leaders, Raja Bahadur Bun Behari Kapur, C. S. I., whose practical knowledge of the situation is greater than that of anybody else, expert or no expert, speaking, as the President of a public meeting held at Burdwan, the other day, asked the people to appeal to the Government that a committee of officials and non-officials, experts and laymen, should be appointed to inquire into the matter and suggest remedies. If this suggestion be accepted, the people of the affected area would submit definite proposals for the consideration of the committee and the Government with such expert opinion as we can avail ourselves of. Expert opinion we have had many and too often, yet the question remains where it was. Time has come for its solution. I am afraid it is already too late; and any further delay would be disastrous. It is admitted, Sir, that the present policy has been adopted for the protection of the Railway systems, but I submit that it is not fair to place a helpless people at the mercy of torrential and violent rivers for the protection of prosperous Railway Companies. Railways can certainly devise means for the protection of their lines and can well afford to carry them out. Railway system, Sir, not only obstruct the drainage of the country to a very large extent, but have been allowed to cause obstruction to the free flow of water through the river channels. As regards the cost of any scheme that may be adopted by the Government, I humbly submit that it be equitably divided between the Railway Companies, Landlords, Tenants and the Port Commissioners of Calcutta. I do not remind this Council of the various pledges made by the Government from time to time to maintain and keep up the embankments of the Damodar and the Ajai. They have now become matters of ancient history. Pledges or no pledges, the situation is so grave and serious and the miseries of the people have reached to such an extent that it has become imperatively necessary to take some steps, if not to remove, at any rate to minimise, the evils caused by the floods. If no protective measures are adopted, and adopted immediately, and if the present state of affairs is allowed to continue, the next inundation will be, I am afraid, the last straw on the camel's back, and thousands of people in my district will, in the words of Nawab Abdul Jubbar, "have to leave their homes and their hearths with a bleeding heart." No further power of resistance is left, and the people have been reduced to the last stage of suffering and their patience is exhausted. In conclusion, I place before the Government, the promise made sometime back, and would appeal to Government to give effect to that promise. Sir, I beg to state that the closing of the breaches on the right banks of the Damodar and the Ajai, and bringing them up to ground level will greatly alleviate the miseries of the people and I think the adoption of this measure deserves careful consideration. Whatever has to be done must be done before the rains set in. The matter has been too long under consideration and we have waited too long for the solution of the problem by professional experts and I hope the Government will adopt some measure of protection before it is too late.

Resolution

Maulvi Abul Kasem.

Resolution.

Maharajadhiraja Bahadur.

(At this stage, His Excellency left the Chamber and the chair was taken by the Hon'ble the Vice-President.)

The Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR of Burdwan said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, this Resolution does not really commit the Government to anything very much. I do not know exactly the attitude of Government in this matter, but I know this, that the Government have advanced large sums of money to alleviate the distress of the sufferers from the recent floods of the Damodar as well as the rivers Ajai and Kunur. I certainly think that steps should be taken to protect from damage these areas which are getting flooded now almost every year. Of course this flood in the Ajai has been an unprecedented one, and Government may say that one should not apprehend that this might occur again, but as the question of the embankments of the Ajai and the Kunur has been before the Government for a very long time, and in view of what Raja Bun Behari Kapur Bahadur said on this point at a public meeting in Burdwan, of which mention has already been made by the Hon'ble mover, I think that the Government, if unable to accept the Resolution for its wording, will look into the matter, but if they have no objection to the wording of the Resolution, will kindly accept it.

Resolution.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur ; Mr. Beatson Bell ; Maulvi Abul Kasem.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, the Resolution suggests that steps be taken to protect from damages by floods the areas of land in the district of Burdwan lying to the south of the river Damodar and between the rivers Ajai and Kunur. I accord my hearty support to the Resolution."

The Hon'ble Mr. BEATSON BELL said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I may say at once that there is no objection on the part of Government to accepting this Resolution. The Resolution has been worded in such a way that it does not bind us to any specific line of policy, nor does it bind us to the expenditure of any specific sum of money. As the House is aware, we have already begun to consider the budget for the coming year, and the prevention of floods in the division of Burdwan was one of the first objects which we marked for special consideration. Although I am unable to name any specific sum, I can assure the House that the matter will not be overlooked.

I may take this opportunity of thanking the Hon'ble mover for his kind words of appreciation regarding the help which was given by Government for the relief of the people who suffered in the recent floods. It will be gratifying to all the local officers to hear that their work was so thoroughly appreciated.

There are three ways of dealing with rivers which are liable to floods. The first way is to do nothing and to trust entirely to nature. The second is to make embankments and go on making them until the river loses all its natural qualities and runs in a raised bed between two high walls. The third way, is to regulate the flow of water in the upper reaches, and at the same time open out the lower reaches so as to prevent an excessive influx of water, and at the same time ensure that the water which does come down is not obstructed in its passage to the larger rivers and the open sea. Each of these three policies has its supporters, but the weight of the best expert opinion is in favour of the third. It was on the lines of this third policy that Mr. Addams Williams outlined a complete programme for dealing with the river Damodar. The House will remember that at the time of the last budget it was decided, as part of this programme, that a survey should be made to select suitable places for constructing catchment reservoirs. An allotment of Rs. 5,000 was made for this purpose and a specially selected officer of the Public Works Department, Mr. Subarwal, is now engaged upon the survey. We hope that in the next few months he will be able to discover suitable places for constructing the reservoirs in the upper reaches of the Damodar. At the same time, we have schemes before us for the improvement of the lower reaches of this river, and as far as funds are available in the coming year, we intend to carry out these schemes. In fact, we are convinced that the programme of Mr. Addams Williams is a sound and well considered programme and we mean to push it through. It is unfortunate that as regards the river Ajai and its tributary the Konoor we have not at present got a complete programme but the difficult problem of these two rivers is now engaging the anxious consideration of the Public Works Department and I trust that the time is not far distant when the problem will be solved and the safety of the people ensured.

With these few words, I accept the Resolution."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"I thank the Hon'ble member in charge for kindly accepting my Resolution. The people of Burdwan will be deeply grateful when they hear the news."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

Resolution.

Adjournment.

LIST OF BUSINESS ITEM No. 8.—The following Resolution, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem, was, with the permission of the Vice-President, postponed for discussion to the next meeting of the Council :—

> This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the pleaders, mukhtars, witnesses and parties belonging to the Muhammadan community, when attending in the Civil and Criminal Courts of the Presidency, may be allowed facilities to say their juma and midday prayers, and that presiding officers may be specially instructed to grant, on request, to any person of that community reasonable leave of absence from the Court for the performance of these religious duties.

ADJOURNMENT.

RESOLUTION—No. 10016Agri.

READ—

The Report of the Department of Agriculture, Bengal, for the year ending the 30th June 1916.

Staff.—Mr. J. R. Blackwood, I.C.S., was in charge of the Department until the 9th June 1916, on which date he made over charge to Mr. S. Milligan of the Imperial Agricultural Service. Messrs. F. Smith and K. McLean, Deputy Directors of Agriculture, held charge of the agricultural operations in West Bengal and East Bengal respectively. Mr. Smith was on privilege leave from the 14th August to the 11th October 1915, during which period Mr. McLean performed his work in addition to his own duties. Messrs. R. S. Finlow and H. E. Annett worked as Fibre Expert and Agricultural Chemist, respectively, throughout the year. Mr. G. P. Hector worked as Economic Botanist until the 3rd May 1916, when he went on long leave: during his absence his work has been entrusted to Mr. Finlow. The appointment of a Third Deputy Director of Agriculture has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State, but the post will not be filled up until the war is over. During the year there were five Superintendents of Agriculture and ten District Agricultural Officers as in the previous year: there is need for increasing the number of District Agricultural Officers for the purpose of making a fuller use of the results which have been obtained, but for financial reasons the expansion of the Department is necessarily postponed.

2. Agricultural Education.—There is no Agricultural College in the Presidency, but the College at Sabaur in Bihar offers special facilities to students from Bengal. The numbers of such students on the roll of this College on the 30th June 1916 were two in the third-year, six in the second-year and 12 in the first-year class. It is to be regretted that the number of students is so small and that the special opportunities for agricultural study are not more fully appreciated by the landholding and cultivating classes, but as yet there appears to be little or no demand for scientific knowledge of agriculture except as an avenue to Government service. Of the two students who were successful in the Final Diploma Examination in March 1916, one has been appointed temporarily under the Government of Bihar and Orissa as a supernumerary agriculturist, the other is reported to have enlisted. The scheme for giving a course of agricultural training on the Dacca Farm to the sons of zamindars is in abeyance for want of any assurance that students will be forthcoming.

3. Research and Experiment at Agricultural stations.—The reports of the scientific officers have been published in a separate volume, and the Director has given in his report a lucid explanation of the objects in view and of the results obtained. The Governor in Council has from time to time observed signs of a not unnatural impatience for definite results of research, and he would specially commend this portion of the report to those who feel such impatience: it shows not only that attention is being concentrated on a limited number of objects which are of the highest importance in Bengal, but also that a very decided advance has been made towards substantial improvement of staple crops. Mr. Hector, the Economic Botanist, after testing very numerous varieties of paddy from different places in Bengal has succeeded in isolating and multiplying several excellent types of the transplanted aman variety, one of which, viz., indrasail, has been selected and tested with very satisfactory results against the best obtainable local varieties in several districts. These results have apparently convinced those who have studied them, for there has been a large demand for this variety in the immediate vicinity of the Dacca Farm, and arrangements have been made for the further distributions of this seed from other farms. Though it is unlikely that the same variety will be found the most suitable in the totally different conditions of West Bengal, it has been found that indrasail has given positive results both at Rajshahi and Rangpur. Aus and deep water paddy are also being studied by Mr. Hector, but the experiments are not yet in such an advanced stage as in the case of aman. Manurial experiments conducted with bone-meal and lime on the Dacca red soil have shown that whereas a combination of the two gives the best results in the case of jute and rabi crops, bone-meal without lime is most effective for rice. The study of the ufra disease of rice was continued during the year under report, and a survey of ufra-infected districts was undertaken. Further knowledge has been obtained about the habits of the minute worm called Tylenchus Angustus which is now recognised as the sole cause of ufra, but the work accomplished has not yet reached a stage at which it can be claimed that the ravages of the disease have been in any way checked in the fields. The Imperial Mycologist has arrived at the conclusion that the burning of the rice stubble after harvest, if done thoroughly and on a large scale, will save the subsequent crop, and the Governor in Council approves of the decision of the Director to spread this information as widely as possible : he relies on the Collectors of the districts in which ufra disease prevails to co-operate with the Director in disseminating this information, and to impress on the people concerned that the burning which is now generally practised must be thorough, so that the survival of the worm through incomplete burning may be prevented. The Governor in Council desires again to impress on the Director of Agriculture the necessity of keeping a close watch on the progress of this disease, the spread of which should be regarded as one of the greatest calamities that can befall this province. He also attaches much importance to the experiments which are being made with a view to selecting an early ripening variety of deep water paddy which may avoid the worst attack of the disease. Selection and cross-breeding experiments are being continued with regard to jute, and it has been established that Mr. Finlow's pure line selection Kakya Bombai No. 7 is a heavier yielder than any of the local varieties. Experiments are being made with a view to defining the localities suitable for this variety and the demand for the seed is steadily increasing. Though the manurial experiments with regard to jute have not yet yielded a satisfactory solution of the problem, there are indications that the scientific treatment of this subject will lead to valuable results. Among the most important experiments of the past year are those connected with water hyacinth, a weed which is the cause of very serious obstruction to the waterways of Bengal : the experiments indicate that in the potash contained in the ash and in the rotted plant an excellent manure for jute has been discovered, and that the value of the plant for manure may perhaps induce cultivators to clear the waterways which are infested with it. Mr. Annett continued his experiments on cane sugar; there is a considerable demand for the selected varieties in the neighbourhood of all agricultural stations. His investigation into the process of gur making from palm sugar has established the important fact that the wastage of the juice drawn in the day time on account of its inferior quality can be completely eliminated by liming the pots as is done in Madras ; this process results in the perfect preservation of the day juice and in a marked increase in the quality of the night juice. Demonstrations have been undertaken to make this result widely known.

4. Demonstration and Distribution.—Now that certain definite results have been obtained by experiment with improved seed and manure, the problems of demonstration and distribution have assumed a greater importance. In the previous year the number of trained demonstrators employed was 83, but as the preparation and checking of the jute forecast occupied their time during a large portion of the busy agricultural season, their demonstration duties suffered. It was therefore decided during the year under review to separate the staff employed for the jute forecast from the demonstration staff : the number of demonstrators was reduced from 83 to 62, and a separate temporary staff of 103 men was entertained for the period of the jute forecast ; the work of demonstration is thus no longer interrupted during the period from April to September. The principal items of demonstration undertaken by the Department were the value of manures, the introduction of superior varieties of seed and the use of improved agricultural implements. Useful demonstrations were also undertaken by members of the several agricultural associations and very great assistance in demostrating the value of Mr. Finlow's jute seed was rendered by jute firms. The departmental seed stores established in the previous year in the five divisions of the Presidency have increased their output, and measures have been taken for improving this means of distribution, but, as Mr. Milligan has remarked, a more extensive organization is required for distribution of selected jute and rice seed on a large scale. The Governor in Council notices with much interest the initiation of a system of utilizing Co-operative Credit Societies and Panchayats as agencies for the distribution and reproduction of seed, and there is reason to expect good results therefrom.

5. Cattle.—During the year under review Mr. Blackwood published his report on his survey of the cattle of Bengal: the report was based on a very thorough examination of the cattle found in the Presidency and of their treatment by their owners, and Mr. Blackwood's main conclusion was that, owing to the climate of Bengal and the general disinclination or inability to provide sufficient food to a superior animal, the best prospect of improving the breed of cattle lay in selection from the best cattle found in the Presidency. His policy at the Rangpur Dairy Farm was based on this conclusion. The Governor in Council has, however, been advised that no very substantial improvement in breed can be expected without importing superior cattle, and it is a fact that the cattle of Bengal are continually replenished from Bihar, and that there exists some demand for better cattle than are now bred in Bengal. It has therefore been decided to retain the best of the indigenous animals which have been collected at the farm, and at the same time to start a separate herd of imported cattle. Though it has always been recognized that cattle breeding was the sole object of the farm, the subsidiary object of showing that mixed farming can be conducted at a profit has been found to have a tendency towards the neglect of fodder crops to the advantage of paying crops such as sugarcane, and it has therefore been decided that no crops other than fodder crops shall be grown on the farm until it is self-supporting in this respect. An unfortunate outbreak of rinderpest resulted in serious losses in the Rangpur herd.

6. Sericulture.—M. Grangeon, the French Sericultural Expert, being absent on military duty in France, his experiments were continued by Mr. P. C. Chaudhuri, Superintendent of the Berhampore Central Nursery. The ultimate object of these experiments is the creation of cross-bred races which, while retaining the multivoltin character, will yield cocoons equal to those given by the superior univoltin races reared in France, China and Japan. It has been found that the type obtained by crossing the multivoltin Madagascar male with the indigenous Nistari female, gives the best results. This type is now in the sixteenth generation, and so far they have been found to breed true. It remains to be seen whether they will revert to their dominant parental types afterwards. They yield on an average 2¼ grains of silky substance per cocoon, against 1¼ to 1½ grains yielded by the Nistaris. There is also less waste of silky matter in the cross types. The experiments of Miss Cleghorn are reported to be full of promise. To enable her to extend her experiments and research work, she has been given a grant of Rs. 15,000 for the current financial year. Her laboratory has been extended, three control-rearing houses have been established, and a new mulberry plantation begun. The hybrid race evolved by her has been found to be superior to the indigenous Nistari and Desi. The Sericultural School at Rajshahi had eleven students on the roll at the beginning of the year. It is satisfactory to find that most of the passed students are constructing model rearing houses, and have started rearing on scientific lines. The Governor in Council is awaiting with much interest the recommendations of Mr. H. M. Lefroy, the Imperial Silk Specialist. Until they are received, no change in the organisation of the Sericultural Department will be made, but the work which is now being done towards the prevention of disease and the discovery of races which will give an increased yield, and have the power of resisting disease is on the right lines, though it is questionable whether it is conducted on a sufficient scale to achieve commercial results.

7. Fisheries.—The preliminary period of the appointment of Mr. T. Southwell, Deputy Director of Fisheries, expired on the 5th December 1915, and it has been decided by the Secretary of State that the post of Fisheries Expert shall be permanent. An important event in the year under review was the discovery that the Indian carp breeds in certain tanks as well as in running water. The importance of this fact lies in the possibilities that it affords for the cultivation in specially constructed tanks of pure carp fry unmixed with the fry of predatory fish. There is a progressive demand for the carp-fry supplied by the Fisheries Department, and the orders received in 1916 for 4½ lakhs of fry are largely in excess of those of previous years: this line of work is likely to result in a substantial improvement in the supply of fish. The subject of artificial culture of hilsa continued to receive attention, and though no material success has been attained in this direction, further information regarding the habits of the fish has been acquired: the Governor in Council recognizes that pending the discovery of the places where hilsa breed, no large improvement in the supply is probable, and that it is necessary to await results with patience. Three new co-operative societies of fishermen have been established during the year under report, making the total number seven. With a view to afford the Fisheries Department facilities for research work and for the establishment of co-operative societies, orders have been issued that when the lease of a Government fishery is about to expire, the Collector of the district shall consult the Deputy Director of Fisheries as to the desirability of departmental management, and, where this is not practicable as to the best alternative arrangement and as to the restrictions which are necessary in the regulation of close times and methods of fishing. It is hoped that under these arrangements the Government fisheries will be improved and will afford a valuable field for research, and an example to private owners of fisheries. The Governor in Council has much pleasure in acknowledging the valuable work which is being done by Mr. Southwell. and he entertains no doubt as to the benefits which will result from it.

8. Mr. Blackwood relinquished the charge of the Agricultural Department after holding the post of Director for a period of four years. This period was in a great measure one of organization and expansion and of selection of lines of work which were likely to prove beneficial. The Governor in Council desires to place on record his appreciation of Mr. Blackwood's work and to congratulate him on the attainment of certain definite results on the eve of his departure. The lines of development are now well defined in most branches of the work of the Department, and the Governor in Council looks forward with confidence to a period of concentrated work on special lines in which the expert knowledge of the present Director is likely to be of the greatest value. Apart from the specific results which have been noticed in this review, the feature of the year's work which the Governor in Council regards with most satisfaction is the evidence which it affords of the co-ordination of the work of the Agricultural Department with that of other departments and of the public. The assistance of the co-operative department in measures for the distribution and reproduction of seed and in ameliorating the conditions of fishermen has been noticed already. The work of the jute firms in connection with Mr. Finlow's jute and of the agricultural associations in carrying out demonstrations affords a prospect of great utility. But besides these there are numerous passages in the reports of the Director and of the expert officers which indicate a more general interest and a more widespread desire to assist in the work of the Agricultural Department, and it is only by the further diffusion of such interest that the results of scientific investigation can be made beneficial to the cultivators of the soil.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1916-17.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under linseed in Bengal represents some 5·7 per cent. and that under rape and mustard 20·8 per cent. of the total area under these crops in British India.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts are issued for the spring oilseed crops. The present forecast deals only with the area sown and the general condition of the crops.

Area sown.—Oilseeds are grown principally in the Rajshahi, Dacca and Presidency Divisions. The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are published) is returned at 1,405,300 acres, as against 1,513,400 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year, or a decrease of 108,100 acres. The decrease is attributed to excessive rainfall at sowing time.

Character of the season,—The rainfall in the months of September and October was much above the normal. Sowings which generally commence at this time were in consequence delayed in most districts. Untimely heavy showers in the first part of November checked further sowings and caused some damage to the crops on the sown area Subsequent dry weather has, however, improved the prospects of the crops.

S. MILLIGAN,
Offg. Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

First Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1916-17.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1914-15 the area under Wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under Wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated Wheat acreage to total Wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has in the five years ending 1914-15 averaged (a) 38·1 per cent., and (b) 16·8 per cent., respectively.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts of the wheat crop are published. The first forecast deals only with the area sown and general character of the season.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the crop up to date this year according to District Officers' estimates, amounts to 123,700 acres against 134,600 and 133,600 acres shown in the first and final forecasts, respectively of last year.

Character of the season.—The rainfall in September and October was in excess of the normal throughout the Province and consequently sowings were generally late in the more important wheat growing districts. Owing to this the condition and prospects of the crop can only be returned as "fair."

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FORECAST OF THE WINTER TIL (SESAMUM) CROP OF BENGAL, 1916-17.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1914-15 the area under til in Bengal has represented some 5·3 per cent. of the total area under til in British India.)

Character of the Season.—The rainfall in the months of August and September was generally much in excess of the normal. Consequently the sowing of this crop took place under unfavourable conditions. The heavy rainfall in October and the early part of November interfered with the growth of the crop and reduced the outturn considerably. The season has thus been an unfavourable one for the crop.

Acreage.—As estimated by District Officers the total area cultivated this year is 49,400 acres against 53,900 acres last year. Dacca and the Chittagong Hill Tracts show large decreases in area owing, in case of the former, to prolonged floods at sowing time, and, in the latter district, to generally unfavourable weather conditions.

Outturn.—According to estimates from District Officers, the outturn of the crop for the Province works out at 73 per cent. of the normal against 78 per cent. last year. Taking the normal yield per acre to be 4¼ maunds, the gross yield for the Province is estimated at 5,600 tons against 6,600 tons last year, or a decrease of about 15·2 per cent.
